50,000,000 GO TO POLLS TODAY

80th Congress Record Placed Before Voters

432 Seats In House, 32 In Senate Will Be At Stake Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Some 50,000,000 voters will pass judgment tomorrow on President Truman's bitter criticism of the 80th Congress and Gov. Dewey's high praise.

More or less at issue in nearly every race as the members of the 81st Congress are named will be this Republican-Democratic contrast of view on the record of the last two years:

Truman—The second worst Congress in the nation's history.

At stake are 432 seats in the House of Representatives, from all 48 states, and 32 senate seats in 31 states. Maine already had picked its four members of the new Congress, Senator-elect Margaret Chase Smith and three House members. All are Republicans.

There have been the customary conflicting claims about gains and losses in the new Congress, which begins its two-year life on January 3. They distill down to an indication that the Congress may be fairly evenly divided, particularly in the Senate where the Republicans now hold a 51 to 45 margin.

11 Close Contests Seen

The 11 contests believed by most Capitol political observers to be the tightest cover these four Senate seats now held by the Democrats:

Colorado: Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, seeking a third term, is opposed by Will F. Nicholson.

Montana: Sen. James E. Murray is opposed by Tom J. Davis. Murray came to the Senate in 1934 to fill an unexpired term and is now completing his second full six-year term.

New Mexico: Former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson and former Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley are contesting for the seat being vacated by Sen. Carl A. Hatch. Republican Hurley narrowly lost two years ago when he ran against Sen. Dennis Chavez.

Tennessee: Rep. Estes Kefauver, who bucked the powerful Democratic organization of E. H. Crump of Memphis to win the primary from Sen. Tom Stewart, is opposed by B. Carroll Reece, former chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The other seven crucial contests are over seats now held by Republicans:

Illinois: Sen. C. Wayland Brooks,

Crucial Senate Contest In W. Va.

Crucial because the two major parties are locked in a tight battle for Senator control. One seat may well spell the difference.

Against this background, the contest between incumbent Sen. Chapman Revercomb, Republican, and Democrat Matthew M. Neely came in for a share of the national election spotlight.

Revercomb has had to combat some indifference from top GOP leadership, the proclaimed hostility of United Mine Workers chieftains, and a heavy book majority of Mountain State Democrats.

He made his final plea from Charleston tonight. Revecomb's 73-year-old opponent likewise took to the radio for a last -minute talk from his home town of Fairmont. Neely is a former United States senator, governor and congressman.

Major factors in the Neely-Revercomb fight are the 120,000 mine workers of the state. They have been asked by their district leaders to split the ticket, voting for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for President but for Democrats in the senatorial and gubernatorial races.

Fair Weather Predicted For Much Of Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Generally fair weather will prevail over large areas of the nation on election day, the Weather Bureau said today.

But in some sections there will be scattered rain, showers and even snow.

The bureau said:

"The outlook is for generally fair weather with mild temperature over large areas of the country but some rain is expected in the Ohio Valley and the southern portion of the Great Lakes region.

"Rain in the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley should end during the morning and rain is not likely before night over the Appalachians, the Middle Atlantic states and extreme Southern New England."

Transport Crash Takes Lives Of 11 Air Force Fliers

Twin-Engine Plane Disintegrates In Air

MULDROW, OKLA., Nov. 1—(AP)—Eleven Air Force fliers died in the crash of a twin-engine transport plane on the outskirts of this East Oklahoma town today.

The plane, flying low in a driving rainstorm, broke into three pieces aloft and plunged into a rain-covered cornfield about 11 a. m.

At Fort Smith, Ark., 20 miles east of here, Army sources at Camp Chaffee said that all 11 bodies had been recovered and removed to Fort Smith. Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin by Sheppard Field. The only clue to identify one of the victims was a B-4 bag found in the wreckage bearing the name "Capt. E. Mostyn."

On Routine Flight

The Sheppard Field operations officer said there were four officers and seven enlisted men aboard the plane. Camp Chaffee sources, however, said that had not been definitely established.

It was estimated by witnesses that the ship was flying at an altitude of 300 to 400 feet, under a low cloud blanket, when it suddenly disintegrated. They said bodies and plane sections flew in different directions.

A graphic description was given by Tom Morgan, who said he was standing in front of a store here.

Saw Plane "Blow Up"

"I looked up," he related, "and saw the plane and while I was looking at it, it blew up. It looked like pieces flew all over. I saw three big pieces. I saw men fall. I saw one parachute start opening and then fold up. I saw no other parachutes open at all."

Debris was scattered over an area of one and one-half miles, about one-quarter of a mile from the Muldrow business district.

Four mutilated bodies were near the forward section, north of town. The tail and main fuselage section fell on the slope of Turnham Hill, one-fourth mile to the west. The seven other bodies were found in this area. One had been driven into the ground by the force of the fall.

Silver Spring Attorney Plunges To His Death

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — James D. Heinlein, 34, an attorney, of Silver Spring, Md., plunged 12 floors to his death today from the roof of an office building in the heart of the capital.

Heinlein's body landed in an alley in the rear of the building, narrowly missing E. J. Quinn, a Washington truck driver.

Quinn, who was standing less than six feet away, told police he heard a "whirring sound" and looked up to see Heinlein's body hit the pavement and bounce about two feet in the air.

Widow, Handyman Held In Meat Cleaver Murder

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1—(AP)—A blonde and a redhead today discussed the extra-marital affairs of Jerome Ferreri, handsome meat cleaver victim, as a coroner's jury recommended his widow and a handyman be prosecuted in his slaying.

The jury found that gunshot wounds and a skull fracture, inflicted respectively by Allan Adron, 51, and Mrs. Betty Ferreri, 26, had caused Ferreri's death. His slaying was termed "homicidal."

Among the witnesses were blonde Mrs. Loretta Burge, and auburn-haired Floy Smock, a model.

Mrs. Burge replied to deputy coroner's query "where did you see him":

"Well, we would either go out for rides, or he would leave letters in my mailbox. I never went out with him socially."

At one point, she was asked if she had ever given Ferreri money. She said "no."

"Yes you did, honey," Mrs. Ferreri shouted, jumping up.

Then Mrs. Burge said she had "loaned" Ferreri $250.

She said Ferreri had nothing to drink the night he was killed, adding "I was in a position to know."

"Will you please explain what you mean by that?"

"Well, when he arrived, I walked up to him and gave him a kiss."

Miss Smock said she met Ferreri through a friend 14 or 15 months ago, had known for about a year that he was married.

"How frequently did you see Mr. Ferreri?" she was asked.

"Every day and every night."

Interest High In Free State Vote Tradition

Close Dewey-Truman Race In "Weather Vane" State Seen

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Will Maryland continue to be the nation's "weather vane" in presidential elections?

To the state's political leaders, the answer is almost as important as the actual results of Tuesday's voting. Maryland has been on the winning side in every presidential race since 1892. The local representatives of the major parties will lose standing and patronage if the outcome here doesn't bear out that reputation.

The interest in this tradition is almost as great as the outcome of the main issues to be decided Tuesday:

1. Dewey or Truman for President?

2. How will the state's six seats in the House of Representatives be split?

3. What showing will the Wallace Progressives and the States' Rights Democrats make?

Relatively Short Ballot

The Progressives are an untested quantity and the States' Righters are handicapped by not being able to get their candidates' names on the ballots and voting machines.

Incidentally, States' Rights leaders were still arguing today that writing in the names of Thurmond and Wright would give them a valid vote. The Attorney General has specified, however, that States' Rights voters must write in the names of eight electors.

Maryland is not electing a United States Senator or voting on states and local offices, so it's a relatively short ballot and the secondary interest is focused on the six congressional races.

There are seven constitutional amendments and one state-right referendum question on the ballot, but even some of the constitutional amendments have only local application.

Baltimore has a raft of special municipal bond issues up for ratification. Some of the counties have a local question or two to be voted on.

Maryland now has four Democrats and two Republicans in the House of Representatives.

Three of the Democrats and both the Republicans have been nominated for re-election.

All of them have opposition and in three of the districts there will be three-way contests with an added starter entered by the Wallace Progressives.

Congressional Lineups

The lineup:

First District — Maryland's nine Eastern Shore counties—Rep. Edward T. Miller, Easton attorney and a Republican, opposed by S. Scott Beck, Chestertown attorney and Democrat.

Second—Harford, Baltimore, and Carroll Counties plus five and a fraction Baltimore City wards—State Sen. William P. Bolton, Baltimore County attorney and Democrat, opposed by former State Sen. A. Earl Shipley, Republican from Westminster in Carroll County, and Michael J. Clifford, Baltimore ma-

Stalin "Dreads" War, Shaw Says

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 2 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw said today Prime Minister Stalin has his hands full running Russia's domestic affairs and "obviously dreads nothing more than another imperialist war."

The 92-year-old Irish playwright expressed his views in a copyrighted article for today's edition of the Communist Daily Worker. It was part of a celebration of the newspaper's new headquarters and new full size format.

"Stalin's frank and exact words last week were a breath of fresh air," Shaw said. He apparently referred to Stalin's statement accusing the Western Powers of bad faith in reaching agreement over Berlin, charging them with trying to justify a war against Russia and asserting that such war talk would end in "ignominous failure."

Western politicians, Shaw said, simply do not know what the word Communism means. Western nations practce it all the time in the making of lighted streets, use of law courts, operation of armies, navies and air forces and other public enterprises, he said.

Modern civilization, Shaw continued, "would be utterly impossible were it not for the world wide foundation of Communism without which we should all starve to death in a few weeks."

"People who are not fundamentally Communist are not civilized," Shaw said.

Shaw said today totalitarianism and police state behavior, of which the West accuses Russia, "are in full swing in the Commonwealth." He did not elaborate, but added: "What we revile as a gestapo is nothing but our own C.I.D. (Criminal Investigation Department, Scotland Yard)."

WEEPS AT INQUEST—Mrs. Elizabeth Ferreri, 26, held on suspicion of murder in the gun and meat cleaver slaying of her husband, bows her head and weeps as her attorney, Abbott Burnay, questions a witness during a coroner's inquest in Los Angeles yesterday. The jury recommended that Mrs. Ferreri and a handyman, Allan Adron, 51, be prosecuted in the slaying. (Story at bottom of page)

Troops To Seize French Strikers' Last Strongholds

Back-To-Work Move Expected To Grow

PARIS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Massed police and army forces were preparing tonight to take over the last strongholds of the Communist-led coal strikers in Northern France.

The government is counting on a back-to-work movement gathering strength tomorrow among the nation's 335,000 miners. It claimed 87 per cent of the miners in Lorraine were back on their jobs Saturday. Police seized the Lorraine mines more than three weeks ago, however.

An All Saints Day truce, tacitly observed today by both the government and the General Confederation of Labor (OGT), was broken at Cransac, 60 miles northeast of Toulouse.

Miners Reported Beaten

Strikers took the Banel shaft from the police and were reported to have beaten a number of miners at work there. Troops later freed both the police and the workers.

At Carmaux, near Cransac, police were being reinforced to protect miners who plan to go back to the pits tomorrow morning.

In the northern city of Lens the regional headquarters of the OGT continued to talk of "victory" in the strike. Last week, however, the strikers put up no serious resistance when 30,000 heavily-armed troops and police took over most of the mines in the area. Now only the pits in the neighborhood of Lens itself are occupied by pickets.

Strike In Fifth Week

The coal strike which entered into its fifth week today has cost France about 4,000,000 tons of fuel.

Troops at French ports are unloading coal assigned France under the European recovery program. Dock workers in sympathy with the miners have refused to unload coal ships.

The government has been suspending Communist union chiefs from posts on the boards directing nationalized industries. Latest to go is Victorin Duguet, general secretary of the CGT miners.

Daughter Loses Plea In Patterson Will Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Felicia Gizycka today lost her plea for permission to search the personal files of her mother, the late Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington Times-Herald, for evidence in her $16,500,000 will contest.

Judge James W. Morris in United States District Court turned down a motion for the search after hearing arguments from counsel for Mrs. Gizycka and for the executors of the estate.

At the same time he set December 6 as a formal date for trial of the will contest itself, but made it clear that he did not actually expect the case to get under way by that time.

Indonesian Red Leader Reported Slain By Government Patrol Fire

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Moscow-trained Indonesian Communist leader Musso was reported today to have been killed in a skirmish with Indonesian Republican forces.

Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said Musso was slain yesterday near Madioen where he launched an unsuccessful uprising against the Republic September 18.

Musso disappeared after the revolt was crushed. The main forces of the insurgents fled to the hills and unconfirmed reports kept cropping up that Musso and his comrade in revolt, former Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin, had fled the country.

A correspondent of Antara reported October 18 that Sjarifoeddin had been slain by fellow-Communists. There was no confirmation, however, from other sources.

Today's Antara report quoted the regency information service in the Madioen area as saying an insurgent "recognized as Musso" was killed yesterday morning in the village of Soemanding, south of Madioen. Madioen, third largest city of the Indonesian Republic, served briefly as the insurgent capital before the revolt was ended.

The report said Musso was shot during an exchange of fire between a government patrol and five "rioters."

Chiang Vows To Fight On As Reds Occupy Mukden

Jewelry Worth $20,000 Stolen From Mrs. Luce

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Former Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce was robbed of jewelry valued at $20,000 while she and her husband were asleep in their Waldorf-Astoria apartment early today.

Mrs. Luce, author, playwright and former representative from Connecticut, is the wife of Magazine Publisher Henry Luce.

She told police the stolen jewelry included an 18-carat marquise diamond ring valued at $18,000, a woman's gold wrist watch, a set of earrings, and a gold vanity case containing rosary beads and a gold compact.

Big Manchurian City Bombed By Chinese Government Planes

NANKINK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Communist armies completed the occupation of Mukden at 3 p. m. today (2 a. m. EST).

This news came from an authoritative source.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek acknowledged unspecified "reverses" in Manchuria but vowed to fight on and said North China was not yet directly menaced.

The Chinese government still had not admitted Mukden's loss, but its radio contact had been cut since Sunday evening, and a spokesman acknowledged that available information was "very confusing."

No Word About Casualties

There was no word about casualties or damage from the bombing, but numerous bombs fell.

Immediately after entering the city the Communist "Northeastern People's Peace Committee" issued a proclamation urging the public to remain calm and promising an era of peace and prosperity.

After having lain silent all Sunday and Sunday night, Mukden heard heavy artillery and small-arms fire from the suburbs Monday morning.

Discipline among nationalist troops was reported to have deteriorated rapidly. The roads swarmed with refugees fleeing the city of 2,000,000 population. But comparatively few had a chance to get out.

Negroes Warned Against Voting

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 1 (AP)—Mayor Thomas L. Cummings said today that Nashville's negro sections are "flooded" on this election eve with unsigned threatening letters attempting to keep negroes from the polls.

Postmaster William Gupton said the Mayor had called to inform him about the letters and that he had issued orders that postmen turn in samples of the letters given them by the recipients.

The Mayor said two of the letters contained crude scrawls in red pencil saying:

"KKK.

"The Klan knows you."

The "you" was underscored but the letters were unsigned.

(In Atlanta, Imperial Wizard Samuel Green said there is no Klan organization "within 100 miles of Nashville" and that use of the name and symbol was a hoax. He offered the Mayor and postal authorities "full co-operation" in "tracking down and apprehending the perpetrators of this hoax.")

The letters are being checked for fingerprints. "Hundreds of these letters have been sent to negroes and I have had many calls about them," the Mayor added.

Gupton said that since the letters were reportedly sealed and sent by first class postage, postal officials can take no action unless the recipients open them and turn them over to authorities.

Progressives In Red

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party and the National Wallace for President Committee reported today they have received $1,188,979 and spent $1,189,178.

Poison Gas Found In Air At Donora

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP) — A state health official reported tonight he had found "small quantities" of poison gas in the air over this industrial town where 19 asthmacardia sufferers died suddenly over the weekend.

Dr. Joseph Shilen, Harrisburg, head of the Industrial Hygiene Bureau of the State Board of Health, said his preliminary tests early yesterday showed both sulphur dioxide and sulphur trioxide.

He declined to say whether the "small quantities" of gas he found would be sufficient to cause death. He added:

"To get a full picture of the situation in this area, similar tests will be made at other industrial plants."

Meanwhile, citizens held an old-fashioned town meeting to seek ways of combatting smogs, which many believe responsible for the 19 deaths. For five days the town was shrouded in sooty fog.

United States Bureau of Mines representatives arrived in this highly industrialized town of 13,500 to study the situation. The Army also sent an observer.

Meanwhile rain has washed the air for nearly 24 hours, dispelling the smog. There were no new deaths reported today and no new cases of the strangling asthmatic condition.

Tie In Party Hold On Governorships May Be Shattered

Contests In Seven States In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—(AP)—Voters in 32 states tomorrow may break the 24-24 deadlock in party control of the nation's 48 governorships.

Republicans are banking on a pileup of votes for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the presidential contest to help swing control their way—but Democrats are not conceding a popular landslide toward the Republicans.

Henry Wallace's Progressive Party has 12 candidates for governor in the field, including two women, but none is believed strong enough to upset the major party candidates.

Major interest centers on contests in seven states—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut, Washington and Tennessee. Briefly the situations are these:

Bing Dong Ohio Fight

Ohio—Republican Gov. Thomas J Herbert opposed by Democrat Frank J. Lausche in ding-dong fight. Democrats say separate state and presidential ballots will cut down straight-ticket voting for Dewey and aid Lausche. Republicans confident Dewey will run even better than in 1944 when he carried state.

Indiana—Former Gov. Henry F. Schricker of Indianapolis, Democrat, is running against Republican Hobart Creighton, wealthy chicken and egg dealer of Warsaw. Democrats claim Schricker has edge unless Dewey carries state by 200,000.

Michigan — Veteran Republican Gov. Kim Sigler, 57, opposed by 37-year-old G. Mennen Williams, scion of rich soap-making family. Heavy labor vote will play big part in this contest.

Illinois—Gov. Dwight H. Green is hope of Republicans who see big Dewey victory in state. But Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, Chicago lawyer-diplomat, confident he will win.

Bowles Seeks Conn. Governorship

Tennessee—The Republicans' fiddle-playing, hill-billy singer, Roy Acuff, has made spectacular campaign to defeat former Democratic Gov. Gordon Browning. Republicans believe States' Righters will make big inroads into Democratic vote and open way for Republican sweep. Political Boss Ed Crump, Memphis, is backing States' Rights ticket while Sen. McKellar is backing Truman.

Archbishop Athenagoras Heads Greek Orthodox

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov 1 (AP)—The Holy Synod of Archbishops today elevated Archbishop Spyrow Athenagoras of New York to patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church.

Now primate of the Orthodox Church in North and South America, the 62-year-old prelate will become spiritual leader of the world's 140,000,000 Orthodox.

He succeeds Maximos V, who resigned as patriarch October 18 because of ill health.

Dewey Again Voices Unity Theme; Truman Breaks With Custom

[By The Associated Press]

President Truman, departing sharply from election-eve tradition, got in a last personal bid for votes last night as the candidates made their usual get-out-the-vote broadcasts.

Gov. Dewey hewed closer to custom. He stressed anew his "united America" theme and touched on some of the other points he has stressed in his campaign, but did it in language that dovetailed with a plea to "vote, regardless of how you vote."

The Democratic and Republican presidential candidates made last-night addresses by radio as the millions of American voters made ready to tap today the shoulder of the man they want for President.

Truman, from his home town of Independence, Mo., declared that Democratic victory "is our best assurance against going back to the dark days of 1932." He urged:

"Go to the polls tomorrow and vote your convictions—your hopes—and your faith—your faith in the future of a nation that under God can lead to freedom and peace."

"Party Of The People"

The President declared his belief that "the Democratic Party is the party of the people." He asserted the question is whether "you want government for the people or government for the privileged few."

"I believe in particular," he went on, "that the industrial workers, the farmers and the small businessmen of this country can best protect themselves against reaction and inflation through the Democratic Party."

Dewey, from New York, said the principal issue is whether America "is going to be a strong, united nation."

The Republican nominee went on:

"Every one of us, as a citizen of the United States, will be the envy of the earth as we freely choose the kind of government we want."

Still stressing his "unity" theme, the New York Governor said that after the votes are counted "we will close ranks to go forward, shoulder to shoulder, remembering that, whether we are Democrats or Republicans on election day, we are good Americans every day."

He went on to say that "we will find a road to peace, and meet the great, inspiring task of making

11 Men Aspire To Presidency

[By The Associated Press]

Eleven candidates are seeking the presidency of the United States in today's election, but only the name of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, will appear on the ballot of all 48 states.

The name of President Truman, the Democratic nominee, will appear on the ballot of every state except Alabama. Henry A. Wallace, of the Progressive Party, will be on 45 of the tickets and J. Strom Thurmond of the States' Rights party on 13.

Some minor party aspirants qualified in only a few states. Some in none, so that votes for them would have to be written in.

Four years ago there were only six aspirants for the presidency.

Republican—Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren.

Socialist—Norman Thomas and Tucker P. Smith.

Socialist Labor — Edward A. Tiechert and Stephen Emery.

Christian Nationalist—Gerald L. K. Smith and Harry A. Romer.

Prosperous Poultryman Mysteriously Murdered

BERLIN, Md., Nov. 1 (AP)—Cleve Jones, prosperous Eastern Shore poultry farmer, was shot and killed today on a lonely dirt road near his Worcester County home.

His son-in-law told police Jones was shot in the head after they stopped their light truck to pick up a pistol and a tire wrench lying on the road.

The son-in-law, Edward Early, said that the unknown assailant may have shot from ambush.

He gave this account of the shooting at an inquest held by Dr. N. E. Sartorious, assistant state medical examiner for Worcester County:

Early and Jones were driving along the dirt road off the Stephen Decauter Highway shortly after 1 p. m. in search of wood chips for the chicken farm.

Early scrambled out of the truck and ran nearly a mile through the woods to a farmer's house.

The farm owner and his wife drove Early back to the shooting scene. They arrived as a blue sedan drove away. The pistol and lug wrench were no longer in the truck.

They put Jones in the automobile and drove him to the office of Dr. Herman A. Robbins here.

Dr. Robbins said that Jones was alive but unconscious when he arrived. He died a few minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Weather Forecast

80th Congress Record Placed Before Voters

432 Seats In House, 32 In Senate Will Be At Stake Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — Some 50,000,000 voters will pass judgment tomorrow on President Truman's bitter criticism of the 80th Congress and Gov. Dewey's high praise.

More or less at issue in nearly every race as the members of the 81st Congress are named will be this Republican-Democratic contrast of view on the record of the last two years:

Truman—The second worst Congress in the nation's history.

At stake are 432 seats in the House of Representatives, from all 48 states, and 32 senate seats in 31 states. Maine already had picked its four members of the new Congress, Senator-elect Margaret Chase Smith and three House members. All are Republicans.

There have been the customary conflicting claims about gains and losses in the new Congress, which begins its two-year life on January 3. They distill down to an indication that the Congress may be fairly evenly divided, particularly in the Senate where the Republicans now hold a 51 to 45 margin.

11 Close Contests Seen

The 11 contests believed by most Capitol political observers to be the tightest cover these four Senate seats now held by the Democrats:

Colorado: Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, seeking a third term, is opposed by Will F. Nicholson.

Montana: Sen. James E. Murray is opposed by Tom J. Davis. Murray came to the Senate in 1934 to fill an unexpired term and is now completing his second full six-year term.

New Mexico: Former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson and former Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley are contesting for the seat being vacated by Sen. Carl A. Hatch. Republican Hurley narrowly lost two years ago when he ran against Sen. Dennis Chavez.

Tennessee: Rep. Estes Kefauver, who bucked the powerful Democratic organization of E. H. Crump of Memphis to win the primary from Sen. Tom Stewart, is opposed by B. Carroll Reece, former chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The other seven crucial contests are over seats now held by Republicans:

Crucial Senate Contest In W. Va.

Crucial because the two major parties are locked in a tight battle for Senator control. One seat may well spell the difference.

Against this background, the contest between incumbent Sen. Chapman Revercomb, Republican, and Democrat Matthew M. Neely came in for a share of the national election spotlight.

Revercomb has had to combat some indifference from top GOP leadership, the proclaimed hostility of United Mine Workers chieftains, and a heavy book majority of Mountain State Democrats.

He made his final plea from Charleston tonight. Revecomb's 73-year-old opponent likewise took to the radio for a last -minute talk from his home town of Fairmont. Neely is a former United States senator, governor and congressman.

Major factors in the Neely-Revercomb fight are the 120,000 mine workers of the state. They have been asked by their district leaders to split the ticket, voting for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for President but for Democrats in the senatorial and gubernatorial races.

Fair Weather Predicted For Much Of Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Generally fair weather will prevail over large areas of the nation on election day, the Weather Bureau said today.

But in some sections there will be scattered rain, showers and even snow.

The bureau said:

"The outlook is for generally fair weather with mild temperature over large areas of the country but some rain is expected in the Ohio Valley and the southern portion of the Great Lakes region.

"Rain in the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley should end during the morning and rain is not likely before night over the Appalachians, the Middle Atlantic states and extreme Southern New England."

Twin-Engine Plane Disintegrates In Air

MULDROW, OKLA., Nov. 1—(AP) —Eleven Air Force fliers died in the crash of a twin-engine transport plane on the outskirts of this East Oklahoma town today.

The plane, flying low in a driving rainstorm, broke into three pieces aloft and plunged into a rain-covered cornfield about 11 a. m.

At Fort Smith, Ark., 20 miles east of here, Army sources at Camp Chaffee said that all 11 bodies had been recovered and removed to Fort Smith. Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin by Sheppard Field. The only clue to identify one of the victims was a B-4 bag found in the wreckage bearing the name "Capt. E. Mostyn."

On Routine Flight

The Sheppard Field operations officer said there were four officers and seven enlisted men aboard the plane. Camp Chaffee sources, however, said that had not been definitely established.

It was estimated by witnesses that the ship was flying at an altitude of 300 to 400 feet, under a low cloud blanket, when it suddenly disintegrated. They said bodies and plane sections flew in different directions.

A graphic description was given by Tom Morgan, who said he was standing in front of a store here.

Saw Plane "Blow Up"

Debris was scattered over an area of one and one-half miles, about one-quarter of a mile from the Muldrow business district.

Four mutilated bodies were near the forward section, north of town. The tail and main fuselage section fell on the slope of Turnham Hill, one-fourth mile to the west. The seven other bodies were found in this area. One had been driven into the ground by the force of the fall.

Silver Spring Attorney Plunges To His Death

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — James D. Heinlein, 34, an attorney, of Silver Spring, Md., plunged 12 floors to his death today from the roof of an office building in the heart of the capital.

Heinlein's body landed in an alley in the rear of the building, narrowly missing E. J. Quinn, a Washington truck driver.

Quinn, who was standing less than six feet away, told police he heard a "whirring sound" and looked up to see Heinlein's body hit the pavement and bounce about two feet in the air.

Interest High In Free State Vote Tradition

Close Dewey-Truman Race In "Weather Vane" State Seen

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Will Maryland continue to be the nation's "weather vane" in presidential elections?

To the state's political leaders, the answer is almost as important as the actual results of Tuesday's voting. Maryland has been on the winning side in every presidential race since 1892. The local representatives of the major parties will lose standing and patronage if the outcome here doesn't bear out that reputation.

The interest in this tradition is almost as great as the outcome of the main issues to be decided Tuesday:

1. Dewey or Truman for President?

2. How will the state's six seats in the House of Representatives be split?

3. What showing will the Wallace Progressives and the States' Rights Democrats make?

Relatively Short Ballot

The Progressives are an untested quantity and the States' Righters are handicapped by not being able to get their candidates' names on the ballots and voting machines.

Incidentally, States' Rights leaders were still arguing today that writing in the names of Thurmond and Wright would give them a valid vote. The Attorney General has specified, however, that States' Rights voters must write in the names of eight electors.

Maryland is not electing a United States Senator or voting on states and local offices, so it's a relatively short ballot and the secondary interest is focused on the six congressional races.

There are seven constitutional amendments and one state-right referendum question on the ballot, but even some of the constitutional amendments have only local application.

Baltimore has a raft of special municipal bond issues up for ratification. Some of the counties have a local question or two to be voted on.

Maryland now has four Democrats and two Republicans in the House of Representatives.

Three of the Democrats and both the Republicans have been nominated for re-election.

All of them have opposition and in three of the districts there will be three-way contests with an added starter entered by the Wallace Progressives.

Congressional Lineups

First District — Maryland's nine Eastern Shore counties—Rep. Edward T. Miller, Easton attorney and a Republican, opposed by S. Scott Beck, Chestertown attorney and Democrat.

Second—Harford, Baltimore, and Carroll Counties plus five and a fraction Baltimore City wards—State Sen. William P. Bolton, Baltimore County attorney and Democrat, opposed by former State Sen. A. Earl Shipley, Republican from Westminster in Carroll County, and Michael J. Clifford, Baltimore ma-

Stalin "Dreads" War, Shaw Says

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 2 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw said today Prime Minister Stalin has his hands full running Russia's domestic affairs and "obviously dreads nothing more than another imperialist war."

The 92-year-old Irish playwright expressed his views in a copyrighted article for today's edition of the Communist Daily Worker. It was part of a celebration of the newspaper's new headquarters and new full size format.

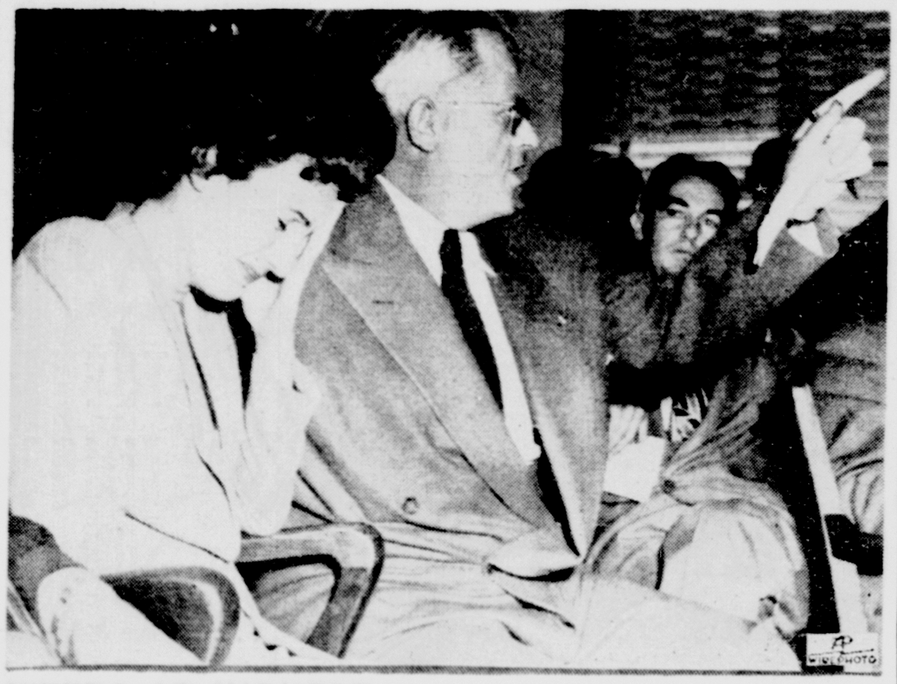

"Stalin's frank and exact words last week were a breath of fresh air," Shaw said. He apparently referred to Stalin's statement accusing the Western Powers of bad faith in reaching agreement over Berlin, charging them with trying to justify a war against Russia and asserting that such war talk would end in "ignominous failure."

Western politicians, Shaw said, simply do not know what the word Communism means. Western nations practice it all the time in the making of lighted streets, use of law courts, operation of armies, navies and air forces and other public enterprises, he said.

Modern civilization, Shaw continued, "would be utterly impossible were it not for the world wide foundation of Communism without which we should all starve to death in a few weeks."

"People who are not fundamentally Communist are not civilized," Shaw said.

Shaw said today totalitarianism and police state behavior, of which the West accuses Russia, "are in full swing in the Commonwealth." He did not elaborate, but added: "What we revile as a gestapo is nothing but our own C.I.D. (Criminal Investigation Department, Scotland Yard)."

WEEPS AT INQUEST—Mrs. Elizabeth Ferreri, 26, held on suspicion of murder in the gun and meat cleaver slaying of her husband, bows her head and weeps as her attorney, Abbott Burnay, questions a witness during a coroner's inquest in Los Angeles yesterday. The jury recommended that Mrs. Ferreri and a handyman, Allan Adron, 51, be prosecuted in the slaying. (Story at bottom of page)

Troops To Seize French Strikers' Last Strongholds

Back-To-Work Move Expected To Grow

PARIS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Massed police and army forces were preparing tonight to take over the last strongholds of the Communist-led coal strikers in Northern France.

The government is counting on a back-to-work movement gathering strength tomorrow among the nation's 335,000 miners. It claimed 87 per cent of the miners in Lorraine were back on their jobs Saturday. Police seized the Lorraine mines more than three weeks ago, however.

An All Saints Day truce, tacitly observed today by both the government and the General Confederation of Labor (OGT), was broken at Cransac, 60 miles northeast of Toulouse.

Miners Reported Beaten

Strikers took the Banel shaft from the police and were reported to have beaten a number of miners at work there. Troops later freed both the police and the workers.

At Carmaux, near Cransac, police were being reinforced to protect miners who plan to go back to the pits tomorrow morning.

In the northern city of Lens the regional headquarters of the OGT continued to talk of "victory" in the strike. Last week, however, the strikers put up no serious resistance when 30,000 heavily-armed troops and police took over most of the mines in the area. Now only the pits in the neighborhood of Lens itself are occupied by pickets.

Strike In Fifth Week

The coal strike which entered into its fifth week today has cost France about 4,000,000 tons of fuel.

Troops at French ports are unloading coal assigned France under the European recovery program. Dock workers in sympathy with the miners have refused to unload coal ships.

The government has been suspending Communist union chiefs from posts on the boards directing nationalized industries. Latest to go is Victorin Duguet, general secretary of the CGT miners.

Daughter Loses Plea In Patterson Will Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Felicia Gizycka today lost her plea for permission to search the personal files of her mother, the late Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington Times-Herald, for evidence in her $16,500,000 will contest.

Judge James W. Morris in United States District Court turned down a motion for the search after hearing arguments from counsel for Mrs. Gizycka and for the executors of the estate.

At the same time he set December 6 as a formal date for trial of the will contest itself, but made it clear that he did not actually expect the case to get under way by that time.

Chiang Vows To Fight On As Reds Occupy Mukden

Jewelry Worth $20,000 Stolen From Mrs. Luce

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Former Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce was robbed of jewelry valued at $20,000 while she and her husband were asleep in their Waldorf-Astoria apartment early today.

Mrs. Luce, author, playwright and former representative from Connecticut, is the wife of Magazine Publisher Henry Luce.

She told police the stolen jewelry included an 18-carat marquise diamond ring valued at $18,000, a woman's gold wrist watch, a set of earrings, and a gold vanity case containing rosary beads and a gold compact.

Big Manchurian City Bombed By Chinese Government Planes

NANKINK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Communist armies completed the occupation of Mukden at 3 p. m. today (2 a. m. EST).

This news came from an authoritative source.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek acknowledged unspecified "reverses" in Manchuria but vowed to fight on and said North China was not yet directly menaced.

The Chinese government still had not admitted Mukden's loss, but its radio contact had been cut since Sunday evening, and a spokesman acknowledged that available information was "very confusing."

No Word About Casualties

There was no word about casualties or damage from the bombing, but numerous bombs fell.

Immediately after entering the city the Communist "Northeastern People's Peace Committee" issued a proclamation urging the public to remain calm and promising an era of peace and prosperity.

After having lain silent all Sunday and Sunday night, Mukden heard heavy artillery and small-arms fire from the suburbs Monday morning.

Discipline among nationalist troops was reported to have deteriorated rapidly. The roads swarmed with refugees fleeing the city of 2,000,000 population. But comparatively few had a chance to get out.

Negroes Warned Against Voting

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 1 (AP)—Mayor Thomas L. Cummings said today that Nashville's negro sections are "flooded" on this election eve with unsigned threatening letters attempting to keep negroes from the polls.

Postmaster William Gupton said the Mayor had called to inform him about the letters and that he had issued orders that postmen turn in samples of the letters given them by the recipients.

The Mayor said two of the letters contained crude scrawls in red pencil saying:

"KKK.

"The Klan knows you."

The "you" was underscored but the letters were unsigned.

(In Atlanta, Imperial Wizard Samuel Green said there is no Klan organization "within 100 miles of Nashville" and that use of the name and symbol was a hoax. He offered the Mayor and postal authorities "full co-operation" in "tracking down and apprehending the perpetrators of this hoax.")

The letters are being checked for fingerprints. "Hundreds of these letters have been sent to negroes and I have had many calls about them," the Mayor added.

Gupton said that since the letters were reportedly sealed and sent by first class postage, postal officials can take no action unless the recipients open them and turn them over to authorities.

Progressives In Red

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party and the National Wallace for President Committee reported today they have received $1,188,979 and spent $1,189,178.

Poison Gas Found In Air At Donora

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP) — A state health official reported tonight he had found "small quantities" of poison gas in the air over this industrial town where 19 asthmacardia sufferers died suddenly over the weekend.

Dr. Joseph Shilen, Harrisburg, head of the Industrial Hygiene Bureau of the State Board of Health, said his preliminary tests early yesterday showed both sulphur dioxide and sulphur trioxide.

He declined to say whether the "small quantities" of gas he found would be sufficient to cause death. He added:

"To get a full picture of the situation in this area, similar tests will be made at other industrial plants."

Meanwhile, citizens held an old-fashioned town meeting to see ways of combatting smogs, which many believe responsible for the 19 deaths. For five days the town was shrouded in sooty fog.

United States Bureau of Mines representatives arrived in this highly industrialized town of 13,500 to study the situation. The Army also sent an observer.

Meanwhile rain has washed the air for nearly 24 hours, dispelling the smog. There were no new deaths reported today and no new cases of the strangling asthmatic condition.

Tie In Party Hold On Governorships May Be Shattered

Contests In Seven States In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—(AP)—Voters in 32 states tomorrow may break the 24-24 deadlock in party control of the nation's 48 governorships.

Republicans are banking on a pileup of votes for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the presidential contest to help swing control their way—but Democrats are not conceding a popular landslide toward the Republicans.

Henry Wallace's Progressive Party has 12 candidates for governor in the field, including two women, but none is believed strong enough to upset the major party candidates.

Major interest centers on contests in seven states—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut, Washington and Tennessee. Briefly the situations are these:

Ding Dong Ohio Fight

Ohio—Republican Gov. Thomas J Herbert opposed by Democrat Frank J. Lausche in ding-dong fight. Democrats say separate state and presidential ballots will cut down straight-ticket voting for Dewey and aid Lausche. Republicans confident Dewey will run even better than in 1944 when he carried state.

Indiana—Former Gov. Henry F. Schricker of Indianapolis, Democrat, is running against Republican Hobart Creighton, wealthy chicken and egg dealer of Warsaw. Democrats claim Schricker has edge unless Dewey carries state by 200,000.

Michigan — Veteran Republican Gov. Kim Sigler, 57, opposed by 37-year-old G. Mennen Williams, scion of rich soap-making family. Heavy labor vote will play big part in this contest.

Illinois—Gov. Dwight H. Green is hope of Republicans who see big Dewey victory in state. But Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, Chicago lawyer-diplomat, confident he will win.

Bowles Seeks Conn. Governorship

Washington—President Truman's close friend, Democratic Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, opposed by former Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, Republican.

Tennessee—The Republicans' fiddle-playing, hill-billy singer, Roy Acuff, has made spectacular campaign to defeat former Democratic Gov. Gordon Browning. Republicans believe States' Righters will make big inroads into Democratic vote and open way for Republican sweep. Political Boss Ed Crump, Memphis, is backing States' Rights ticket while Sen. McKellar is backing Truman.

Archbishop Athenagoras Heads Greek Orthodox

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov 1 (AP)—The Holy Synod of Archbishops today elevated Archbishop Spyrow Athenagoras of New York to patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church.

Now primate of the Orthodox Church in North and South America, the 62-year-old prelate will become spiritual leader of the world's 140,000,000 Orthodox.

He succeeds Maximos V, who resigned as patriarch October 18 because of ill health.

Dewey Again Voices Unity Theme; Truman Breaks With Custom

[By The Associated Press]

President Truman, departing sharply from election-eve tradition, got in a last personal bid for votes last night as the candidates made their usual get-out-the-vote broadcasts.

Gov. Dewey hewed closer to custom. He stressed anew his "united America" theme and touched on some of the other points he has stressed in his campaign, but did it in language that dovetailed with a plea to "vote, regardless of how you vote."

The Democratic and Republican presidential candidates made last-night addresses by radio as the millions of American voters made ready to tap today the shoulder of the man they want for President.

Truman, from his home town of Independence, Mo., declared that Democratic victory "is our best assurance against going back to the dark days of 1932." He urged:

"Go to the polls tomorrow and vote your convictions—your hopes—and your faith—your faith in the future of a nation that under God can lead to freedom and peace."

"Party Of The People"

The President declared his belief that "the Democratic Party is the party of the people." He asserted the question is whether "you want government for the people or government for the privileged few."

"I believe in particular," he went on, "that the industrial workers, the farmers and the small businessmen of this country can best protect themselves against reaction and inflation through the Democratic Party."

Dewey, from New York, said the principal issue is whether America "is going to be a strong, united nation."

The Republican nominee went on:

"Every one of us, as a citizen of the United States, will be the envy of the earth as we freely choose the kind of government we want."

Still stressing his "unity" theme, the New York Governor said that after the votes are counted "we will close ranks to go forward, shoulder to shoulder, remembering that, whether we are Democrats or Republicans on election day, we are good Americans every day."

He went on to say that "we will find a road to peace, and meet the great, inspiring task of making

11 Men Aspire To Presidency

[By The Associated Press]

Eleven candidates are seeking the presidency of the United States in today's election, but only the name of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, will appear on the ballot of all 48 states.

The name of President Truman, the Democratic nominee, will appear on the ballot of every state except Alabama. Henry A. Wallace, of the Progressive Party, will be on 45 of the tickets and J. Strom Thurmond of the States' Rights party on 13.

Some minor party aspirants qualified in only a few states. Some in none, so that votes for them would have to be written in.

Four years ago there were only six aspirants for the presidency.

Republican—Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren.

Socialist—Norman Thomas and Tucker P. Smith.

Socialist Labor — Edward A. Tiechert and Stephen Emery.

Christian Nationalist—Gerald L. K. Smith and Harry A. Romer.

Widow, Handyman Held In Meat Cleaver Murder

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1—(AP)—A blonde and a redhead today discussed the extra-marital affairs of Jerome Ferreri, handsome meat cleaver victim, as a coroner's jury recommended his widow and a handyman be prosecuted in his slaying.

The jury found that gunshot wounds and a skull fracture, inflicted respectively by Allan Adron, 51, and Mrs. Betty Ferreri, 26, had caused Ferreri's death. His slaying was termed "homicidal."

Among the witnesses were blonde Mrs. Loretta Burge, and auburn-haired Floy Smock, a model.

Mrs. Burge replied to deputy coroner's query "where did you see him":

"Well, we would either go out for rides, or he would leave letters in my mailbox. I never went out with him socially."

At one point, she was asked if she had ever given Ferreri money. She said "no."

"Yes you did, honey," Mrs. Ferreri shouted, jumping up.

Then Mrs. Burge said she had "loaned" Ferreri $250.

She said Ferreri had nothing to drink the night he was killed, adding "I was in a position to know."

"Will you please explain what you mean by that?"

"Well, when he arrived, I walked up to him and gave him a kiss."

Miss Smock said she met Ferreri through a friend 14 or 15 months ago, had known for about a year that he was married.

"How frequently did you see Mr. Ferreri?" she was asked.

"Every day and every night."

Indonesian Red Leader Reported Slain By Government Patrol Fire

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Moscow-trained Indonesian Communist leader Musso was reported today to have been killed in a skirmish with Indonesian Republican forces.

Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said Musso was slain yesterday near Madioen where he launched an unsuccessful uprising against the Republic September 18.

Musso disappeared after the revolt was crushed. The main forces of the insurgents fled to the hills and unconfirmed reports kept cropping up that Musso and his comrade in revolt, former Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin, had fled the country.

A correspondent of Antara reported October 18 that Sjarifoeddin had been slain by fellow-Communists. There was no confirmation, however, from other sources.

Today's Antara report quoted the regency information service in the Madioen area as saying an insurgent "recognized as Musso" was killed yesterday morning in the village of Soemanding, south of Madioen. Madioen, third largest city of the Indonesian Republic, served briefly as the insurgent capital before the revolt was ended.

The report said Musso was shot during an exchange of fire between a government patrol and five "rioters."

Prosperous Poultryman Mysteriously Murdered

BERLIN, Md., Nov. 1 (AP)—Cleve Jones, prosperous Eastern Shore poultry farmer, was shot and killed today on a lonely dirt road near his Worcester County home.

His son-in-law told police Jones was shot in the head after they stopped their light truck to pick up a pistol and a tire wrench lying on the road.

The son-in-law, Edward Early, said that the unknown assailant may have shot from ambush.

He gave this account of the shooting at an inquest held by Dr. N. E. Sartorious, assistant state medical examiner for Worcester County:

Early and Jones were driving along the dirt road off the Stephen Decauter Highway shortly after 1 p. m. in search of wood chips for the chicken farm.

The 60-year-old Jones slumped over.

Early scrambled out of the truck and ran nearly a mile through the woods to a farmer's house.

The farm owner and his wife drove Early back to the shooting scene. They arrived as a blue sedan drove away. The pistol and lug wrench were no longer in the truck.

They put Jones in the automobile and drove him to the office of Dr. Herman A. Robbins here.

Dr. Robbins said that Jones was alive but unconscious when he arrived. He died a few minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Reds Balk Probe Of Ross Slaying

VIENNA, Nov. 1. (AP) — United States authorities said today the Russians have refused two American requests to interview the woman companion of Irving Ross, slain American official.

The Woman is Dana Superina, 42, who also was brutally beaten after Ross was bludgeoned and bayonetted to death in the Soviet zone of Vienna early Sunday.

She blamed four Soviet soldiers for the crime, but American officials still are seeking details. They said they could make little progress until the Russians let them see her.

Ross, 38, was an official here in the Economic Co-operation Administration (ECA). He was from East Hardwick, Vt. His wife and three children were planning to leave this week to join him in Vienna.

Pair Sentenced In Newsboy's Robbery

Two Locust Grove youths who admitted throwing a neighborhood newsboy to the ground Friday night and taking $3 from him, yesterday were sentenced to indefinite periods in Maryland's Training School for Boys in Juvenile Court.

The pair was arrested a short time after the incident by Trooper William Baker, Maryland State Police, who said the youths confessed to taking the money from Milton Sarver, 11. Sarver told police the two older boys jumped him as he was returning home with a friend.

Leap From Tree After Plane Crash Kills Pilot

BAKER, Ore., Nov. 1—(AP)—A plane cruising for elk herds crashed and fatally injured the pilot—but it wasn't the crash that caused his death. It was the jump to the ground.

Leon Bendixen, 38, Halfway, Ore., lay in a hospital with both legs broken and a broken arm today, and told how he and Pilot Arnold Ludiker waited helpless in the snow nearly 24 hours after a freak accident.

Then the plane burst into flame, forcing them to jump. The leap broke Bendixen's legs and arms. Ludiker suffered internal injuries.

They lay in the snow until an elk hunter heard them call out Sunday afternoon. He summoned help, but Ludiker died as he was being carried to the nearest town.

Child Burned By Match Lighted In Gasoline Can

Lighting a match in a gasoline can resulted in facial burns for seven-year-old Fred Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cessna, 890 Sperry Terrace. The child was admitted to Memorial Hospital at about 6 p. m. last night and is reported in good condition.

Landslide Buries 25

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 1 (AP)—Workers dug with bulldozers, shovels and bare hands today in an attempt to reach possibly 25 persons buried in a landslide at Posillipo, near Naples.

munists themselves claimed also to have cut the road-wide escape corridor south to the port of Yingkow, 115 miles distant.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — China's hard-pressed Nationalist government drew $5,000,000 from the United States Treasury today to pay for American arms. But this was only a drop in the bucket considering the magnitude of the reverses suffered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The State Department, in announcing the $5,000,000 draft, disclosed the Chiang's government is scraping the bottom of the existing China aid fund. The $5,000,000 withdrawal left only about $15,000,000 of the $125,000,000 voted by Congress for the purpose in June.

Chinese and American officials declined to say whether there has been any actual speedup of arms shipments from the United States as a result of the Nationalist collapse at Mukden.

Several Nationalist divisions equipped in part with American arms were reported smashed in the Manchurian fighting, and it was feared that these arms were largely lost.

Huge Naval Force Will Test Strength In Arctic

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A huge naval task force is churning north to test its postwar strength in the frigid waters of the Arctic.

A hundred ships manned by 36,000 men, 543 aircraft and 17 submarines will engage in mock battle to attempt to answer a few questions about the possible course of naval warfare in the future.

Cut to waylay and "destroy" this fleet are the 17 subs, commanded by Rear Adm. James Fife, Jr. This undersea force will test its latest anti-detection devices against the Navy's newest, secret anti-submarine methods.

On those last words from the chief contenders, upwards of 50,000,000 members of a mighty electorate march to polling places today to choose between the hard fighting Truman and the confident Dewey.

To the winner they are entrusting eager hopes for four years of good times at home and peace in a fearful world.

At stake too, are control of the Senate and key governorships that may guide political trends for 1950 and 1952.

The heavy political cannonading died away on election eve to a few stray shots. All the candidates got in last minute speeches, more with the idea of spurring their followers to get out and vote than in hopes of making any last minute converts.

For President Truman, the Democratic nominee, the campaign was a "crusade" for four more years in his own right to the chair in the White House he took over from the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

For Dewey, Republican challenger and a front-runner in most pre-election forecasts, it was an attempt to end a 16-year Democratic regime. And it was an attempt at a comeback for the GOP's loser in 1944—the first time the Republicans have tried again with a defeated candidate.

Each, in advance, proclaimed himself the winner.

Mr. Truman spent yesterday seeing old friends at his Independence, Mo., home and attending Masonic and Shrine ceremonies in Kansas City.

He arranged to vote in the Memorial Hall at Independence this morning (11 a. m. EST), go to bed early and wait until tomorrow for the election verdict. But there was no reason he couldn't have a radio beside the bed and a telephone handy.

Dewey drove from his Pawling, N. Y., farm to New York City yesterday. He votes in Manhattan because he keeps his legal residence there in the Roosevelt Hotel. And it is there the New York Governor will keep tab on the returns.

Political omens pointed toward a record total of more than 51,000,000 votes, if the weatherman co-operated.

Reds Balk Probe Of Ross Slaying

VIENNA, Nov. 1. (AP) — United States authorities said today the Russians have refused two American requests to interview the woman companion of Irving Ross, slain American official.

The Woman is Dana Superina, 42, who also was brutally beaten after Ross was bludgeoned and bayonetted to death in the Soviet zone of Vienna early Sunday.

She blamed four Soviet soldiers for the crime, but American officials still are seeking details. They said they could make little progress until the Russians let them see her.

Ross, 38, was an official here in the Economic Co-operation Administration (ECA). He was from East Hardwick, Vt. His wife and three children were planning to leave this week to join him in Vienna.

Pair Sentenced In Newsboy's Robbery

Two Locust Grove youths who admitted throwing a neighborhood newsboy to the ground Friday night and taking $3 from him, yesterday were sentenced to indefinite periods in Maryland's Training School for Boys in Juvenile Court.

The pair was arrested a short time after the incident by Trooper William Baker, Maryland State Police, who said the youths confessed to taking the money from Milton Sarver, 11. Sarver told police the two older boys jumped him as he was returning home with a friend.

Leap From Tree After Plane Crash Kills Pilot

BAKER, Ore., Nov. 1—(AP)—A plane cruising for elk herds crashed and fatally injured the pilot—but it wasn't the crash that caused his death. It was the jump to the ground.

Leon Bendixen, 38, Halfway, Ore., lay in a hospital with both legs broken and a broken arm today, and told how he and Pilot Arnold Ludiker waited helpless in the snow nearly 24 hours after a freak accident.

Then the plane burst into flame, forcing them to jump. The leap broke Bendixen's legs and arms. Ludiker suffered internal injuries.

They lay in the snow until an elk hunter heard them call out Sunday afternoon. He summoned help, but Ludiker died as he was being carried to the nearest town.

Child Burned By Match Lighted In Gasoline Can

Lighting a match in a gasoline can resulted in facial burns for seven-year-old Fred Joy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cessna, 890 Sperry Terrace. The child was admitted to Memorial Hospital at about 6 p. m. last night and is reported in good condition.

Landslide Buries 25

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 1 (AP)—Workers dug with bulldozers, shovels and bare hands today in an attempt to reach possibly 25 persons buried in a landslide at Posillipo, near Naples.

The landslide hit a house where a family and friends had assembled at the bier of the mother.

Ex-Rep. Hadley Dies

WALLINGFORD, Conn., Nov. 1 (AP)—Lindley Hoag Hadley, 87, Republican representative from the State of Washington for 18 years, died tonight.

From 1914 until his retirement in 1932, Hadley served in the House of Representatives. He served from Bellingham, Wash., a community whose charter he helped draft.

munists themselves claimed also to have cut the road-wide escape corridor south to the port of Yingkow, 115 miles distant.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — China's hard-pressed Nationalist government drew $5,000,000 from the United States Treasury today to pay for American arms. But this was only a drop in the bucket considering the magnitude of the reverses suffered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The State Department, in announcing the $5,000,000 draft, disclosed the Chiang's government is scraping the bottom of the existing China aid fund. The $5,000,000 withdrawal left only about $15,000,000 of the $125,000,000 voted by Congress for the purpose in June.

Chinese and American officials declined to say whether there has been any actual speedup of arms shipments from the United States as a result of the Nationalist collapse at Mukden.

Several Nationalist divisions equipped in part with American arms were reported smashed in the Manchurian fighting, and it was feared that these arms were largely lost.

Huge Naval Force Will Test Strength In Arctic

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A huge naval task force is churning north to test its postwar strength in the frigid waters of the Arctic.

A hundred ships manned by 36,000 men, 543 aircraft and 17 submarines will engage in mock battle to attempt to answer a few questions about the possible course of naval warfare in the future.

Cut to waylay and "destroy" this fleet are the 17 subs, commanded by Rear Adm. James Fife, Jr. This undersea force will test its latest anti-detection devices against the Navy's newest, secret anti-submarine methods.

Kentucky: Sen. John Sherman Cooper, elected at a special election in 1946 to fill an unexpired term, is opposed by Rep. Virgil Chapman.

Minnesota: Sen. Joseph H. Ball, first appointed in 1940 and now running for a second full term, is opposed by Mayor Hubert Humphrey, of Minneapolis. Humphrey has both the Democratic and Farmer-Labor nominations.

Oklahoma: Sen. E. H. Moore is retiring. His seat is being sought by Rep. Ross Rizley, Republican, and former Gov. Robert S. Kerr.

West Virginia: Sen. Chapman Revercomb is opposed by former Senator and Governor Matthew M. Neely. Revercomb defeated Neely six years ago when he first came to the Senate.

Wyoming: Sen. Edward V. Robertson is opposed by Gov. Lester C. Hunt in a race complicated by the fact that a Hunt victory would turn the state administration over to a Republican lieutenant governor.

A Vote For Voting Machines Is A Vote To Reduce Taxes

Having had their reasons for opposing voting machines for Allegany county bared as deceiving, silly and baseless, a handful of oppositionists, which includes politically spineless members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, have resorted to eleventh hour attempts to further becloud the true facts. It is the last futile hope of bringing about the defeat of the referendum authorizing the purchase and financing of machines, and thereby deny to taxpayers another means of eventually reducing costs of county government.

It is a well known fact that at least one County Commissioner voted for a resolution last Friday opposing the referendum although he had made known to many that he is of the opinion that the acquisition of the machines would be beneficial to everybody. In the face of this, it is only reasonable to assume that he voted for the resolution, introduced by Commissioner Wilkinson, because he lacked the courgae to take a public stand for voting machines which he knows will mean so much in the way of savings for taxpayers he is supposed to represent, and which he, himself, believes a good thing.

As pointed out in a story published by the New York Times two days ago, voting machines, wherever used, have been shown to be not only economical but practical, which tests indicate the cost of voting has been reduced from 30 cents per ballot to 15 cents per ballot. That represents much more in minimum savings than advocates of voting machines for Allegany county calculated. To vote against the referendums is just the same as taking more money from the pocketbooks of every man and woman who must furnish the bulk of tax money with which to conduct the county government.

It should be recalled that it required a court ruling to bring an end to the practice by the County Commissioners of exempting from taxation machinery and tools of industries. That judicial decision saved the taxpayers money by making available taxes from sources that were long excused from paying. The same board of County Commissioners is now opposing voting machines when the installation of them would further ease the drain on taxpayers. To oppose anything that has been proved so practical and economical as have such machines is doing a disservice to every taxpayer and does not bespeak of good judgement on the part of those who are expected to govern in the best interest of all the people.

This newspaper has had the interest of the taxpayers at heart in carrying on this fight for voting machines. It has now gone as far as the polling booth with those taxpayers. It seems an almost certainity that they do not intend to be misled and will see to it that they are not deprived of the savings voting machines will make possible. But the only way to be sure of this is to put your crossmark today in the box FOR THE REFERRED LAW when you pull that little green curtain behind you and you are permitted to vote your conscience quitely and privately.

Austin Slights Very Ones From Whom He Asks Support

There were those in Maryland who resorted to the Truman pattern of appealing to certain groups while ignoring the welfare of all the people. For instance, F. Byrne Austin, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, has made a vigorous effort to gain the solid support of labor in the five Western Maryland counties. He did this by endeavoring to make workers believe that he alone was their best friend and that he alone could champion their cause.

He almost got away with it. He was well satisfied in his own mind that he had been able to keep the wool pulled over the eyes of labor during the entire campaign—and he had been until it was disclosed that he has not been practicing what he has been promising and preaching the past weeks.

It has been discovered that he has had much, if not all, of his printing of campaign literature, posters and cards done outside, not only the District he would represent in Congress, but outside the State, and by a non-union printing concern which is not permitted to put the union label on the printing it did for him, but which he has been distributing throughout Allegany county and the entire Sixth District. This literature urged voters, and especially organized labor, to support his candidacy while he failed to support the industry in which union printers are interested. There were plenty of union printing shops in Allegany county, and elsewhere in his congressional district, so there can be no excuse for sending this work away from home.

Mr. Austin, to be sure, is trying to explain all this away by passing the buck to others, and blaming everybody but himself. But had it not been brought to the attention of the people he, certainly, would not have volunteered the information. He says he tried to have the job held up when he learned a union label could not be put on the printing, but that it had already been started and that the printing company could not stop. Didn't it occur to him that he could have cancelled the whole thing and gone elsewhere—to a union shop? That is too thin an explanation—so thin, in fact, that a blind man can see through it.

But his indifference as to whether he patronized a union or non-union shop has been learned just in the nick of time. It gives labor a chance to ponder and wonder over what it might be getting itself into by supporting a man who, apparently, gives little thought to the interests of organized labor when he is having a job done.

Coronary Trombosis Is An Emergency

Coronary thrombosis is becoming more common. It is caused by occlusion or blocking of one of the two vessels (coronary) which supply the heart muscle with blood. As a result, a small section of the wall of the pumping apparatus dies from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Van Dellen

An obstruction of this nature rarely forms in a normal coronary artery. But if the wall of the vessel is thickened because of arteriosclerosis, and the circulation is sluggish, at the opportune time a clot can develop. This means that the condition rarely appears before the fiftieth birthday, when hardening of the arteries is more pronounced. Yet, younger individuals are not immuns and army and navy records contained many histories of men in their twenties and thirties who encountered the malady. But even here, some evidence of arteriosclerosis could be found.

The seizure comes usually without warning. The sufferer feels a sense of pressure or constricting pain beneath the breastbone or over the area roughly covered by the necktie; now and then it extends into the neck and down the arm. The left side ordinarily is involved but aching occasionally is present on both sides. The experience is unique and the majority describe the discomfort as different from anything they ever had endured. Many make a self-diagnosis of "indigestion," which it resembles. As pain increases in severity, the victim breaks out into a cold sweat, the skin turns ashen, the shock ensues with the pulse becoming weaker and the blood pressure falling. Many believe that the end is not far away; consequently, they become frieghtened, anxious, and apprehensive.

The bouts are not always so spectacular. A 67 year old man, for example, phoned his physician because of "mild indigestion." By the time the medico arrived, pain had disappeared by the patient was still drenched with perspiration and his skin ashy-gray in color. Otherwise he felt fine. The physician, however, was suspicious that more than a digestive upset was responsible. Moreover, he realized that the man must have been alarmed or he never would have called him so quickly. At the hospital, an electrocardiogram showed evidence that coronary thrombosis was to blame. There is no telling what might have happened had the sufferer disregarded the symptom or the physician failed to pursue the clews.

Coronary thrombosis is serious and must be treated as a medical emergency. Bed rest is imperative and oxygen may be administered to lessen the load on the heart. Morphine, atropine, or papaverine ease pain and a drug like aminophylline helps to keep the arteries open. Heparin and discoumarin frequently are utilized to prevent the blood from clotting so that the obstruction does not become more extensive.

Once the patient is comfortable, it is wise to remain in bed for four to six weeks. During this period, the damaged cardiac muscle heals and several electro-cardiograms are taken to determine progress. Afterward, activity is resumed gradually. Retirement is not necessary but those wth occupations entailing considerable responsibility and pressure should make suitable adjustments. The rules of health must be followed to the letter and undue anxiety and apprehension kept under control.

Burns or irritation may be responsible. Other posibilities include canker sores, shingles, and cysts. The latter lesions look like blisters and vary in size from a millet seed to a pea. They contain clear fluid and, as a rule, are harmless.

You're stepping on my ballot.

Yes, sir, that's the way it'll be today when the biggest turnout of voters in history is expected to go to the polls. They're looking forward to 50 million hitting the ballot boxes.

Yes, this year there are more voters than ever before. Of course, it's only natural. There are more candidates than ever before.

The major parties will be driving the voters to the booths in every conveyance possible—trucks, milk wagons and horses and buggys. I heard that one party even requisitioned the whole kiddy car department at the May Company.

I know of one group of guys who are very happy they're entitled to vote, they found out what booth Hedy Lamar's using.

I'm very excited because when those crowds start lining up today, I'll be right in the middle of them, and I don't care how much I get trampled because that's my duty.

I've got the lemonade concession for precinct number three.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman No Warmonger; Military Group Last Spring Advocated Using A-Bomb Shortly Before Election To End Russian Tension; Idea Blocked

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Here is the inside story of some military political strategy which—so far as I know—has never been told, and, fortunately, did not take place.

Last spring a little group of military men discussed the idea of taking advantage of Russian tension a couple of weeks before Election Day in such a way as to justify dropping the atomic bomb. Such a crisis, they argued, would serve two purposes: 1) get inevitable war over with in a hurry, and 2) re-elect President Truman.

Whether they ever put this up to Truman or exactly who blocked the idea, I do not know. I do know that it was seriously discussed, and justified on the ground that the longer we delayed a Russian showdown, the more likelihood that Russia would get the atomic bomb, after which a war would be disastrously long and fatal.

However, the most important part of the story is that not only did this idea not bear fruit, but that President Truman has been at odds even with his more moderate advisers about dropping the atomic bomb.

Truman's Distress

The teletyped message which the President sent to Secretary of State Marshall in Paris regarding the proposed Vinson mission to Moscow gave interesting insight into this.

"I pray," Truman told his Secretary of State, "I may never again be confronted with the decision I had to make regarding Hiroshima."

When further arguing with Marshall over the Vinson mission, Truman also showed great mental distress that he should ever have to unleash the atomic bomb again. Marshall, himself a religious man, was impressed with Truman's Bible-trained conscience. The President seemed to be conjuring up a scene after death in which he, Truman, was being questioned by St. Peter at the gates of Heaven regarding the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

The diplomatic advisers around Marshall and perhaps Secretary Marshall himself regarded this Truman "sentimentalism" as dangerous for reasons which may be difficult for the non-diplomat to understand.

For the diplomats' chief bargaining power at Paris and Berlin has been the idea that we might drop an atomic bomb. Thus, if the idea permeated back to Moscow that Truman would not drop the bomb, and that he placed his reliance rather on the arguments and Kentucky philosophy of his good friend, Chief Justice Vinson, the diplomats' chief bargaining weapon would be destroyed.

It may seem involved, and it may seem cold-blooded, but this was one of the background reasons for Marshall's final veto of the Vinson mission. It was not that he wanted to drop the A-bomb, but rather that he wanted the Russians to think we might drop it.

So, no matter what his shortcomings as a statesman, history will probably conclude that Harry Truman was no warmonger but a humble though confused believer in the brotherhood of man.

Supporters And Deserters

Now that the election tumult is about over, this column would like to draw a comparison between the political behavior of four people once extremely close to Franklin Roosevelt. They are Eleanor Roosevelt, Harold Ickes, Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace.

Winston Churchill used to say that it was only when the dark came down that the stars shone. And as the twilight settles on the great period of American history that was the Roosevelt Administration, it is significant to note who stands up to go down with the ship, and who scurries off to take their revenge or to curry favor with the Deweyites.

No two men ever received more benefits from Franklin Roosevelt than Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace.

Wallace was an obscure farm writer and seed grower in Iowa editing a farm journal which teetered on the verge of bankruptcy, when Roosevelt picked him up and put him in his Cabinet. Eight years later, a large segment of the Democratic Party winced and some openly rebelled when Roosevelt insisted that Wallace be his Vice-Presidential running-mate.

Jesse Jones also was desperately out on the financial limb when he became the Democratic member of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Suddenly, after pounding the pavements of Wall Street trying to borrow money to bail out his precarious enterprises, Jesse became the great Government moneylender. The financial powers had to come to him, not he to them.

Under Roosevelt he became the financial czar of America with the power to put his friends in command of airlines, railroads, insurance companies, utilities. No one ever accused Jesse of making loans to his own enterprises, but he accumulated enormous obligations of gratitude by his capacity to make loans to others.

And cold-blooded Jesse was not the kind of man who did not keep double-entry books of obligation in his own mind as he dispensed the billions that a Democratic administration gave him.

Principle In Defeat

It is a queer quirk of fate that it was Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace who rowed so continually that FDR had to crack their heads together. Eventually he eased Wallace out of the Vice Presidency and fired Jesse Jones, fired him because he suspected what has now been proved a fact—namely, that Jesse was quietly building up a Republican bloc in Texas.

Today, Jesse Jones, in his seventies, considered a cold-blooded opportunist by most of the people of Texas, has come out openly for the Republican Party. Today, his old advesary, Henry Wallace, is conspiring with the Commies to bring about the demise of those who made him.

And today, Harold Ickes, also in his seventies, has been riding the rails to Montana, making speeches, using up his strength to fight for a principle and a party he believes in, even though he knows it will be defeated.

to oppose Truman's renomination at Philadelphia than Harold Ickes, and, behind the scenes, so also did Mrs. Roosevelt. But once the decision was made, both decided to stay on the ship that had served them in victory and go down with it in defeat.

As Winston Churchill said, it is when the dark comes down that the stars shine.

Election Today To Conform To The Pattern Of History

By MARK SULLIVAN

The most deep-reaching aspect of this election is its conformity to the pattern of history. In that light, the most appropriate comment this writer can contribute is to repeat something published by him in newspapers of October 15, 1946. It dealt with national elections as turning-points in alternating tides of political thought—and thus applies with special force to the election this week. (Interpretation of elections on this basis was called to the present writer's attention by the late Carl Snyder, a student of the relation of mass-thought to political and economic tides.)

Herewith the theory and the proof of it:

"In countries with the two-party system, such as the United States and England, the alternations in power compose a cycle of two stages.

"First, the conservative one of the parties is in power. In England this is called by the name 'Conservative', in America it is the Republicans. Conservatives, by their bent of mind, have two traits. As a rule they are good administrators, they manage the going affairs of a country well. But they are static, an epithet for them is 'stand-pat'; they resist change.

Need For Change Arises

"In the course of nature, during a period of conservatives in power, need for change arises. Presently the accumulated and dammed-back need for change becomes so great that it explodes. The conservative party is thrown out and the opposition—call it liberal or radical or a combination of both—takes control. In England at present the official name of the party is the Labor Party; in America, under the present lineup, it is the Democrats.

"Ascent of the liberals into power is the second stage of the cycle. These, like the conservatives, have special traits of mind. They are eager for change and reform. They are also exuberant and headlong. This leads them, when they get power, to introduce not only the reforms that are overdue, but others besides. They attempt changes for which the people are not ready, and this contains the seed of their later downfall. Also, liberals as a rule are not good administrators. They get bogged down in the mass of reforms they attempt, some of them impracticable. Their bad management becomes another seed of downfall. The people get disgusted, throw them out, and return the conservatives to power. This is the second stage of the cycle."

That is the pattern. To it, the election this week conforms with extraordinary fidelity. To a degree almost startling, detail after detail corresponds.

The party that includes liberals and radicals, the Democrats, has been in power for four Presidential terms. They enacted reforms that were overdue, such as social security, collective bargaining by labor, regulation of the sale of securities. Then, with the characteristic liberal-radical trait of mind, adventuring far into change, they attempted measures the people did not want, the most conspicuous example was the attempt to change the Supreme Court. By the same trait of mind, some of the called-for reforms, as enacted, went beyond what was workable, the labor law had to modified. By another liberal-radical trait, lack of administrative talent and teamwork, many of the reforms and the executive branch of the government as a whole were poorly administered; that is now a princpal count in the indictment against President Truman.

Today May Be Turning Point

This broad condition, the state of the government at the end of four Presidential terms of liberal-radical control, is the principal cause for the expectation that this week's election will be a turning point in the cycle of alternations in power, that Republican candidate Dewey will be elected, and that we shall enter upon a period of conservative government.

What happens when a conservative regime replaces a liberal-radical one, is not a complete reversal or going back. The conservatives, by their practical bent of mind, keep many of the reforms, make them workable, and administer them competently.

This is borne out by the present campaign. Mr. Dewey has said, repeatedly and in specific detail, that he will keep many of the reforms of the preceding regime. That the reforms, and the office of Chief Executive will be better administered, is inherent in a special qualification and experience Mr. Dewey has. As governor of the largest state, he has made a record of high administrative ability. Probably this accounts for support of him by many voters. Certainly it fits into the pattern of history, now a blueprint for a period of conservatives in power.

Dewey Will Be Elected; House And Senate Will Be Republican

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Governor Dewey will be elected by a substantial majority in the electoral college. He is assured of a minimum of 266—necessary for election—and his majority will range from 75 to 100 electoral votes.

The House of Representatives will remain Republican by a comfortable majority but the Senate will be organized by the Republicans by the narrowest margin in recent history.

The reason for Dewey's victory is that which has emerged in many presidential elections — the people vote against the man in the White House when things do not go well with the household budget or when there is a feeling that a President is really not equal to the job.

The campaign just closed was wholly a pro-Truman or anti-Truman affair. The question of what Dewey said or did was not the issue. The Republican nominee satisfied the regular Republican voters and Mr. Truman supplied him, in addition, with a substantial number of Democrats and independent voters who simply couldn't bring themselves to vote for the Democratic nominee. This trend against Truman was manifest last summer when so many leaders in his own party tried to persuade him to withdraw. Some other Democratic nominee would have made the race closer and might have won.

Dewey Strong In Urban Areas

The very trend that revolves around the economic well-being of the individual gives Truman a substantial vote in the farm communities, especially in the west because of the high prices for crops. The protest, however, against the cost of living which is usually blamed on the President in office means a high vote for Dewey in the urban communities. Because conditions are not uniform in all sections, Truman will make a better showing on popular vote than on electoral votes. Less than 4,000,000 votes out of 51,000,000 will separate the two contenders.

This is one reason why the Senate race is so close. The Senate at present has 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats. Because only one-third of the Senate plus any vacant seats are up for election every two years and because so many of the seats happen this year to be in the south and west, a few contests can swing the senate either way. Inasmuch as only six seats separate the parties, if the Democrats gain four they would have 49 and the Republicans 47 of the 96 seats.

Reports from the states where 32 seats up for election, and the 33rd seat where there has been a vacancy that has to be filled, show that the pivotal contests are to be found in Montana, Idaho, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado, Iowa, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Out of these the existing Democratic party strength is expected to be maintained in Idaho, Colorado and New Mexico. Inasmuch as Oklahoma is normally Democratic a change from the Republican to the Democratic column is anticipated or a net gain of one for the Democrats.

This narrows the contest to six seats—Kentucky and West Virginia in the area east of the Mississippi river, and Montana, Wyoming, Iowa and Minnesota in the west.

It is an old rule in politics that if the top of the ticket is running strong he carries so many "straight ticket" voters with him that the "split ticket" vote is overcome. Neither candidate for the presidency is running strong enough in three of the western states—Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota—to drag in a senatorial candidate "by the coattails" as the saying goes in politics. In Kentucky, however, Truman could sweep in the Democratic nominee while Dewey could carry in the Republican in West Virginia. It is significant, on the other hand, that in neither Kentucky nor West Virginia is there any conceding being done as the predictions vary with the experts interviewed.

Cooper In Kentucky

It looks, however, as if Senator Cooper, Republican, is strong enough on his own to win in Kentucky and as if Senator Revercomb, Republican, will squeeze through in West Virginia on the "coattail" vote which means the Republicans will retain these two seats.

It looks also as if Senator Murray, Democrat, will lose in Montana which offsets the Democratic gain in Oklahoma.

This leaves Iowa where Senator Wilson, Republican, will be carried in by the Dewey vote and Wyoming, where a similar close squeeze for the Republican incumbent may be expected. In Minnesota the odds favor the Democrat in place of Senator Ball, Republican.

This would make the final tally 50 Republicans and 46 Democrats. Thus the Republicans could still lose in Wyoming or West Virginia and have a 49-to-47 lead but if both states are lost to the Republicans and the "coattail" vote doesn't materialize for the Republicans as expected by many veteran observers it would mean a tie at 48 to 48 and the vote of the vice president, Governor Warren, would swing the Senate into Republican ranks. It seems clear, therefore, that the Senate will be organized as to committee chairmanships and the like by the Republican Party.

A table is given below which is in large part the basis for the above predictions. It is compiled from the results of a questionnaire sent last week to the editors of daily newspapers in the doubtful states. The editors were asked to say irrespective of their own preferences which candidates seemed "sure" of election and toward which candidate each state was "leaning."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Our Friends

When General Feng Yu-Hsiang was in the United States, he was welcomed by many Americans as a wonderful man, a Christian general, a liberal. I, who had known him since 1919, did not believe or trust the man because I knew beyond doubt that as far back as 1925, he was a tool of Soviet Russia.

Well, here is a letter which he sent to General Li Chih-Shen in Hongkong. This letter has been released by the revolutionary committee in Hongkong. It is worth knowing what such a "friend" of America could write about this country which gave him refuge here. Let me quote:

"From my observation, the United States is taking the first step toward fascism. They oppress Negroes whom they can kill at will and with no questions asked. They oppress liberal elements whom they arrest and indict at will. They do not treat Jews, Indians and Chinese as human beings. The big-shot capitalists control 98 per cent of American newspapers and use as their own tools 99 per cent of American magazines and publications.

"We do not see one sentence of truth in these publications. All the pages are full of rumors and lies slandering the farmers and laborers. There was a big flood in ten states and nobody bothered about it. There are at least 20,000,000 people in the United States without housing. For example, New York has a kind of flop houses where a man can sleep for three hours on the floor by paying a quarter. After the three-hour time limit he is thrown out . . .

"There are 30 universities in the United States which are opposed to the policy of aiding Chiang. But there are a few rotten eggs in the Congress who have become foster sons of Chiang Kai-shek. They insist that America must aid Chiang. To aid Chiang is actually to expand the territory of the United States. . .

"Everyday we read in American newspapers reports of sons mudering fathers, daughters murdering mothers, wives murdering husbands. There was a father who shot his wife and three children and then killed himself. There was another story about some people raping a girl student and then shooting her.

"I made a careful count of these reports and found that in average, there are, on each day, at least two cases of murdering fathers, four cases of murdering mothers, eight cases of wives murdering husbands, ten cases of husbands murdering wives, and two cases of suicides by jumping from eight-storied buildings. Such abnormalities in human relations are entirely ignored by the American Congress, government and society, as if they are not aware of such things.

"Also there are at every place boys of 18 or 19 years old killing girls of 18 or 19 years old on streets. If you ask why they kill, the newspaper will tell you that in one case it was because one girl was dancing with another boy and their cheeks happened to be too close to each other. When the two came out from the dancing hall, the boy shot the girl and her dancing partner. There are other countless cases like this.

"In the United States the life of a human being is worthless like that of an ant. Banks are robbed in broad daylight. There are many, many cases of pedestrians being robbed on streets. America is now preparing for the third World War. To my mind, it will be better for her not to fight. If war comes, those who want war will suffer."

This was written on August 12, 1948. It is the America in which you live that he described in this letter. Feng Yu-Hsiang was then on a Russian ship in the Mediterranean on his way to the Marxist shrine in Moscow. He hoped to be set up as the ruler of the new state which the Russians are carving out of Manchuria and North China. But he is reported to have been burned to death on the ship. Some in China doubt that and expect him to show up in Manchuria at the right time. I do not pretend to know what is the truth of his death: The Russians are so secretive.

A Vote For Voting Machines Is A Vote To Reduce Taxes

Having had their reasons for opposing voting machines for Allegany county bared as deceiving, silly and baseless, a handful of oppositionists, which includes politically spineless members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, have resorted to eleventh hour attempts to further becloud the true facts. It is the last futile hope of bringing about the defeat of the referendum authorizing the purchase and financing of machines, and thereby deny to taxpayers another means of eventually reducing costs of county government.

It is a well known fact that at least one County Commissioner voted for a resolution last Friday opposing the referendum although he had made known to many that he is of the opinion that the acquisition of the machines would be beneficial to everybody. In the face of this, it is only reasonable to assume that he voted for the resolution, introduced by Commissioner Wilkinson, because he lacked the courgae to take a public stand for voting machines which he knows will mean so much in the way of savings for taxpayers he is supposed to represent, and which he, himself, believes a good thing.

As pointed out in a story published by the New York Times two days ago, voting machines, wherever used, have been shown to be not only economical but practical, which tests indicate the cost of voting has been reduced from 30 cents per ballot to 15 cents per ballot. That represents much more in minimum savings than advocates of voting machines for Allegany county calculated. To vote against the referendums is just the same as taking more money from the pocketbooks of every man and woman who must furnish the bulk of tax money with which to conduct the county government.

It should be recalled that it required a court ruling to bring an end to the practice by the County Commissioners of exempting from taxation machinery and tools of industries. That judicial decision saved the taxpayers money by making available taxes from sources that were long excused from paying. The same board of County Commissioners is now opposing voting machines when the installation of them would further ease the drain on taxpayers. To oppose anything that has been proved so practical and economical as have such machines is doing a disservice to every taxpayer and does not bespeak of good judgement on the part of those who are expected to govern in the best interest of all the people.

This newspaper has had the interest of the taxpayers at heart in carrying on this fight for voting machines. It has now gone as far as the polling booth with those taxpayers. It seems an almost certainity that they do not intend to be misled and will see to it that they are not deprived of the savings voting machines will make possible. But the only way to be sure of this is to put your crossmark today in the box FOR THE REFERRED LAW when you pull that little green curtain behind you and you are permitted to vote your conscience quitely and privately.

Austin Slights Very Ones From Whom He Asks Support

There were those in Maryland who resorted to the Truman pattern of appealing to certain groups while ignoring the welfare of all the people. For instance, F. Byrne Austin, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, has made a vigorous effort to gain the solid support of labor in the five Western Maryland counties. He did this by endeavoring to make workers believe that he alone was their best friend and that he alone could champion their cause.

He almost got away with it. He was well satisfied in his own mind that he had been able to keep the wool pulled over the eyes of labor during the entire campaign—and he had been until it was disclosed that he has not been practicing what he has been promising and preaching the past weeks.

It has been discovered that he has had much, if not all, of his printing of campaign literature, posters and cards done outside, not only the District he would represent in Congress, but outside the State, and by a non-union printing concern which is not permitted to put the union label on the printing it did for him, but which he has been distributing throughout Allegany county and the entire Sixth District. This literature urged voters, and especially organized labor, to support his candidacy while he failed to support the industry in which union printers are interested. There were plenty of union printing shops in Allegany county, and elsewhere in his congressional district, so there can be no excuse for sending this work away from home.

Mr. Austin, to be sure, is trying to explain all this away by passing the buck to others, and blaming everybody but himself. But had it not been brought to the attention of the people he, certainly, would not have volunteered the information. He says he tried to have the job held up when he learned a union label could not be put on the printing, but that it had already been started and that the printing company could not stop. Didn't it occur to him that he could have cancelled the whole thing and gone elsewhere—to a union shop? That is too thin an explanation—so thin, in fact, that a blind man can see through it.

But his indifference as to whether he patronized a union or non-union shop has been learned just in the nick of time. It gives labor a chance to ponder and wonder over what it might be getting itself into by supporting a man who, apparently, gives little thought to the interests of organized labor when he is having a job done.

The seizure comes usually without warning. The sufferer feels a sense of pressure or constricting pain beneath the breastbone or over the area roughly covered by the necktie; now and then it extends into the neck and down the arm. The left side ordinarily is involved but aching occasionally is present on both sides. The experience is unique and the majority describe the discomfort as different from anything they ever had endured. Many make a self-diagnosis of "indigestion," which it resembles. As pain increases in severity, the victim breaks out into a cold sweat, the skin turns ashen, the shock ensues with the pulse becoming weaker and the blood pressure falling. Many believe that the end is not far away; consequently, they become frieghtened, anxious, and apprehensive.

The bouts are not always so spectacular. A 67 year old man, for example, phoned his physician because of "mild indigestion." By the time the medico arrived, pain had disappeared by the patient was still drenched with perspiration and his skin ashy-gray in color. Otherwise he felt fine. The physician, however, was suspicious that more than a digestive upset was responsible. Moreover, he realized that the man must have been alarmed or he never would have called him so quickly. At the hospital, an electrocardiogram showed evidence that coronary thrombosis was to blame. There is no telling what might have happened had the sufferer disregarded the symptom or the physician failed to pursue the clews.

Coronary thrombosis is serious and must be treated as a medical emergency. Bed rest is imperative and oxygen may be administered to lessen the load on the heart. Morphine, atropine, or papaverine ease pain and a drug like aminophylline helps to keep the arteries open. Heparin and discoumarin frequently are utilized to prevent the blood from clotting so that the obstruction does not become more extensive.

Once the patient is comfortable, it is wise to remain in bed for four to six weeks. During this period, the damaged cardiac muscle heals and several electro-cardiograms are taken to determine progress. Afterward, activity is resumed gradually. Retirement is not necessary but those wth occupations entailing considerable responsibility and pressure should make suitable adjustments. The rules of health must be followed to the letter and undue anxiety and apprehension kept under control.

VEIN DISORDERS

G. H. S. writes: After being cured, is a person ever troubled with a second attack of phlebitis?

Reply

Return engagements can be anticipated in a certain percentage but the majority are rarely bothered a second time. Much depends upon the cause and how well the condition is treated.

TONGUE LESIONS

V. C. writes: What causes blisters on the tongue?

Reply

Burns or irritation may be responsible. Other posibilities include canker sores, shingles, and cysts. The latter lesions look like blisters and vary in size from a millet seed to a pea. They contain clear fluid and, as a rule, are harmless.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

You're stepping on my ballot.

Yes, sir, that's the way it'll be today when the biggest turnout of voters in history is expected to go to the polls. They're looking forward to 50 million hitting the ballot boxes.

Yes, this year there are more voters than ever before. Of course, it's only natural. There are more candidates than ever before.

The major parties will be driving the voters to the booths in every conveyance possible—trucks, milk wagons and horses and buggys. I heard that one party even requisitioned the whole kiddy car department at the May Company.

I know of one group of guys who are very happy they're entitled to vote, they found out what booth Hedy Lamar's using.

I'm very excited because when those crowds start lining up today, I'll be right in the middle of them, and I don't care how much I get trampled because that's my duty.

I've got the lemonade concession for precinct number three.

Truman No Warmonger; Military Group Last Spring Advocated Using A-Bomb Shortly Before Election To End Russian Tension; Idea Blocked

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Here is the inside story of some military political strategy which—so far as I know—has never been told, and, fortunately, did not take place.

Last spring a little group of military men discussed the idea of taking advantage of Russian tension a couple of weeks before Election Day in such a way as to justify dropping the atomic bomb. Such a crisis, they argued, would serve two purposes: 1) get inevitable war over with in a hurry, and 2) re-elect President Truman.

Whether they ever put this up to Truman or exactly who blocked the idea, I do not know. I do know that it was seriously discussed, and justified on the ground that the longer we delayed a Russian showdown, the more likelihood that Russia would get the atomic bomb, after which a war would be disastrously long and fatal.

However, the most important part of the story is that not only did this idea not bear fruit, but that President Truman has been at odds even with his more moderate advisers about dropping the atomic bomb.

Truman's Distress

The teletyped message which the President sent to Secretary of State Marshall in Paris regarding the proposed Vinson mission to Moscow gave interesting insight into this.

"I pray," Truman told his Secretary of State, "I may never again be confronted with the decision I had to make regarding Hiroshima."

When further arguing with Marshall over the Vinson mission, Truman also showed great mental distress that he should ever have to unleash the atomic bomb again. Marshall, himself a religious man, was impressed with Truman's Bible-trained conscience. The President seemed to be conjuring up a scene after death in which he, Truman, was being questioned by St. Peter at the gates of Heaven regarding the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

The diplomatic advisers around Marshall and perhaps Secretary Marshall himself regarded this Truman "sentimentalism" as dangerous for reasons which may be difficult for the non-diplomat to understand.

For the diplomats' chief bargaining power at Paris and Berlin has been the idea that we might drop an atomic bomb. Thus, if the idea permeated back to Moscow that Truman would not drop the bomb, and that he placed his reliance rather on the arguments and Kentucky philosophy of his good friend, Chief Justice Vinson, the diplomats' chief bargaining weapon would be destroyed.

It may seem involved, and it may seem cold-blooded, but this was one of the background reasons for Marshall's final veto of the Vinson mission. It was not that he wanted to drop the A-bomb, but rather that he wanted the Russians to think we might drop it.

So, no matter what his shortcomings as a statesman, history will probably conclude that Harry Truman was no warmonger but a humble though confused believer in the brotherhood of man.

Supporters And Deserters

Now that the election tumult is about over, this column would like to draw a comparison between the political behavior of four people once extremely close to Franklin Roosevelt. They are Eleanor Roosevelt, Harold Ickes, Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace.

Winston Churchill used to say that it was only when the dark came down that the stars shone. And as the twilight settles on the great period of American history that was the Roosevelt Administration, it is significant to note who stands up to go down with the ship, and who scurries off to take their revenge or to curry favor with the Deweyites.

No two men ever received more benefits from Franklin Roosevelt than Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace.

Wallace was an obscure farm writer and seed grower in Iowa editing a farm journal which teetered on the verge of bankruptcy, when Roosevelt picked him up and put him in his Cabinet. Eight years later, a large segment of the Democratic Party winced and some openly rebelled when Roosevelt insisted that Wallace be his Vice-Presidential running-mate.

Jesse Jones also was desperately out on the financial limb when he became the Democratic member of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Suddenly, after pounding the pavements of Wall Street trying to borrow money to bail out his precarious enterprises, Jesse became the great Government moneylender. The financial powers had to come to him, not he to them.

Under Roosevelt he became the financial czar of America with the power to put his friends in command of airlines, railroads, insurance companies, utilities. No one ever accused Jesse of making loans to his own enterprises, but he accumulated enormous obligations of gratitude by his capacity to make loans to others.

And cold-blooded Jesse was not the kind of man who did not keep double-entry books of obligation in his own mind as he dispensed the billions that a Democratic administration gave him.

Principle In Defeat

It is a queer quirk of fate that it was Jesse Jones and Henry Wallace who rowed so continually that FDR had to crack their heads together. Eventually he eased Wallace out of the Vice Presidency and fired Jesse Jones, fired him because he suspected what has now been proved a fact—namely, that Jesse was quietly building up a Republican bloc in Texas.

Today, Jesse Jones, in his seventies, considered a cold-blooded opportunist by most of the people of Texas, has come out openly for the Republican Party. Today, his old advesary, Henry Wallace, is conspiring with the Commies to bring about the demise of those who made him.

And today, Harold Ickes, also in his seventies, has been riding the rails to Montana, making speeches, using up his strength to fight for a principle and a party he believes in, even though he knows it will be defeated.

to oppose Truman's renomination at Philadelphia than Harold Ickes, and, behind the scenes, so also did Mrs. Roosevelt. But once the decision was made, both decided to stay on the ship that had served them in victory and go down with it in defeat.

As Winston Churchill said, it is when the dark comes down that the stars shine.

Election Today To Conform To The Pattern Of History

By MARK SULLIVAN

The most deep-reaching aspect of this election is its conformity to the pattern of history. In that light, the most appropriate comment this writer can contribute is to repeat something published by him in newspapers of October 15, 1946. It dealt with national elections as turning-points in alternating tides of political thought—and thus applies with special force to the election this week. (Interpretation of elections on this basis was called to the present writer's attention by the late Carl Snyder, a student of the relation of mass-thought to political and economic tides.)

Herewith the theory and the proof of it:

"In countries with the two-party system, such as the United States and England, the alternations in power compose a cycle of two stages.

"First, the conservative one of the parties is in power. In England this is called by the name 'Conservative', in America it is the Republicans. Conservatives, by their bent of mind, have two traits. As a rule they are good administrators, they manage the going affairs of a country well. But they are static, an epithet for them is 'stand-pat'; they resist change.

Need For Change Arises

"In the course of nature, during a period of conservatives in power, need for change arises. Presently the accumulated and dammed-back need for change becomes so great that it explodes. The conservative party is thrown out and the opposition—call it liberal or radical or a combination of both—takes control. In England at present the official name of the party is the Labor Party; in America, under the present lineup, it is the Democrats.

"Ascent of the liberals into power is the second stage of the cycle. These, like the conservatives, have special traits of mind. They are eager for change and reform. They are also exuberant and headlong. This leads them, when they get power, to introduce not only the reforms that are overdue, but others besides. They attempt changes for which the people are not ready, and this contains the seed of their later downfall. Also, liberals as a rule are not good administrators. They get bogged down in the mass of reforms they attempt, some of them impracticable. Their bad management becomes another seed of downfall. The people get disgusted, throw them out, and return the conservatives to power. This is the second stage of the cycle."

That is the pattern. To it, the election this week conforms with extraordinary fidelity. To a degree almost startling, detail after detail corresponds.

The party that includes liberals and radicals, the Democrats, has been in power for four Presidential terms. They enacted reforms that were overdue, such as social security, collective bargaining by labor, regulation of the sale of securities. Then, with the characteristic liberal-radical trait of mind, adventuring far into change, they attempted measures the people did not want, the most conspicuous example was the attempt to change the Supreme Court. By the same trait of mind, some of the called-for reforms, as enacted, went beyond what was workable, the labor law had to modified. By another liberal-radical trait, lack of administrative talent and teamwork, many of the reforms and the executive branch of the government as a whole were poorly administered; that is now a principal count in the indictment against President Truman.

Today May Be Turning Point

This broad condition, the state of the government at the end of four Presidential terms of liberal-radical control, is the principal cause for the expectation that this week's election will be a turning point in the cycle of alternations in power, that Republican candidate Dewey will be elected, and that we shall enter upon a period of conservative government.

What happens when a conservative regime replaces a liberal-radical one, is not a complete reversal or going back. The conservatives, by their practical bent of mind, keep many of the reforms, make them workable, and administer them competently.

This is borne out by the present campaign. Mr. Dewey has said, repeatedly and in specific detail, that he will keep many of the reforms of the preceding regime. That the reforms, and the office of Chief Executive will be better administered, is inherent in a special qualification and experience Mr. Dewey has. As governor of the largest state, he has made a record of high administrative ability. Probably this accounts for support of him by many voters. Certainly it fits into the pattern of history, now a blueprint for a period of conservatives in power.

Dewey Will Be Elected; House And Senate Will Be Republican

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Governor Dewey will be elected by a substantial majority in the electoral college. He is assured of a minimum of 266—necessary for election—and his majority will range from 75 to 100 electoral votes.

The House of Representatives will remain Republican by a comfortable majority but the Senate will be organized by the Republicans by the narrowest margin in recent history.

The reason for Dewey's victory is that which has emerged in many presidential elections — the people vote against the man in the White House when things do not go well with the household budget or when there is a feeling that a President is really not equal to the job.

The campaign just closed was wholly a pro-Truman or anti-Truman affair. The question of what Dewey said or did was not the issue. The Republican nominee satisfied the regular Republican voters and Mr. Truman supplied him, in addition, with a substantial number of Democrats and independent voters who simply couldn't bring themselves to vote for the Democratic nominee. This trend against Truman was manifest last summer when so many leaders in his own party tried to persuade him to withdraw. Some other Democratic nominee would have made the race closer and might have won.

Dewey Strong In Urban Areas

The very trend that revolves around the economic well-being of the individual gives Truman a substantial vote in the farm communities, especially in the west because of the high prices for crops. The protest, however, against the cost of living which is usually blamed on the President in office means a high vote for Dewey in the urban communities. Because conditions are not uniform in all sections, Truman will make a better showing on popular vote than on electoral votes. Less than 4,000,000 votes out of 51,000,000 will separate the two contenders.

This is one reason why the Senate race is so close. The Senate at present has 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats. Because only one-third of the Senate plus any vacant seats are up for election every two years and because so many of the seats happen this year to be in the south and west, a few contests can swing the senate either way. Inasmuch as only six seats separate the parties, if the Democrats gain four they would have 49 and the Republicans 47 of the 96 seats.

Reports from the states where 32 seats up for election, and the 33rd seat where there has been a vacancy that has to be filled, show that the pivotal contests are to be found in Montana, Idaho, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado, Iowa, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Out of these the existing Democratic party strength is expected to be maintained in Idaho, Colorado and New Mexico. Inasmuch as Oklahoma is normally Democratic a change from the Republican to the Democratic column is anticipated or a net gain of one for the Democrats.

This narrows the contest to six seats—Kentucky and West Virginia in the area east of the Mississippi river, and Montana, Wyoming, Iowa and Minnesota in the west.

It is an old rule in politics that if the top of the ticket is running strong he carries so many "straight ticket" voters with him that the "split ticket" vote is overcome. Neither candidate for the presidency is running strong enough in three of the western states—Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota—to drag in a senatorial candidate "by the coattails" as the saying goes in politics. In Kentucky, however, Truman could sweep in the Democratic nominee while Dewey could carry in the Republican in West Virginia. It is significant, on the other hand, that in neither Kentucky nor West Virginia is there any conceding being done as the predictions vary with the experts interviewed.

Cooper In Kentucky

It looks, however, as if Senator Cooper, Republican, is strong enough on his own to win in Kentucky and as if Senator Revercomb, Republican, will squeeze through in West Virginia on the "coattail" vote which means the Republicans will retain these two seats.

It looks also as if Senator Murray, Democrat, will lose in Montana which offsets the Democratic gain in Oklahoma.

This leaves Iowa where Senator Wilson, Republican, will be carried in by the Dewey vote and Wyoming, where a similar close squeeze for the Republican incumbent may be expected. In Minnesota the odds favor the Democrat in place of Senator Ball, Republican.

This would make the final tally 50 Republicans and 46 Democrats. Thus the Republicans could still lose in Wyoming or West Virginia and have a 49-to-47 lead but if both states are lost to the Republicans and the "coattail" vote doesn't materialize for the Republicans as expected by many veteran observers it would mean a tie at 48 to 48 and the vote of the vice president, Governor Warren, would swing the Senate into Republican ranks. It seems clear, therefore, that the Senate will be organized as to committee chairmanships and the like by the Republican Party.

A table is given below which is in large part the basis for the above predictions. It is compiled from the results of a questionnaire sent last week to the editors of daily newspapers in the doubtful states. The editors were asked to say irrespective of their own preferences which candidates seemed "sure" of election and toward which candidate each state was "leaning."

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Our Friends

When General Feng Yu-Hsiang was in the United States, he was welcomed by many Americans as a wonderful man, a Christian general, a liberal. I, who had known him since 1919, did not believe or trust the man because I knew beyond doubt that as far back as 1925, he was a tool of Soviet Russia.

Well, here is a letter which he sent to General Li Chih-Shen in Hongkong. This letter has been released by the revolutionary committee in Hongkong. It is worth knowing what such a "friend" of America could write about this country which gave him refuge here. Let me quote:

"From my observation, the United States is taking the first step toward fascism. They oppress Negroes whom they can kill at will and with no questions asked. They oppress liberal elements whom they arrest and indict at will. They do not treat Jews, Indians and Chinese as human beings. The big-shot capitalists control 98 per cent of American newspapers and use as their own tools 99 per cent of American magazines and publications.

"We do not see one sentence of truth in these publications. All the pages are full of rumors and lies slandering the farmers and laborers. There was a big flood in ten states and nobody bothered about it. There are at least 20,000,000 people in the United States without housing. For example, New York has a kind of flop houses where a man can sleep for three hours on the floor by paying a quarter. After the three-hour time limit he is thrown out . . .

"There are 30 universities in the United States which are opposed to the policy of aiding Chiang. But there are a few rotten eggs in the Congress who have become foster sons of Chiang Kai-shek. They insist that America must aid Chiang. To aid Chiang is actually to expand the territory of the United States . . .

"Everyday we read in American newspapers reports of sons mudering fathers, daughters murdering mothers, wives murdering husbands. There was a father who shot his wife and three children and then killed himself. There was another story about some people raping a girl student and then shooting her.

"I made a careful count of these reports and found that in average, there are, on each day, at least two cases of murdering fathers, four cases of murdering mothers, eight cases of wives murdering husbands, ten cases of husbands murdering wives, and two cases of suicides by jumping from eight-storied buildings. Such abnormalities in human relations are entirely ignored by the American Congress, government and society, as if they are not aware of such things.

"Also there are at every place boys of 18 or 19 years old killing girls of 18 or 19 years old on streets. If you ask why they kill, the newspaper will tell you that in one case it was because one girl was dancing with another boy and their cheeks happened to be too close to each other. When the two came out from the dancing hall, the boy shot the girl and her dancing partner. There are other countless cases like this.

"In the United States the life of a human being is worthless like that of an ant. Banks are robbed in broad daylight. There are many, many cases of pedestrians being robbed on streets. America is now preparing for the third World War. To my mind, it will be better for her not to fight. If war comes, those who want war will suffer."

This was written on August 12, 1948. It is the America in which you live that he described in this letter. Feng Yu-Hsiang was then on a Russian ship in the Mediterranean on his way to the Marxist shrine in Moscow. He hoped to be set up as the ruler of the new state which the Russians are carving out of Manchuria and North China. But he is reported to have been burned to death on the ship. Some in China doubt that and expect him to show up in Manchuria at the right time. I do not pretend to know what is the truth of his death. The Russians are so secretive.

Health Engineer To Discuss Area Sanitary Plans

A bill setting up an Allegany County Metropolitan Sanitary District will be under discussion at a meeting of the Mayor and Council Monday, November 15.

George L. Hall, chief engineer of the State Department of Health, will appear in person before the Council. He explained in a letter that the district would be created for the purpose of relieving unsatisfactory water supply and sewerage conditions in certain areas.

Provisions in the bill, Hall said, its third reading in the House of Delegates during the 1947 session of the state legislature.

Hall said he hoped to meet with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners the following day to discuss the bill.

The city recently applied for a federal grant of $20,000 for preliminary surveys on a sewerage disposal project here. The application has been forwarded to the federal government and action is expected momentarily.

Two proclamations were issued by Mayor Thomas S. Post. One sets Wednesday, November 10, as "Marine Corps Day", commemorating the 173rd anniversary of the founding of the Corps. The Mayor asks that Flags be displayed.

The second proclamation calls for the observance of the week of Nov. 7-13 as "Optimist's Week."

An order authorizing the expenditure of $50 for prizes in the Halloween parade here tonight was passed.

Black Topping For Virginia Avenue

The initial phase of his street paving program approved, Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds was authorized by the Mayor and Council yesterday to go ahead with the black topping of Virginia Avenue from Oldtown Road to Laing Avenue. Cost of the operations is estimated at $7,500.

Commissioner Reynolds said following the council session yesterday he has hopes of repairing other streets in the city in the near future. Mentioned particularly were Frederick Street, the Mapleside and Johnson Heights sections.

The commissioner intimated he would continue to push his efforts toward obtaining a $250,000 bond issue for street improvements.

A check for $24,266.25 was ordered drawn in favor of the Cumberland Contracting Company in payment of the fifth estimate for work performed on installation of the auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to the city.

The council also approved the payroll for the last two weeks of October.

Water consumption last week was 82,811,000 gallons as compared to 83,083,000 in 1947. The daily average was 11,830,000 gallons. The water level at Lake Gordon is three feet, two inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon 11 feet below.

Insect Extermination Demonstration Planned

Theodore L. Bissell, extension entomologist of the University of Maryland, will give a demonstration on means of eradicating insect pests in green houses Friday at 3 p. m., at Ren Roy Gardens, LaVale, according to Ralph L. McHenry, county farm agent.

McHenry said that green house operators of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties have been invited and any interested persons may attend. Operators of commercial green houses who grow flowers and vegetables will be shown the latest methods of combatting insect pests.

Bliss will show how to use aerosol fumigation to kill insects. The fumigant is hexa-theyl-tetraphosphate and has proven effective against a number of insects, McHenry said. These include red spiders, thrips, aphids, white fly and cyclomen mites.

SRC Engineers Studying Bridge Proposal

Possible co-operation of the State Roads Commission with Army Engineers in connection with proposed changes to the Johnson Street bridge is under consideration, Robert M. Reindollar, commission chairman, has informed the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

Reindollar's letter was read at a meeting of the local group yesterday in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Since flood plans as drawn by Army Engineers provide for raising the bridge, the local commission suggested a conference between the engineers and the State Roads Commission to determine whether some of the cost of improving approaches to the structure or possible rebuilding of the entire bridge could be tied in with the flood project.

Reindollar said the suggestion has been referred to the SRC engineering department for study.

Marriage Licenses Decrease In October

Fewer couples obtained marriage licenses in October than in September, according to figures released yesterday by the clerk's office at the Court House.

In October 354 couples took out licenses while 415 licenses were issued in September. The number of wedding couples has been decreasing since June when 463 couples obtained licenses. Most of the increase at that time was due to young men taking out licenses as a result of passage of the draft act, according to observers.

Charter Plan

2. Delete the 11 sections dealing with the establishment of Memorial Hospital. Include in the new charter a general provision recognizing any bonded indebtedness of the city still outstanding, which would cover such bonds authorized by those sections.

3. Rewrite the section pertaining to creation of the Board of Governors and acquisition of land for Memorial Hospital.

4. Require only a majority vote, and not the present two-thirds vote, in public referendums on municipal bond issues which exceed either the anticipated returns in any one year or the emergency expenditures allowed.

5. Specific provision granting the Mayor and Council authority to establish a special rural or suburban water rate for domestic consumers outside the city limits.

6. Revision of three sections of the present charter, establishing a municipal band, to provide for a municipal band or a municipal symphony orchestra.

Prepares Table

7. Amendment of the present section dealing with condemnation, to give the city authority for immediate entry on property where necessary for some public work, while condemnation proceedings are in process, instead of only when such proceedings have been completed.

The State Roads Commission now has that authority, Finan said, pointing out it would save much delay in getting such public work started.

Finan also prepared and included with his report a table of legislative enactments since 1930 which have either amended, added to or repealed sections of the present city charter.

The report will be forwarded to Dr. Everstine to assist him in preliminary drafting of the new charter.

Car Knocks Down Park Pillars

A LaVale woman was injured and the brick entrance blocks to Riverside Park on Greene Street were knocked down in two accidents reported by Police yesterday.

They said a car driven by Frank William Isetts, Jr., of Baltimore, leveled the pillars at 3:30 a. m. yesterday. The driver and three occupants, James S. Hughes and Irish J. Welch, of Glen Rogers, W. Va., and William G. Moseley, of Mt. Clemens, Mich, were not injured.

Isetts told Officers G. E. Pfieffer and Harold Crawford that as he was traveling toward Baltimore Street on Greene, when another car went around him and forced his machine into the posts. No charges were preferred.

Mrs. Laura Smith, wife of Louis William Smith, LaVale, was treated in Allegany Hospital for face lacerations and the loss of two teeth. After the auto operated by her husband struck a parked truck on Henderson Avenue.

Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, reported that at 1:30 a. m. Smith's car ran into the rear of a truck owned by Charles Herbert Michael, of Red Hill, Route 40, which was parked in front of 621 Henderson Avenue.

Smith told Lt. Van that as he started around the truck the high beam of an oncoming car's lights blinded him, causing the collision. The parked vehicle's rear wheels were knocked out of line and the front end damaged when it was forced against a fire hydrant. The front right side of the moving auto was damaged, Lt. Van said. No charges were filed.

the Braddock Liquor Store, 160 Baltimore Street.

The man was identified as a "short stocky individual" who was dressed in a dark brown suit, without hat or topcoat. He purchased a miniature bottle of whisky before pulling the gun. The case has not be solved. Several months after an attempted holdup was frustrated in the same store when a customer appeared.

As the local police intensified their search for the two men who robbed Martin's store last night, descriptions of the pair was broadcast to nearby states over Maryland State Police radio.

"Politician" For Dewey

Ted Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Troxell, 223 Fayette Street, had the most original idea for a float, and was awarded a first prize in that category.

Ted was dressed as a "politician," smoking a huge black cigar and wearing a derby hat. He pulled a wagon which had been converted into a miniature float bearing Dewey and Warren posters. He said the idea was his own and he thinks Mr. Dewey will make a good president.

Little Jacqueline Palmer and Earl Hardman, riding a "bicycle built for two" and dressed in appropriate costume, received a prize and much applause from the several thousand persons who viewed the parade.

Downtown drug stores and business places did a rush business for a couple of hours as a result of the turnout, and a large crowd attended a public dance at the Armory.

Real Estate Man Makes Charter Suggestions

Several suggestions that W. A. Spruill, 303 Decatur Street, local real estate man, believes should be included in the new city charter being prepared by Dr. Carl N. Everstine of the Department of Legislative Reference were outlined in a letter to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Spruill said he is in favor of the strong mayor-type government with four councilmen on full-time salary to justify their services.

All street paving, new or renewed, should be under the exclusive supervision of the city engineer. Paving of intersections, repaving of streets and sidewalks should be done by the city, he said. He said the street commissioner's duties should remain the same with the exception of the paving suggestion. He advocated that the commissioner be in charge of garbage removal and that each spring and fall he supervise a general clean-up week.

The following changes in the Water Department were suggested: Apartment houses should be assessed a service charge plus consumption charge, the same as hotels and office buildings; water bills should be sent out once a year in the same envelope with the property tax, be on a pro-rata basis and payable every three months with the same discount; and that meters should be read once a year with differences in the amount of water used to be adjusted. He said money saved by this method would be sufficent to pay the salaries of the members of the Mayor and Council for a year.

All commissioners, he said, should be compelled to run for a specific office, allowing the voters to decide which is best qualified.

Copies of the completed charter should be made available through the Public Library, he concluded.

Meeting Planned

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Piedmont Chapter No. 925, Women of the Moose, will meet today at 8 p. m. at the Moose Home.

Bullet Fired Through Window

Leo Rowan 105 Arch Street, said that at 7 p. m. Saturday a bullet crashed through a large window at his home. Officers E. M. Powell and Joseph Stitcher found the slug on the sill. The incident is still being investigated.

Lester Millenson, manager of the National Loan Company at Harrison and South George streets, informed police that between 1:30 p. m. Saturday and 10:30 p. m. Sunday the small glass on a storm door and the large glass of an inside door in the building were broken and the place entered. The pay of a janitor employed by the firm was stolen from a drawer.

Officer Joseph Stitcher investigated the breaking of a light on the Henderson Avenue bridge by a boy Sunday. A description of the culprit was given by a neighbor and a pickup has been issued at headquarters for the youth.

Two-Way Traffic Starts

Yesterday saw South Mechanic Street between Baltimore and Harrison Streets a two-way thoroughfare for the first time in a number of years. City Police Traffic Division leaders were keeping a close check to determine the effectiveness of the change.

Welch In Good Condition

Although the results of X-rays taken of Donald Welch, 16, 406 Beall Street, who was wounded in the left leg with a .22 calibre bullet while target shooting on Braddock Road Saturday; have not been disclosed by Allegany Hospital, his condition was described as "good" last night.

MY WIFE HAVING LEFT ME

Sue, I sure do miss you. And I admit I've been hard to take. But, hon, there was a reason for my mean disposition. I was "out of order" and depending upon harsh laxatives. Now you'd see a big change. Yes, I've found relief from constipation caused by lack of bulk in the diet—by eating right. Every day now, I have me a bowlful of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN and follow through by drinking plenty of water. Last minute Question of G O P Backfires!

The frantic, last minute, efforts of the local Republican State Central Committee to divert labor support from F. Byrne Austin by raising a question about there being no union label on certain special campaign posters of Mr. Austin, has been completely exploded by the Allied Printing Trades Union, AFL, who issued a statement yesterday over the name of John B. Haggerty, chairman of the Board of Governors of that organization, as follows:

"F. Byrne Austin is using campaign posters which do not bear the union label, because there were no facilities in or around this district to handle this type of work in a Union shop.

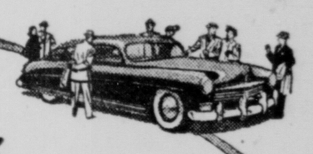

"We are informed that all other printing matter used in the campaign bears the Allied Printing Trades Union Label, AFL. The names of the union firms printing this material can be furnished by Mr. Austin.

"Since an effort was made to obtain Union made posters, and since he has used the label on all other printed material, the Allied Printing Trades Association, AFL has no objection to the action taken by Mr. Austin."

the modern design for '49 new Hudson

Come in, see the car that's years ahead—drive the New Hudson—experience the amazing roadability, comfort and safety of the only car you step down into!

Here's your chance to get the thrill of a real discovery—to see and feel what one of the great advances in motor-car history offers you.

You'll see a Hudson of distinguished, streamlined beauty and low-built silhouette that is instantly recognizable because it is the natural result of a basically new design principle—a principle that puts this car so far ahead it is a protected investment in motor-car value!

The key to this new design principle is a recessed floor. The New Hudson is the only car you step down into!

By using a "step-down" zone in an exclusive, all steel Monobilt Body-and-frame*, Hudson achieves the lowest car on the highway—only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

But no amount of looking at this amazing car—beautiful as it is—can equal the thrill of a Hudson ride! And you are invited to enjoy that ride today!

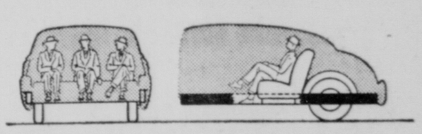

Hudson has a smooth, hug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see the way it takes even the sharpest curves, you'll know once again that this car has "The modern design for '49"—and for years to come!

Hudson's remarkable ride is largely due to the fact that its "step-down" design provides the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample! It is a widely recognized fact that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have and the safer it will be.

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride, and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, is a grand experience in serene, safe well-being.

This grand feeling is further heightened by the remarkable ease with which this car is controlled. You enjoy this generous roominess in complete relaxation as the New Hudson glides smoothly along.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson, to thoroughly enjoy the ride that comes only with "The modern design for '49!"

HUDSON FLOORS are recessed down within the frame (as shown above), seats are lowered, so you get more than ample head room in this car with the new, lower center of gravity.

YOU RIDE DOWN within a base frame (as shown above), and rear seats are positioned ahead of the rear wheels so that full body width becomes available for wonderfully roomy seats. Box-section steel girders completely encircle and protect the passenger compartment.

TRY AUTOMATIC GEAR SHIFTING in forward speeds as provided by Hudson's Drive-Master transmission—by far the easiest of all ways to drive. You can accelerate as long and as fast as you like in pick-up gear, then lift your toe momentarily, and you're in high. The shift into high comes only when you are ready! Button control on the instrument panel provides instant change to conventional driving if ever desired. Drive-Master transmission is optional on all New Hudsons at small extra cost.

Health Engineer To Discuss Area Sanitary Plans

A bill setting up an Allegany County Metropolitan Sanitary District will be under discussion at a meeting of the Mayor and Council Monday, November 15.

George L. Hall, chief engineer of the State Department of Health, will appear in person before the Council. He explained in a letter that the district would be created for the purpose of relieving unsatisfactory water supply and sewerage conditions in certain areas.

Provisions in the bill, Hall said, its third reading in the House of Delegates during the 1947 session of the state legislature.

Hall said he hoped to meet with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners the following day to discuss the bill.

The city recently applied for a federal grant of $20,000 for preliminary surveys on a sewerage disposal project here. The application has been forwarded to the federal government and action is expected momentarily.

Two proclamations were issued by Mayor Thomas S. Post. One sets Wednesday, November 10, as "Marine Corps Day", commemorating the 173rd anniversary of the founding of the Corps. The Mayor asks that Flags be displayed.

The second proclamation calls for the observance of the week of Nov. 7-13 as "Optimist's Week."

An order authorizing the expenditure of $50 for prizes in the Halloween parade here tonight was passed.

Black Topping For Virginia Avenue

The initial phase of his street paving program approved, Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds was authorized by the Mayor and Council yesterday to go ahead with the black topping of Virginia Avenue from Oldtown Road to Laing Avenue. Cost of the operations is estimated at $7,500.

Commissioner Reynolds said following the council session yesterday he has hopes of repairing other streets in the city in the near future. Mentioned particularly were Frederick Street, the Mapleside and Johnson Heights sections.

The commissioner intimated he would continue to push his efforts toward obtaining a $250,000 bond issue for street improvements.

A check for $24,266.25 was ordered drawn in favor of the Cumberland Contracting Company in payment of the fifth estimate for work performed on installation of the auxiliary water line from Lake Gordon to the city.

The council also approved the payroll for the last two weeks of October.

Water consumption last week was 82,811,000 gallons as compared to 83,083,000 in 1947. The daily average was 11,830,000 gallons. The water level at Lake Gordon is three feet, two inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon 11 feet below.

Insect Extermination Demonstration Planned

Theodore L. Bissell, extension entomologist of the University of Maryland, will give a demonstration on means of eradicating insect pests in green houses Friday at 3 p. m., at Ren Roy Gardens, LaVale, according to Ralph L. McHenry, county farm agent.

McHenry said that green house operators of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties have been invited and any interested persons may attend. Operators of commercial green houses who grow flowers and vegetables will be shown the latest methods of combatting insect pests.

Bliss will show how to use aerosol fumigation to kill insects. The fumigant is hexa-theyl-tetraphosphate and has proven effective against a number of insects, McHenry said. These include red spiders, thrips, aphids, white fly and cyclomen mites.

SRC Engineers Studying Bridge Proposal

Possible co-operation of the State Roads Commission with Army Engineers in connection with proposed changes to the Johnson Street bridge is under consideration, Robert M. Reindollar, commission chairman, has informed the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

Reindollar's letter was read at a meeting of the local group yesterday in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Since flood plans as drawn by Army Engineers provide for raising the bridge, the local commission suggested a conference between the engineers and the State Roads Commission to determine whether some of the cost of improving approaches to the structure or possible rebuilding of the entire bridge could be tied in with the flood project.

Reindollar said the suggestion has been referred to the SRC engineering department for study.

Marriage Licenses Decrease In October

Fewer couples obtained marriage licenses in October than in September, according to figures released yesterday by the clerk's office at the Court House.

In October 354 couples took out licenses while 415 licenses were issued in September. The number of wedding couples has been decreasing since June when 463 couples obtained licenses. Most of the increase at that time was due to young men taking out licenses as a result of passage of the draft act, according to observers.

2. Delete the 11 sections dealing with the establishment of Memorial Hospital. Include in the new charter a general provision recognizing any bonded indebtedness of the city still outstanding, which would cover such bonds authorized by those sections.

3. Rewrite the section pertaining to creation of the Board of Governors and acquisition of land for Memorial Hospital.

4. Require only a majority vote, and not the present two-thirds vote, in public referendums on municipal bond issues which exceed either the anticipated returns in any one year or the emergency expenditures allowed.

5. Specific provision granting the Mayor and Council authority to establish a special rural or suburban water rate for domestic consumers outside the city limits.

6. Revision of three sections of the present charter, establishing a municipal band, to provide for a municipal band or a municipal symphony orchestra.

Prepares Table

7. Amendment of the present section dealing with condemnation, to give the city authority for immediate entry on property where necessary for some public work, while condemnation proceedings are in process, instead of only when such proceedings have been completed.

The State Roads Commission now has that authority, Finan said, pointing out it would save much delay in getting such public work started.

Finan also prepared and included with his report a table of legislative enactments since 1930 which have either amended, added to or repealed sections of the present city charter.

The report will be forwarded to Dr. Everstine to assist him in preliminary drafting of the new charter.

Car Knocks Down Park Pillars

A LaVale woman was injured and the brick entrance blocks to Riverside Park on Greene Street were knocked down in two accidents reported by Police yesterday.

They said a car driven by Frank William Isetts, Jr., of Baltimore, leveled the pillars at 3:30 a. m. yesterday. The driver and three occupants, James S. Hughes and Irish J. Welch, of Glen Rogers, W. Va., and William G. Moseley, of Mt. Clemens, Mich, were not injured.

Isetts told Officers G. E. Pfieffer and Harold Crawford that as he was traveling toward Baltimore Street on Greene, when another car went around him and forced his machine into the posts. No charges were preferred.

Mrs. Laura Smith, wife of Louis William Smith, LaVale, was treated in Allegany Hospital for face lacerations and the loss of two teeth. After the auto operated by her husband struck a parked truck on Henderson Avenue.

Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, reported that at 1:30 a. m. Smith's car ran into the rear of a truck owned by Charles Herbert Michael, of Red Hill, Route 40, which was parked in front of 621 Henderson Avenue.

Smith told Lt. Van that as he started around the truck the high beam of an oncoming car's lights blinded him, causing the collision. The parked vehicle's rear wheels were knocked out of line and the front end damaged when it was forced against a fire hydrant. The front right side of the moving auto was damaged, Lt. Van said. No charges were filed.

Pair Holds Up

the Braddock Liquor Store, 160 Baltimore Street.

The man was identified as a "short stocky individual" who was dressed in a dark brown suit, without hat or topcoat. He purchased a miniature bottle of whisky before pulling the gun. The case has not be solved. Several months after an attempted holdup was frustrated in the same store when a customer appeared.

As the local police intensified their search for the two men who robbed Martin's store last night, descriptions of the pair was broadcast to nearby states over Maryland State Police radio.

A. O. "Ace" Comer Weds Miss Mary Lou Sewell

Ceremony Performed In Grandfather's Home

Miss Mary Lou Sewell, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Sewell, 15 Market Street, and E. C. Sewell, Tampa, Fla., became the bride of Avis Odell Comer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Comer, Ridgeley, last night.

The single ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Kenneth Harrington, Pentecostal minister, before members of the immediate families, at 7 o'clock in the home of the bride's grandfather, John S. Cranor. Miss Rose Margaret Rice was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. Eugene Sewell, brother of the bride, served as Mr. Comer's best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her grandfather, was attired in a street length dress of mink colored crepe, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, trimmed with matching beads, short sleeves and full skirt. With it she wore a matching hat trimmed with ostrich feather tips and matching veil. A corsage of green orchids completed her costume.

Mrs. Sewell chose a black faille dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a corsage of lemon colored carnations. Mrs. Comer wore a cinnamon colored two-piece dress and had a corsage of bronze baby chrysanthemums.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

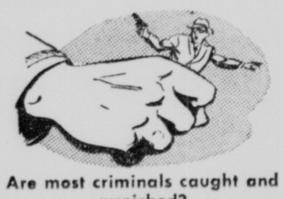

Should you make it a rule to "keep smiling"?

Answer. No. Smiling is one thing you should never do "by rule," except perhaps when politeness demands it. A consciously-forced smile will seldom fool others, while one which you do not realize is forced may mean you are fooling yourself dangerously. "Looking on the bright side" is a good idea if you do it spontaneously, but to force yourself to ignore things that frighten you or make you unhappy only lets them do more damage to your real, unconscious feelings than they could if you allowed yourself to face them.

Will "moving" handicap your children?

Answer: Yes, and though it may sometimes be necessary, this is a fact which you should consider when weighing a change of residence or business. The younger a child is, the harder it will be for him to adjust himself to new surroundings and make new friends. Dr. William W. Wattenberg in Education Forum says that children's having moved from one town to another is a significant factor in producing "maladjusted behavior," and urges that schools and teachers make a special effort to help young newcomers feel at home.

Are most criminals caught and punished?

Answer: By no means, to judge by recent figures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. For each thousand crimes reported, only 140 offenders are caught and convicted. Certainty of being punished is not the main reason why "crime does not pay," any more than fear of punishment is what keeps most people law-abiding.

To be happy, you must have the approval of your neighbors and know you deserve it. If you feel yourself an "outlaw," you'll not only live in endless tension but may wind up getting yourself caught to end the suspense.

4-H Club To Hear Talk On Europe

The Junior Extension 4-H Club will hear Miss Ruth Akehurst, Baltimore County, speak on her experiences in Europe tomorrow at 8 p. m. in LaVale Fire Hall, according to Miss Gloria Bohn, assistant county home demonstration agent.

She was the Maryland delegate for the International Farm Youth Exchange project and visited several countries overseas. Movies of her trip will also be shown to the county 4-H leaders. Miss Akehurst will tell of farm life in the countries she visited and will answer questions concerning her trip.

A cross fox is one which has a dark line along the spine and another across the shoulders. Fine specimens are worth an extra price to the trapper.

The opera "Faust" is said to have been sung more than any other five operas combined.

About 75,000,000 acres of land in the United States are desert, swamp, rocky or barren.

The deer population of the Minidoka Forest in southern Idaho is estimated at 8,000 to 9,000 head.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should you make it a rule to "keep smiling"?

Answer. No. Smiling is one thing you should never do "by rule," except perhaps when politeness demands it. A consciously-forced smile will seldom fool others, while one which you do not realize is forced may mean you are fooling yourself dangerously. "Looking on the bright side" is a good idea if you do it spontaneously, but to force yourself to ignore things that frighten you or make you unhappy only lets them do more damage to your real, unconscious feelings than they could if you allowed yourself to face them.

Will "moving" handicap your children?

Answer: Yes, and though it may sometimes be necessary, this is a fact which you should consider when weighing a change of residence or business. The younger a child is, the harder it will be for him to adjust himself to new surroundings and make new friends. Dr. William W. Wattenberg in Education Forum says that children's having moved from one town to another is a significant factor in producing "maladjusted behavior," and urges that schools and teachers make a special effort to help young newcomers feel at home.

Are most criminals caught and punished?

Answer: By no means, to judge by recent figures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. For each thousand crimes reported, only 140 offenders are caught and convicted. Certainty of being punished is not the main reason why "crime does not pay," any more than fear of punishment is what keeps most people law-abiding.

To be happy, you must have the approval of your neighbors and know you deserve it. If you feel yourself an "outlaw," you'll not only live in endless tension but may wind up getting yourself caught to end the suspense.

Don't Show Your Annoyance At Teasing Of You By Others

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Since everyone in my crowd has a nickname but me, they've decided to think up one for me, too. They've tried quite a few, and finally settled on one which I don't like. I've asked them to stop and call me by my right name, but they laugh, and begin to joke about it. I don't know what elese to do, and it really makes me mad when they start teasing me about it. Would you tell me what I could do about it?"

(A) You let it be known that you don't like their latest joke, and as long as you react to their teasing, they'll keep at it. You can't argue, or complain without running into more of the same, and being called a "poor sport" as well. When the only reaction from you is indifference or a laugh, the fun will be gone and they'll start hunting for someone else to annoy.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Two of my friends and I are invited to a wedding and the reception following. But there is one point of etiquette that we don't agree on. When shaking hands with the parents and attendants in the wedding party, should we remove our gloves or leave them on? We'll probably be going to other formal affairs as we grow older, and we'd like to know exactly what to do?"

(A) Before shaking hands with anyone, whether it's in a reception line or after an introduction, always remove your gloves. It's safe to take them off when you first enter and you won't be caught in the embarrassing position of struggling to get them off when the person you're greeting has already put out his hand. But if it's an unexpected meeting and introduction, it's easier for everybody concerned if you let the rule pass and accept a handshake without delay, gloves and all.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Every date I have is with my steady and the four couples who make up our crowd. We have parties quite often, and at every one, two girls who go around with us come without dates. I never have a minute alone with the boy because one or both of them are with us constantly. He's noticed this and has asked me to tell them that he's dating one girl, not three, but since they are my friends, I don't know how to go about it. Could you give me any suggestions?"

(A) If three's a crowd, four is worse, and you'd better try hinting in that vein. It's poor manners on their part, and the sooner you suggest that a date consists of a boy and just one girl, the sooner your problem will go away. If the thought doesn't sink in, take advantage of your friendship and explain your attitude. And it might be a good idea to plan a few parties that include couples only.

Nancy will answer as many questions as possible in her column, write her in care of this newspaper.

Notre Dame Elected No. 1 Football Team In Nation

Irish Barely Nose Michigan For Top Place

Win By Three Votes; Army Moves Up To 4th

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Notre Dame was elected No. 1 football team in the nation today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers, barely nosing out Michigan by a magin of three points.

Although the Irish drew only 56 of the 208 pirst place ballots to 68 for Michigan, they moved into first place with the help of second and third place votes.

The points, figured on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth, gave Notre Dame 1,762 to 1,759 for Michigan. Last week the Wolverines were first by a comfortable 275-point margin.

Army Advanced To 4th

North Carolina's powerful Tar Heels, who were first on 36 ballots, polled 1,458 points to easily retain third place. Army, rapidly gaining support, advanced a peg to fourth place, displacing California which finished fifth.

Georgia Tech and Pennsylvania clung to last week's positions, respectively sixth and seventh, but Southern Methodist hopped from 11th to eight in the outstanding gain of the week. The Mustangs were followed by Missouri and Northwestern in that order with Nevada, last week's 10th place team, sliding to 11th position.

There were few changes in the top 20. Baylor unbeaten but once tied, dropped out and Wake Forest moved in.

Notre Dame's smashing 41-7 romp over non-winning Navy appeared to impress the writers much more than Michigan's 28-20 close call with Illinois. North Carolina lost only a little of its first place strength on its 14-7 edge over Tennessee and Army drew new backers by rolling over Virginia Tech, 49-7.

Nevada and Clemson were the only two members of the nine-team unbeaten, untied contingent that were not ranked in the top 10. Clemso, first on six ballots, was 12th.

Saturday's schedule does not pair any of the first 10 clubs but it includes an important clash of seventh-place Penn and 14th-place Penn State at Philadelphia. This may well be the game of the day.

Michigan Faces Navy

Notre Dame meets Indiana while Michigan gets a chance to see what it can do against Navy. North Carolina faces William and Mary, which recently was upset by St. Bonaventure and Army makes its only Yankee Stadium appearance of the year against Stanford.

The standings of the teams, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1-basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1.	Notre Dame (56)	1,762
2.	Michigan (68)	1,759
3.	North Carolina (36)	1,458
4.	Army	1,249
5.	California (16)	1,132
6.	Georgia Tech (7)	1,109
7.	Pennsylvania	575
8.	Southern Methodist (1)	432
9.	Missouri (4)	382
10.	Northwestern	371

11. Nevada (5), 300; 12. Clemson (6), 189; 13. Georgia, 153; 14. Penn State (1), 136; 15. Oklahoma (2) 81; 16. Oregon, 59; 17. Michigan State, 53; 18. Wake Forest, 47; 19. Minnesota, 46; 20. Tulane, 34.

Others receiving votes were: Baylor, 24; Mississippi, 16; Vanderbilt (1), 12; Cornell 9; Dartmouth, 8; Duke and Kansas, each 7; Appalachian State, 6; Illinois and Tennessee, each 5; Iowa, 4; Princeton, 3; Maryland and William and Mary, each 2; and North Carolina State, 1.

Boone Cops Five In Row — Williamsport Unbeaten
Guckeyson Set Record — $50 Fine Is Responsible

By C. V. BURNS

When Homer Boone comes here next Monday night to fight Randall "Skeets" Starkey for the third time, the Lewistown, Pa., battler will be striving for his 6th consecutive victory in a Cumberland ring.

Homer made his debut here September 16, 1947, the same night St. Mary's A. C. staged its initial amateur show in the old church on the Oldtown Road. But it was "curtains" for Homer that night as he was stopped by Brian Holsopple of Windber, Pa., in three rounds.

Boone, however, didn't let a K. O. defeat worry him and he's won his last five starts here as follows:

Dec. 15, 1947 — Decisioned Starkey in three rounds, St. Mary's show.

Graydon Dunlap, former Allegany High athlete, who used to toss the iron ball around to work up an appetite, disagrees with Mr. Foy A. Curry's statement that Jim Gaffney of AHS hung up a state shot-putting record in 1939 when he flung the 12-pounder a distance of 48 feet, 9 inches in Baltimore.

Mr. Dunlap was in Baltimore on June 9, 1933 and saw John W. "Bill" Guckeyson of Montgomery county heave the 12-pound shot 50 feet for a state record. Guckeyson later became one of the University of Maryland's greatest all-around athletes. He lost his life in the Second World War.

We checked the files and find that Dunlap is correct.

Gaffney's 1939 mark is the best ever turned in by an Allegany countain. Johnny Keister of Beall once held the record with a heave of 46 feet, 7½ inches in 1926.

The winner of the Barton-Accident soccer game set for Frostburg on Friday will be called upon to meet Williamsport High of Washington county for District No. 1 honors.

Williamsport has won seven consecutive games this season in the Washington County League and Coach Doub's team has gone 37 games without a defeat.

In a non-league game last Friday the Williamsport eleven visited Mercersburg and edged the Mercersburg booters, 2-1.

Molitor will be remembered at the head of the Johnstown Independents who played the Cumberland semi-pro Colts in 1923 and 1924 at Mid-City Park. "Count" Hilty, Bill Crompton, James "Rip" Collins, who later starred in the majors, "Lefty" Karalfa and "Roxey" Roach were among some of the players on the Johnstown roster at that time.

Molitor financed the Johnstown team from his own earnings as an engraver for several years. He lost interest in the Johnstown club a year or two after the Mid-Atlantic League started in 1925.

Five former major league aces—Frank "Home Run" Baker, Eddie Rommel, Howard Ehmke, Charles "Chief" Bender and "Lefty" Grove were at Connie Mack's side the other night when the "grand old man" of baseball was honored at a banquet in Philadelphia.

Every time we hear of "Chief" Bender we think of the day he came here with the Baltimore Orioles for an exhibition game with the Cumberland Colts.

In order to demonstrate how hard the ground was at the Wineow street lot, the "Chief" bounced a baseball above his head and then turned to the fans in the grandstand and said:

"I see you have a concrete stadium."

Chief Game Warden George B. Shields of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Department reports that jack-lighting or the illegal hunting of deer with flash or spotlights which blind the animals thus making them easy prey, is giving wardens considerable trouble especially in this end of the state.

Frequently game wardens may work all day and then be called up to work most of the night in order to apprehend these game violators who are robbing the sportsmen.

This violation has been publicized on numerous occasions by Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden for Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties and it's about time the state adopted a law that would impose more severe penalties on the guilty parties.

J. Hammond Brown, well known Baltimore outdoors writer, says that it's Maryland's measly $50 top fine that is responsible.

So long as Maryland plasters a fine of only $50 for the first, second, third or any number of offenses, the game wardens of Western Maryland are going to have trouble Brown asserts.

If you are caught killing a deer out of season the worst that can happen to you is a fine of $50. Brown observes that on the basis of getting caught you are still far ahead of the game at the present value of meat, whether it be a hog, cow or deer.

The state's deer herds are on the increase and that makes jack-lighting much easier for the lawbreaker.

Pennsylvania doesn't fool with such game law violators. In the Keystone State the game department is authorized to confiscate the automobile used in the illegal hunting, confiscate the guns and bars the guilty person from obtaining a hunting license for a varying period of time.

In New York States they throw the book at violators by imposing a $500 fine for the first offense, $1,000 for the second and the third a fine of $1,500, confiscation of the automobile and gun and all other equipment involved.

Moorefield's football series with Keyser is perhaps the only long one in this section that is not marked by at least one tie game. It started in 1927 and Friday's game was the 15th. Keyser won 18 to 0 and now leads in the series 12 wins to 7.

Phelan Favors Limiting Number Of Substitutes

Change In Football Rules Is Suggested

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—(INS)—Jimmy Phelan, veteran coach of the Los Angeles Dons, suggested today a change in the football rules to prevent unlimited substitution.

Jimmy Phelan

Phelan told a gathering of football coaches and sports writers that he favors a limit of three substitutions when the clock is stopped.

"As the rule works now," said Phelan, "we don't know where we are half the time. Players are streaming in and out of the game in batches.

"Once the boys are in a huddle substitutions should be barred. These substitutions slow down the game and neither the fans nor the coaches know what is going on."

Phelan also favors a 25-second clock on the scoreboard which would indicate to players and fans alike just how much time has been spent in a huddle.

"As it is now," he explained, "the boys in the huddle often exceed the 25-second rule and are accordingly penalized.

"The rules are pretty good as they stand as a whole. But something really should be done about this whole substitution of players which gives a strong team, three or four strong in depth, a tremendous advantage over a team which has perhaps a good first team but is not very strong in depth.

"For my part I would allow wholesale substitutions, if we must have them, only at the end of a period."

Lou Little, Columbia University coach, agreed with Phelan that unlimited substitutions detract from the game although he would not go as far as Phelan in limiting them.

"We can't go back to the old rules, of course," said Little, "because the way the game is played today we need more subs than in the old days.

"The two-platoon system (use of both an offensive and a defensive team) makes for more offensive. We all like to see scoring of course but we certainly don't yearn for too much scoring, as evidenced by some of those 34-32 games.

Accident Booters Cop League Final

Garrett Champs Play Barton Team Friday

Accident High School's soccer team lowered the curtain on its Garrett County League season by trouncing Friendsville High to the tune of 10 to 1 yesterday.

It was the sixth victory against one loss and one tie game for the county championship team coached by Charles Strauss, who is well known throughout this section as catchers of the Cumberland Amvets' baseball team of the Bi-State League.

Dale Glass, center forward, led the attack with four field goals. Allen Hanft scored three times, Raymond Ferguson twice and Harold Savage once for the victors.

In addition to the Garrett League games, Accident battled Beall High of the W.M.I. League to a scoreless tie. The Strauss-coached eleven has rolled up 34 points while holding the opposition to 10 in eight contests. Accident defeated Grantsville twice by 2-0 scores, Friendsville 10-3 and 10-1, played a 2-2 tie and defeated Kitzmiller 6-3 and split even with Oakland, winning 2-0 and losing 1-0.

Accident High will represent Garrett county in the inter-county tournament for Class "D" Schools and will play Barton High of Allegany county Friday at 2 p. m. at State Teachers' College Field, Frostburg. Dale Glass, the team's leading scorer, will captain the Garrett eleven. Ray Middleton of Frostburg will officiate.

Senior Men's League Will Meet At YMCA

Steve Bagarus Rejoins Washington's Redskins

Bagarus, now 29, played with the Redskins in 1945 and 1946. He was traded to the Los Angeles Rams in 1947 for two players.

In the first game with the Rams, Bagarus suffered a broken leg. He has been idle since. He says he was given permission after release from the Rams this year to make a deal for himself.

JIM RUEHL

Jim Ruehl, AHS Center, Is Voted Player-Of-Week

Becomes 8th Gridder To Get K. Of C. Award

Jim Ruehl, Allegany High School's all-city and all-state center of 1947, and one of the sparkplugs of the Blue and White's undefeated and untied 1948 team, has been voted the Player-of-the-Week as a result of his outstanding work in Allegany's 32 to 6 victory over Martinsburg High School here Friday night.

He is the eighth player cited for an award which will be presented by Cumberland Council, Knights of Columbus.

Other players considered for the Player-of-the-Week Award were Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Wes Abrams, Johnny Vernall and Tom Oglebay. Only AHS gridders were considered because LaSalle was idle and Fort Hill and Ridgeley did not play in the stadium during the past weekend.

Ruehl, who is playing his third and final season as a regular, is the third lineman to be honored. Others who have been voted the award are Fred Corbin and Glenn Burke, Fort Hill, linemen; Edgar Tucker, Fort Hill; Wes Abrams and Earl Bruce, Allegany; Mickey Clark, LaSalle, and Paul Lindsay, Ridgeley, backs.

Booing Condemned By Coach Snavely

The newspaper said that on trips to Athens, Ga., and Knoxville, Tenn., the Tar Heels had been booed for using the two-team system and for making fair catches.

"Southern football will get a real black eye if that's going to be the kind of reception given visiting teams," Snavely was quoted.

Babe Young May Play With New York Yanks

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Norman (Babe) Young, former New York Giants first sacker, may do his first basing for the Yankees in 1949.

The 33-year-old native New Yorker has taken home an offer from the American League club, a Yankee spokesman said tonight. He is expected to give his answer within a day or two. It was not disclosed what the offer was.

Young recently drew his unconditional release from the St. Louis Cardinals, with whom he finished the 1948 season.

If Officials Don't Know Rules Fine 'Em $75, Grid Coach Urges

Murray Of Marquette Irked Over Penalties

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 1—(AP)—Something new in football penalties—a $75 fine for each of the officials if one of them doesn't know the rules and the others don't call him on it—was advocated today by a 29-year veteran of college coaching.

Frank J. Murray of Marquette University, incensed by what he called "the worst officiating I've seen in years" during the Marquette-Purdue game at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday, made the suggestion.

"If no official knows the rule and none of the others correct him when he calls an incorrect penalty, they all should forfeit the pay they're getting for that game," declared Murray. "That's $75, normally, not counting expenses.

"Of course," the veteran of 20 years here and nine at the University of Virginia added, "no coach has any right at all to question the judgment of an official.

Should Forfeit Pay

"But when a definite rule is being massacred—and at least two were Saturday—and the officials don't know it they should be penalized by forfeiting their pay."

Murray, whose team lost to Purdue, 14-9, was perturbed particularly about two instances. One involved a 15-yard penalty against the Hilltoppers for defensive holding, which merits five yards only in the rule book, and the other the continued running of the clock by an official's order after Marquette threw an incomplete pass in the final few minutes.

"They called the play back and penalized us 15 yards," fumed Murray. "To begin with, why on earth should a tackle be holding when his job is to rush the kicker? And why a 15 yard penalty, when there is no such thing in the book?

Ruling Unjustified

"I protested immediately that the penalty should be five yards and asked what it was all about. I never found out, I don't know how they could justify such a ruling.

"The crowning mistake was made in the last couple of minutes when an official let the clock run 15 seconds after we threw an incomplete pass. Then, to top it off, he called time in while we were in the huddle when it should not have been called until the ball was put in play. It cost us about 30 seconds and we were only five points behind at the time.

"The Purdue people were not to blame, but I thought the officials missed too many obvious rules."

Game officials were Mike Layden of Notre Dame, John Wilson of Ohio State, C. A. Leadbetter of Alma (Mich.) and Paul Goebel of Michigan.

At Chicago, Jim Masker, supervisor of officials for the Big Nine, who assigned the officials for the Purdue-Marquette game, said he could make no comment on Murray's charges until he received an official complaint and also the report of the officials.

He said the work of the officials also was observed by John R. Townsend of Indianapolis, a regular procedure on games involving Big Nine teams. Townsend probably will report on the Marquette-Purdue tilt tomorrow.

May Be Other Reasons

"There may have been other reasons for the officials' action than Murray claims," Masker, a veteran Big Nine official said.

"I've known Murray for years and he is inclined to be exciteable. His idea of fining officials is incongruous."

"Moose" Krause Says Notre Dame Still Is Ready To Play Michigan

Ingram Reports A-A Will Operate In 1949

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP) — Notre Dame still is ready to play Michigan any time, any place and the professional All - America Conference will operate again next year.

These two points were made today at the Herald-American Quarterback Club meeting at which Notre Dame's Ed (Moose) Krause and Commissioner Jonas Ingram of the All-America loop grappled with questions from the floor.

Krause, assistant Irish athletic director, was asked "why can't Notre Dame and Michigan (both apparently headed towards a second straight unbeaten season) play each other at Soldier Field?"

Krause replied:

"As Coach Frank Leahy said before this same meeting last year, Notre Dame is willing to meet Michigan any Saturday, Sunday or Monday afternoon."

(Athletic Director Fritz Crisler of Michigan last week greeted the same question here with the explanation that Michigan's schedule commitments would not permit a game with Notre Dame).

Ingram slightly altered the theme he expressed in New York at a similar meeting last week when he invited the rival Nations Football League to co-operate in handling mutual problems.

Admitting that the Chicago Rockets were the weak spot in his league, Ingram said at New York that "it may be that Chicago has too many clubs," referring to the Rockets and the powerful Bears and Cardinals of the national League.

Today he speculated that Chicago "probably can maintain three teams," and said he was assured by "an awfully good authority" that the Rockets would make a fourth season try "with the strongest possible ownership."

"The All-America will operate next year," Ingram declared. "Six clubs have tremendous financial strength. If there are two major football leagues, each must be represented in Chicago which is the center of American football."

Keyser Angler Lands Bass 23 Inches Long, Weighs 6 1-4 Pounds

Parsons' Champs Receive Trophy

Two Players Signed Cleveland Contracts

PARSONS, Nov. 1—Seventy-five fans and guests attended the banquet held at Sunset Inn, near Parsons on Friday evening for the Parsons baseball team. The banquet was sponsored by the National Distributing Company for the team.

For the first time in many years, Parsons had an organized baseball team which won the championship of the Alleghany League with 24 wins and only six losses. They played teams from Petersburg, Franklin, Moorefield, Kempton, Marlinton, Bartow and Pickens. At the end of the season Parsons and Petersburg were tied for the league honors. Parsons won by defeating Petersburg 5-0 and 6-4 in a playoff series.

During the past year two of Parsons players won recognition and have signed contract's with the Cleveland Indians. They are Junior Thompson and Ted Cox.

HEATH, NEVADA STAR, PLANS TO TURN PRO

RENO, Nev., Nov. 1 (AP) — Stan Heath, the Nevada passing star, is playing his last season of collegiate football.

Although Heath, a junior, still has a year of eligibility, Coach Joe Shekeetski said today the touchdown ace will be in the market for a pro football contract at the end of the current year.

About a month ago Heath told newsmen:

"Yes, I plan to play pro football. I hope to play for several seasons in the major leagues. Later, I hope to go into advertising."

But last Saturday, after the high scoring Nevada team trounced Oklahoma City University, several Nevada players who are about at the end of their collegiate playing careers were introduced to the crowd. Among them was Heath.

Coach Shekeetski says Heath has signed no contract as yet.

"I think he ought to do what he thinks best," the coach added, "and if he feels he has reached his peak and wants to turn pro, that is his business."

Peanuts Score Fifth Touch Football Win

In the Central YMCA Touch Football League for the Junior "B" Boys class the Peanuts, captained by Jerry McGreevy, continue to show the way. In the other game the Doughnuts won their first game of the season by defeating the Hickorynuts, 12-8. Howard Davis scored both of the winners' touchdowns while Jerry Yankelevitz made one for the losers. Outstanding players were Davis, Gene Cave, Marshall Yankelevitz, "Mike" Mosner, Freddy Shearer, Ronald Gillum and Eddie Joyce. Thirty-two boys participated in the games. League standings:

Hickorynuts	3	3	.500
Doughnuts	1	5	.167

Player-Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz is not due from Atlantic City until next week and the squad will hold its initial drill under direction of the new mentor on Sunday, November 10. Among the out-of-town players expected here next week are Lennie Normand, former Lehigh University basketeer and Don Markward, of Coatesville, Pa., who was an All-Pennsylvania High School forward.

The All-American League campaign doesn't get started here until the night of Sunday, December 4, but in the meantime the Dukes will meet three college quints and the famed Globe Trotters here.

Duquesne University is scheduled to play here Sunday, November 21 followed by St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., Wednesday, November 24 and St. Bonaventure College of New York State, Sunday, November 28. The Globe Trotters will blow into town on Wednesday, December 1.

The Dukes will play all of their home games at night on SS. Peter and Paul court at 9 o'clock.

Nine clubs already have registered for league competition. They are Wheeling, W. Va.; Altoona, Butler, Beaver Falls, Warren and Pittsburgh, Pa., Youngstown and East Liverpool, Ohio, and Cumberland. Commissioner Charles "Chick" Davies has set Saturday as the deadline for entering teams in the league. He is still angling for another club to make it a ten-team circuit.

Alsab's Day Wins Pimlico Feature

Cops $27,640 Purse In Marguerite Stake

PIMLICO, Md., Nov. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab's Day, a daughter of Alsab, the 1942 Preakness winner, came through with a strong stretch run and won the $15,000 added Marguerite, annual stake test for 2-year-old fillies. Ridden by Jockey R. J. Martin, Alsab's Day finished a length in advance of Miss C. Morabito's My Celeste. A length and a half farther back came C. V. Whitney's Silver Crest to be third in the field of eight.

The keen disappointment of the race was Greentree Stable's Boomeday, the filly with the supposed punch who finished in fourth position.

Those in a crowd of 9,000 who backed Alsab's Day received a $16.-20 win mutuel and watched the fleet filly turn in the best time—1.45—in the four runnings of the event.

The victory was the fifth of the year for Alsab's Day and gave her $27,640 to bring her season's earnings to a substantial $66,970.

Irish Barely Nose Michigan For Top Place

Win By Three Votes; Army Moves Up To 4th

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Notre Dame was elected No. 1 football team in the nation today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers, barely nosing out Michigan by a magin of three points.

Although the Irish drew only 56 of the 208 pirst place ballots to 68 for Michigan, they moved into first place with the help of second and third place votes.

The points, figured on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth, gave Notre Dame 1,762 to 1,759 for Michigan. Last week the Wolverines were first by a comfortable 275-point margin.

Army Advanced To 4th

North Carolina's powerful Tar Heels, who were first on 36 ballots, polled 1,458 points to easily retain third place. Army, rapidly gaining support, advanced a peg to fourth place, displacing California which finished fifth.

Georgia Tech and Pennsylvania clung to last week's positions, respectively sixth and seventh, but Southern Methodist hopped from 11th to eight in the outstanding gain of the week. The Mustangs were followed by Missouri and Northwestern in that order with Nevada, last week's 10th place team, sliding to 11th position.

There were few changes in the top 20. Baylor unbeaten but once tied, dropped out and Wake Forest moved in.

Notre Dame's smashing 41-7 romp over non-winning Navy appeared to impress the writers much more than Michigan's 28-20 close call with Illinois. North Carolina lost only a little of its first place strength on its 14-7 edge over Tennessee and Army drew new backers by rolling over Virginia Tech, 49-7.

Nevada and Clemson were the only two members of the nine-team unbeaten, untied contingent that were not ranked in the top 10. Clemso, first on six ballots, was 12th.

Saturday's schedule does not pair any of the first 10 clubs but it includes an important clash of seventh-place Penn and 14th-place Penn State at Philadelphia. This may well be the game of the day.

Michigan Faces Navy

Notre Dame meets Indiana while Michigan gets a chance to see what it can do against Navy. North Carolina faces William and Mary, which recently was upset by St. Bonaventure and Army makes its only Yankee Stadium appearance of the year against Stanford.

The standings of the teams, points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1-basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1.	Notre Dame (56)	1,762
2.	Michigan (68)	1,759
3.	North Carolina (36)	1,458
4.	Army (5)	1,249
5.	California (16)	1,132
6.	Georgia Tech (7)	1,109
7.	Pennsylvania	575
8.	Southern Methodist (1)	432
9.	Missouri (4)	382
10.	Northwestern	371

11. Nevada (5), 360; 12. Clemson (6), 189; 13. Georgia, 153; 14. Penn State (1), 136; 15. Oklahoma (2-81; 16. Oregon, 59; 17. Michigan State, 53; 18. Wake Forest, 47; 19. Minnesota, 46; 20. Tulane, 34.

Others receiving votes were: Baylor, 24; Mississippi, 16; Vanderbilt (1), 12; Cornell 9; Dartmouth, 8; Duke and Kansas, each 7; Appalachian State, 6; Illinois and Tennessee, each 5; Iowa, 4; Princeton, 3; Maryland and William and Mary, each 2; and North Carolina State, 1.

Boone Cops Five In Row — Williamsport Unbeaten

Guckeyson Set Record — $50 Fine Is Responsible

By C. V. BURNS

When Homer Boone comes here next Monday night to fight Randall "Skeets" Starkey for the third time, the Lewistown, Pa., battler will be striving for his 6th consecutive victory in a Cumberland ring.

Homer made his debut here September 16, 1947, the same night St. Mary's A. C. staged its initial amateur show in the old church on the Oldtown Road. But it was "curtains" for Homer that night as he was stopped by Brian Holsopple of Windber, Pa., in three rounds.

Boone, however, didn't let a K. O. defeat worry him and he's won his last five starts here as follows:

Dec. 15, 1947 — Decisioned Starkey in three rounds, St. Mary's show.

Graydon Dunlap, former Allegany High athlete, who used to toss the iron ball around to work up an appetite, disagrees with Mr. Foy A. Curry's statement that Jim Gaffney of AHS hung up a state shot-putting record in 1939 when he flung the 12-pounder a distance of 48 feet, 9 inches in Baltimore.

Mr. Dunlap was in Baltimore on June 9, 1933 and saw John W. "Bill" Guckeyson of Montgomery county heave the 12-pound shot 50 feet for a state record. Guckeyson later became one of the University of Maryland's greatest all-around athletes. He lost his life in the Second World War.

We checked the files and find that Dunlap is correct.

Gaffney's 1939 mark is the best ever turned in by an Allegany countain. Johnny Keister of Beall once held the record with a heave of 46 feet, 7½ inches in 1926.

The winner of the Barton-Accident soccer game set for Frostburg on Friday will be called upon to meet Williamsport High of Washington county for District No. 1 honors.

Williamsport has won seven consecutive games this season in the Washington County League and Coach Doub's team has gone 37 games without a defeat.

In a non-league game last Friday the Williamsport eleven visited Mercersburg and edged the Mercersburg booters, 2-1.

Molitor will be remembered at the head of the Johnstown Independents who played the Cumberland semi-pro Colts in 1923 and 1924 at Mid-City Park. "Count" Hilty, Bill Crompton, James "Rip" Collins, who later starred in the majors, "Lefty" Karalfa and "Roxey" Roach were among some of the players on the Johnstown roster at that time.

Molitor financed the Johnstown team from his own earnings as an engraver for several years. He lost interest in the Johnstown club a year or two after the Mid-Atlantic League started in 1925.

Five former major league aces—Frank "Home Run" Baker, Eddie Rommel, Howard Ehmke, Charles "Chief" Bender and "Lefty" Grove were at Connie Mack's side the other night when the "grand old man" of baseball was honored at a banquet in Philadelphia.

Every time we hear of "Chief" Bender we think of the day he came here with the Baltimore Orioles for an exhibition game with the Cumberland Colts.

In order to demonstrate how hard the ground was at the Wineow street lot, the "Chief" bounced a baseball above his head and then turned to the fans in the grandstand and said:

"I see you have a concrete stadium."

Chief Game Warden George B. Shields of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Department reports that jack-lighting or the illegal hunting of deer with flash or spotlights which blind the animals thus making them easy prey, is giving wardens considerable trouble especially in this end of the state.

Frequently game wardens may work all day and then be called up to work most of the night in order to apprehend these game violators who are robbing the sportsmen.

This violation has been publicized on numerous occasions by Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden for Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties and it's about time the state adopted a law that would impose more severe penalties on the guilty parties.

J. Hammond Brown, well known Baltimore outdoors writer, says that it's Maryland's measly $50 top fine that is responsible.

So long as Maryland plasters a fine of only $50 for the first, second, third or any number of offenses, the game wardens of Western Maryland are going to have trouble Brown asserts.

If you are caught killing a deer out of season the worst that can happen to you is a fine of $50. Brown observes that on the basis of getting caught you are still far ahead of the game at the present value of meat, whether it be a hog, cow or deer.

The state's deer herds are on the increase and that makes jack-lighting much easier for the lawbreaker.

Pennsylvania doesn't fool with such game law violators. In the Keystone State the game department is authorized to confiscate the automobile used in the illegal hunting, confiscate the guns and bars the guilty person from obtaining a hunting license for a varying period of time.

In New York States they throw the book at violators by imposing a $500 fine for the first offense, $1,000 for the second and the third a fine of $1,500, confiscation of the automobile and gun and all other equipment involved.

Moorefield's football series with Keyser is perhaps the only long one in this section that is not marked by at least one tie game. It started in 1927 and Friday's game was the 15th. Keyser won 18 to 0 and now leads in the series 12 wins to 7.

Phelan Favors Limiting Number Of Substitutes

Change In Football Rules Is Suggested

By PAT ROBINSON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—(INS)—Jimmy Phelan, veteran coach of the Los Angeles Dons, suggested today a change in the football rules to prevent unlimited substitution.

Jimmy Phelan

Phelan told a gathering of football coaches and sports writers that he favors a limit of three substitutions when the clock is stopped.

"As the rule works now," said Phelan, "we don't know where we are half the time. Players are streaming in and out of the game in batches.

"Once the boys are in a huddle substitutions should be barred. These substitutions slow down the game and neither the fans nor the coaches know what is going on."

Phelan also favors a 25-second clock on the scoreboard which would indicate to players and fans alike just how much time has been spent in a huddle.

"As it is now," he explained, "the boys in the huddle often exceed the 25-second rule and are accordingly penalized.

"The rules are pretty good as they stand as a whole. But something really should be done about this whole substitution of players which gives a strong team, three or four strong in depth, a tremendous advantage over a team which has perhaps a good first team but is not very strong in depth.

"For my part I would allow wholesale substitutions, if we must have them, only at the end of a period."

Lou Little, Columbia University coach, agreed with Phelan that unlimited substitutions detract from the game although he would not go as far as Phelan in limiting them.

"We can't go back to the old rules, of course," said Little, "because the way the game is played today we need more subs than in the old days.

"The two-platoon system (use of both an offensive and a defensive team) makes for more offensive. We all like to see scoring of course but we certainly don't yearn for too much scoring, as evidenced by some of those 34-32 games.

JIM RUEHL

Becomes 8th Gridder To Get K. Of C. Award

Jim Ruehl, Allegany High School's all-city and all-state center of 1947, and one of the sparkplugs of the Blue and White's undefeated and untied 1948 team, has been voted the Player-of-the-Week as a result of his outstanding work in Allegany's 32 to 6 victory over Martinsburg High School here Friday night.

He is the eighth player cited for an award which will be presented by Cumberland Council, Knights of Columbus.

Other players considered for the Player-of-the-Week Award were Earl "Lefty" Bruce, Wes Abrams, Johnny Vernall and Tom Oglebay. Only AHS gridders were considered because LaSalle was idle and Fort Hill and Ridgeley did not play in the stadium during the past weekend.

Ruehl, who is playing his third and final season as a regular, is the third lineman to be honored. Others who have been voted the award are Fred Corbin and Glenn Burke, Fort Hill, linemen; Edgar Tucker, Fort Hill; Wes Abrams and Earl Bruce, Allegany; Mickey Clark, LaSalle, and Paul Lindsay, Ridgeley, backs.

Booing Condemned By Coach Snavely

The newspaper said that on trips to Athens, Ga., and Knoxville, Tenn., the Tar Heels had been booed for using the two-team system and for making fair catches.

"Southern football will get a real black eye if that's going to be the kind of reception given visiting teams," Snavely was quoted.

Babe Young May Play With New York Yanks

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Norman (Babe) Young, former New York Giants first sacker, may do his first basing for the Yankees in 1949.

Young recently drew his unconditional release from the St. Louis Cardinals, with whom he finished the 1948 season.

If Officials Don't Know Rules Fine 'Em $75, Grid Coach Urges

Murray Of Marquette Irked Over Penalties

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 1—(AP)—Something new in football penalties—a $75 fine for each of the officials if one of them doesn't know the rules and the others don't call him on it—was advocated today by a 29-year veteran of college coaching.

Frank J. Murray of Marquette University, incensed by what he called "the worst officiating I've seen in years" during the Marquette-Purdue game at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday, made the suggestion.

"If no official knows the rule and none of the others correct him when he calls an incorrect penalty, they all should forfeit the pay they're getting for that game," declared Murray. "That's $75, normally, not counting expenses.

"Of course," the veteran of 20 years here and nine at the University of Virginia added, "no coach has any right at all to question the judgment of an official.

Should Forfeit Pay

"But when a definite rule is being massacred—and at least two were Saturday—and the officials don't know it they should be penalized by forfeiting their pay."

Murray, whose team lost to Purdue, 14-9, was perturbed particularly about two instances. One involved a 15-yard penalty against the Hilltoppers for defensive holding, which merits five yards only in the rule book, and the other the continued running of the clock by an official's order after Marquette threw an incomplete pass in the final few minutes.

"They called the play back and penalized us 15 yards," fumed Murray. "To begin with, why on earth should a tackle be holding when his job is to rush the kicker? And why a 15 yard penalty, when there is no such thing in the book?

Ruling Unjustified

"I protested immediately that the penalty should be five yards and asked what it was all about. I never found out, I don't know how they could justify such a ruling.

"The crowning mistake was made in the last couple of minutes when an official let the clock run 15 seconds after we threw an incomplete pass. Then, to top it off, he called time in while we were in the huddle when it should not have been called until the ball was put in play. It cost us about 30 seconds and we were only five points behind at the time.

"The Purdue people were not to blame, but I thought the officials missed too many obvious rules."

At Chicago, Jim Masker, supervisor of officials for the Big Nine, who assigned the officials for the Purdue-Marquette game, said he could make no comment on Murray's charges until he received an official complaint and also the report of the officials.

He said the work of the officials also was observed by John R. Townsend of Indianapolis, a regular procedure on games involving Big Nine teams. Townsend probably will report on the Marquette-Purdue tilt tomorrow.

May Be Other Reasons

"There may have been other reasons for the officials' action than Murray claims," Masker, a veteran Big Nine official said.

"I've known Murray for years and he is inclined to be exciteable. His idea of fining officials is incongruous."

Parsons' Champs Receive Trophy

Two Players Signed Cleveland Contracts

PARSONS, Nov. 1—Seventy-five fans and guests attended the banquet held at Sunset Inn, near Parsons on Friday evening for the Parsons baseball team. The banquet was sponsored by the National Distributing Company for the team.

Parsons won by defeating Petersburg 5-0 and 6-4 in a playoff series.

HEATH, NEVADA STAR, PLANS TO TURN PRO

Although Heath, a junior, still has a year of eligibility, Coach Joe Shekeetski said today the touchdown ace will be in the market for a pro football contract at the end of the current year.

About a month ago Heath told newsmen:

"Yes, I plan to play pro football I hope to play for several seasons in the major leagues. Later, I hope to go into advertising."

But last Saturday, after the high scoring Nevada team trounced Oklahoma City University, several Nevada players who are about at the end of their collegiate playing careers were introduced to the crowd. Among them was Heath.

Coach Shekeetski says Heath has signed no contract as yet.

"I think he ought to do what he thinks best," the coach added, "and if he feels he has reached his peak and wants to turn pro, that is his business."

Peanuts Score Fifth Touch Football Win

"Moose" Krause Says Notre Dame Still Is Ready To Play Michigan

Ingram Reports A-A Will Operate In 1949

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP) — Notre Dame still is ready to play Michigan any time, any place and the professional All - America Conference will operate again next year.

These two points were made today at the Herald-American Quarterback Club meeting at which Notre Dame's Ed (Moose) Krause and Commissioner Jonas Ingram of the All-America loop grappled with questions from the floor.

Krause, assistant Irish athletic director, was asked "why can't Notre Dame and Michigan (both apparently headed towards a second straight unbeaten season) play each other at Soldier Field?"

Krause replied:

"As Coach Frank Leahy said before this same meeting last year, Notre Dame is willing to meet Michigan any Saturday, Sunday or Monday afternoon."

Athletic Director Fritz Crisler of Michigan last week greeted the same question here with the explanation that Michigan's schedule commitments would not permit a game with Notre Dame).

Ingram slightly altered the theme he expressed in New York at a similar meeting last week when he invited the rival Nations Football League to co-operate in handling mutual problems.

Admitting that the Chicago Rockets were the weak spot in his league, Ingram said at New York that "it may be that Chicago has too many clubs," referring to the Rockets and the powerful Bears and Cardinals of the national League.

Today he speculated that Chicago "probably can maintain three teams," and said he was assured by "an awfully good authority" that the Rockets would make a fourth season try "with the strongest possible ownership."

"The All-America will operate next year," Ingram declared. "Six clubs have tremendous financial strength. If there are two major football leagues, each must be represented in Chicago which is the center of American football."

Globe Trotters, Three Colleges Get Dates Here

Klotz Due Next Week, League Opens Dec. 4

Candidates for the Cumberland Dukes of the All-American Professional Basketball League will report for their initial workout at the Central YMCA gymnasium Thursday night at 8 o'clock, Bob Whip, business manager, announced last night.

Whip extended an invitation to all members of last year's squad and other cagers in the district desiring a tryout.

Player-Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz is not due from Atlantic City until next week and the squad will hold its initial drill under direction of the new mentor on Sunday, November 10. Among the out-of-town players expected here next week are Lennie Normand, former Lehigh University basketeer and Don Markward, of Coatesville, Pa., who was an All-Pennsylvania High School forward.

The All-American League campaign doesn't get started here until the night of Sunday, December 4, but in the meantime the Dukes will meet three college quints and the famed Globe Trotters here.

Duquesne University is scheduled to play here Sunday, November 21 followed by St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., Wednesday, November 24 and St. Bonaventure College of New York State, Sunday, November 28. The Globe Trotters will blow into town on Wednesday, December 1.

The Dukes will play all of their home games at night on SS. Peter and Paul court at 9 o'clock.

Nine clubs already have registered for league competition. They are Wheeling, W. Va.; Altoona, Butler, Beaver Falls, Warren and Pittsburgh, Pa., Youngstown and East Liverpool, Ohio, and Cumberland. Commissioner Charles "Chick" Davies has set Saturday as the deadline for entering teams in the league. He is still angling for another club to make it a ten-team circuit.

Alsab's Day Wins Pimlico Feature

Cops $27,640 Purse In Marguerite Stake

PIMLICO, Md., Nov. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab's Day, a daughter of Alsab, the 1942 Preakness winner, came through with a strong stretch run and won the $15,000 added Marguerite, annual stake test for 2-year-old fillies. Ridden by Jockey R. J. Martin, Alsab's Day finished a length in advance of Miss C. Morabito's My Celeste. A length and a half farther back came C. V. Whitney's Silver Crest to be third in the field of eight.

The keen disappointment of the race was Greentree Stable's Boomdeay, the filly with the supposed punch who finished in fourth position.

Those in a crowd of 9,000 who backed Alsab's Day received a $16.20 win mutuel and watched the fleet filly turn in the best time—1.45—in the four runnings of the event.

The victory was the fifth of the year for Alsab's Day and gave her $27,640 to bring her season's earnings to a substantial $66,970.

Amateur Golfer Leads In North, South Open

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 1—(INS)—A young amateur from Greenwich, Conn., led qualifiers in the 46th annual North and South Open championship at the Pinehurst country club today with a five under par 67.

Dick Mayer, who plays at Winged Foot Club, Westchester, N. Y., and won the New York State Amateur title in 1947, scored birdies on the first, third, sixth and eighth holes going out for a 32. He then birdied the tenth, twelfth and 16th coming home. However, he went one over on the 11th and 17th.

Mayer led in 54 qualifiers with scores of 77 or better to join the invited players, who were exempt from qualifying by their past records.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

Louella Parsons

Darryl is planning a saga about the history of westerns under the title of "Horse Operas." He'll bring all past and present hard-riding gents to the screen. He hopes to get John Wayne, current hard-hitting favorite, for the lead.

Whole sequences of famous sagebrush thrillers of yesteryear will be incorporated, with such old-time favorites as Broncho Bily, Tom Mix and William S. Hart riding the range again. Gene Autry, Bill Boyd and Roy Rogers, gun blazers of today, will be used to bring the sage up to date.

Mrs. Mike" has been held up because both Dick Powell and Sam Bischoff, who own the story, want to get the right release for it. Bischoff has already gone to New York on what looks like a good offer.

Meanwhile, Ida Lupino has been approached to play Mrs. Mike opposite Dick. This is a little out of the run of Lupino roles. Ida usually is hardboiled, and a lady of shady reputation—on the screen, I mean. But there isn't anything that Lupino gal can't do. If Dick and Bischoff are able to get her, they will be lucky.

Robert Flaherty, who produced "Nanook Of the North"—an excellent picture in its day—sent me a wire about the misleading advertising of the re-issue of the old film. He had seen my story about the many complaints from ex-service men and their families who were given the mistaken impression they were going to see a modern story of Alaska.

Flaherty says that a new narration for the film brings it up to date, and that in the picture itself, it is clearly explained that the locale is Hudson Bay. He is doing all he possibly can to stop misleading advertising by local theater owners.

There's a little boy in Durango, Colorado, who's going to be thrilled this Thanksgiving. He's Paul Koss, 12-year-old son of a miner, and he's coming to Hollywood to eat turkey with Joel McCrea's sons, Jody and David.

Paul was recruited for a small scene with Joel when the "Colorado Teritory" company was on location in Durango, and the two became great pals. So Joel is bringing the child here as a special treat.

One of the park scenes in "Good Old Summertime" cals for a brief shot of a little girl and a baby in a perambulator. Guess who's going to play them? None other than Miss Liza Minnelli, aged 3, and Miss Schuyler Johnson, aged 10 months.

The young ladies, of course, are the daughters of Judy Garland and Van Johnson, stars of the movie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

A budget of three million dollars is set for "Robison Crusoe," which proves the day of the epic isn't entirely gone.

Sitting quietly in a corner having dinner at the Dells was Virginia Grey and Dick Quine, Susan Peters' ex. They are two nice people who deserve some happiness—and what could be nicer than if they found it together.

Jack Carson's romance with Chili Williams has started all over again. He flies to San Francisco practically every week to see her.

Craig Stevens has taken an apartment in New York and is determined to stay there until he gets a play. Alexis Smith is joining him as soon as she's free, and there's absolutely no truth in the rumor that they are separating.

Kathleen Winsor's father tells someone she'll have nothing to do with any man until after she finishes her next novel.

Esther Williams is staging a Hollywood premiere at a gas station she bought in Santa Monica. She'll have klieg lights, an orchestra, and stars in attendance. Smart girl that Esther.

The understatement of the year was Dan Dailey's naive remark, "Were you looking for me?" when he telephoned from Dallas.

Sewer Notice Ordinance Passed

Owners of property abutting on the easterly side of Holland Street, from approximately 50 feet south of Roeth Avenue to the intersection of Sunbury Avenue, were notified yesterday by the Mayor and Council that the city intends to sewer and otherwise improve that section.

The notice ordinance was adopted yesterday and a public hearing set for 10 a. m. November 15 in City Hall.

An application for a license to open a pawnbroker's business at 100 North Mechanic Street by Melvin M. Sack was referred to the police chief for a report to the Council. The application said an occupancy permit has been granted by the city engineer.

Action on a dispute over the blocking of an alley running south from Warnick Avenue was delayed until City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer meets with interested parties and makes an attempt to reach a compromise. Mrs. Edward J. Weber, Greenway Avenue, told the Council last week that trucks owned by A. L. Brown blocked the alley which adjoins the two properties. Brown appeared today with a proposal to relocate the alley.

Collections, as reported by City Tax Collector James M. Conway, totaled $49,609.79 last month as follows: General, $21,943.55; 1931 sewer bonds, $219.80 and water rents $27,446.44.

Receipts in the office of City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery totaled $1,999.75 as follows: General licenses, $83; produce permit, 50 cents; Sunday movie tax, $1,224.80; and admission tax, $691.45.

Melvin O'Neal Forfeits Reckless Driving Bond

Melvin Kyle O'Neal, 1205 Bedford Street, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of reckless driving. He had been arrested Friday morning after the car he was driving hit a power pole on Greene Street.

Tillman Lee Haines, of Eckhart, who posted $112.90 on two state traffic charges, was granted a continuance of his hearing until tomorrow morning in Trial Magistrates Court. Officers John Powers and Kenneth Morrissey arrested the man Saturday evening after a minor collision on Baltimore Avenue.

Crippled League Gets Parallel Bars

A group of local men has donated parallel bars to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children for the use in rehabilitation of children whose limbs have been affected by disease.

The bars were used for the first time by Gary Bowman, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowman, 427 South Street.

Commissioner of Fire and Police William V. Keegan and J. Monroe Sharer instigated the project and were aided by Richard Wadsworth, Street Superintendent Martin M. Corrigan, and John Himes and Clarence Dyche, city employes.

Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the league designed the bars which are adjustable to heights of the various youngsters who receive treatment. A mirror at one end of the bar enables the youngster to observe his progress.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

Louella Parsons

Darryl is planning a saga about the history of westerns under the title of "Horse Operas." He'll bring all past and present hard-riding gents to the screen. He hopes to get John Wayne, current hard-hitting favorite, for the lead.

Whole sequences of famous sagebrush thrillers of yesteryear will be incorporated, with such old-time favorites as Broncho Bily, Tom Mix and William S. Hart riding the range again. Gene Autry, Bill Boyd and Roy Rogers, gun blazers of today, will be used to bring the sage up to date.

Mrs. Mike" has been held up because both Dick Powell and Sam Bischoff, who own the story, want to get the right release for it. Bischoff has already gone to New York on what looks like a good offer.

Meanwhile, Ida Lupino has been approached to play Mrs. Mike opposite Dick. This is a little out of the run of Lupino roles. Ida usually is hardboiled, and a lady of shady reputation—on the screen, I mean. But there isn't anything that Lupino gal can't do. If Dick and Bischoff are able to get her, they will be lucky.

Robert Flaherty, who produced "Nanook Of the North"—an excellent picture in its day—sent me a wire about the misleading advertising of the re-issue of the old film. Sewer Notice Ordinance Passed

Owners of property abutting on the easterly side of Holland Street, from approximately 50 feet south of Roeth Avenue to the intersection of Sunbury Avenue, were notified yesterday by the Mayor and Council that the city intends to sewer and otherwise improve that section.

The notice ordinance was adopted yesterday and a public hearing set for 10 a. m. November 15 in City Hall.

An application for a license to open a pawnbroker's business at 100 North Mechanic Street by Melvin M. Sack was referred to the police chief for a report to the Council. The application said an occupancy permit has been granted by the city engineer.

Action on a dispute over the blocking of an alley running south from Warnick Avenue was delayed until City Engineer Ralph L. Collections, as reported by City Tax Collector James M. Conway, totaled $49,609.79 last month as follows: General, $21,943.55; 1931 sewer bonds, $219.80 and water rents $27,446.44.

Receipts in the office of City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery totaled $1,999.75 as follows: General licenses, $83; produce permit, 50 cents; Sunday movie tax, $1,224.80; and admission tax, $691.45.

Melvin O'Neal Forfeits Reckless Driving Bond

Melvin Kyle O'Neal, 1205 Bedford Street, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of reckless driving. He had been arrested Friday morning after the car he was driving hit a power pole on Greene Street.

Tillman Lee Haines, of Ecknart, who posted $112.90 on two state traffic charges, was granted a continuance of his hearing until tomorrow morning in Trial Magistrates Court. Officers John Powers and Kenneth Morrissey arrested the man Saturday evening after a minor collision on Baltimore Avenue.

Crippled League Gets Parallel Bars

A group of local men has donated parallel bars to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children for the use in rehabilitation of children whose limbs have been affected by disease.

The bars were used for the first time by Gary Bowman, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowman, 427 South Street.

Commissioner of Fire and Police William V. Keegan and J. Monroe Sharer instigated the project and were aided by Richard Wadsworth, Street Superintendent Martin M. Corrigan, and John Himes and Clarence Dyche, city employes.

Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the league designed the bars which are adjustable to heights of the various youngsters who receive treatment. A mirror at one end of the bar enables the youngster to observe his progress.

Conservationists Distribute 6,751 Bass In 4 West Virginia Counties

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A total of 6,751 small mouth black bass from the Gilkeson Old Fields Bass ponds were distributed in Hardy, Grant, Pendleton and Hampshire counties last week by E. C. Surber of the Federal Fish Hatchery at Leetown and members of the West Virginia Conservation Commission.

The bass were stocked as fry early last spring in the four rearing ponds near Old Fields and were from four to six inches in length when the ponds were drained.

The Gilkeson Rearing Ponds were built 10 years ago on land donated by Misses Martha and Danue Gilkeson and by the sportsmen of the four counties. The nine-acre tract has four ponds and the water supply is ideal for the rearing of bass. An equal distribution of the fish crop each fall is made to the four counties.

A count of the bass showed 1,158 in Pond No. 1, 1,936 in Pond No. 2, 1,351 in Pond No. 3 and 2,306 in Pond No. 4.

An unusual feature this year was the number of salamanders found when the ponds were drained. A total of 86 pounds of them were removed from the ponds.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—A total of 6,751 small mouth black bass from the Gilkeson Old Fields Bass ponds were distributed in Hardy, Grant, Pendleton and Hampshire counties last week by E. C. Surber of the Federal Fish Hatchery at Leetown and members of the West Virginia Conservation Commission.

The bass were stocked as fry early last spring in the four rearing ponds near Old Fields and were from four to six inches in length when the ponds were drained.

The Gilkeson Rearing Ponds were built 10 years ago on land donated by Misses Martha and Danue Gilkeson and by the sportsmen of the four counties. The nine-acre tract has four ponds and the water supply is ideal for the rearing of bass. An equal distribution of the fish crop each fall is made to the four counties.

A count of the bass showed 1,158 in Pond No. 1, 1,936 in Pond No. 2, 1,351 in Pond No. 3 and 2,306 in Pond No. 4.

An unusual feature this year was the number of salamanders found when the ponds were drained. A total of 86 pounds of them were removed from the ponds.

Networks To Have Little Else Than Election Returns

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Its election night, so the networks on Tuesday, and television too, will have little if anything else save broadcasts about the returns. They plan to start early in the evening and keep it up until.

This is the schedule the four chains have laid out, for the evening, the broadcasts to run as long as developments warrant, even into the early hours of the next day. It thus will take the place of regularly scheduled shows, even Bob Hope, Fibber, etc.

The times: MBS 7 to 7:45 and then 8 to signoff.

NBC and CBS 8 to closing.

The television is to have a similar schedule, two hookups to be in operation, east coast and midwest. In addition all the country's 40 or so telecasters will be in action. The networks expect to get things going by these times: NBC east 9 and midwest 7:30; ABC east and Midwest 7:30; CBS east 7:45; Dumont east 8:30.

The election broadcasting is expected to include some comments from overseas about the possible reaction there. Also there will be an active schedule of short wave relaying of the returns from this country.

A couple of previews also are to be available before things really get going. CBS is to have one at 6:15; NBC another at 7:30. The other networks also will be calling attention to what they plan.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Small Trends

TODAY is our day for small trends, the smaller the better, for little happenings in radio of minute consequence and virtually no significance A man gets tired of handing down sweeping judgments every day; every man should have a day of rest devoted exclusively to any minutiae he happens to have lying around. I have a whole bagful at my elbow. Here are a few.

John Crosby

The announcer on "We, the People" last week summed up the apathy characteristic of this election with magnificent though unconscious irony in a routine announcement which went: "Next Tuesday, election night, 'We, the People' will not be heard."

A few weeks ago in the soap opera "When a Girl Marries," the tangle of misunderstanding which characterizes that as well as all other soap operas suddenly cleared. Nobody was at cross purposes with any one else. No one was frustrated about anything. No one was struck with hysterical blindness or, more importantly, with even the fear of approaching blindness. For one day, every blessed soul on "When a Girl Marries" was blissfully happy.

As if that wasn't enough to shake my faith in the established order of things, there was the case on "Suspense" of Ray Milland playing the part of one of those tough, extraordinarily competent detectives who is tracking down a murderer. He thought he had his man, a very suspicious character, but the guy wouldn't answer questions. In a moment of anger, the cop slugged the murder suspect, who instantly dropped dead. The rest of the story was devoted to Milland's efforts to beat a murder rap himself. I can't think what drove the writer of that program to shatter an ancient tradition in such an uncouth manner, to make a cop behave in a way that no cop has ever behaved on the radio. Iconoclasm? Desperation? Or simply the belief that radio hasn't long to live anyway and we might just as well start breaking up the joint right now?

• — • — •

On "Ladies Be Seated" the other day, a woman was presented with a question which would tax the intellect of a three-week-old-child. What state, asked Tom Moore, the emcee, is distinguished by orange groves, mineral deposits and gold?

"Illinois," said the lady.

Mr. Moore sighed and threw in a few more clews. The state he had in mind, said Moore, was known for its cinema and sunshine; the capital was Sacramento and the theme song was, in garbled version, "Da da da da, here I come." In the end Moore had to tell her the right answer was California.

"I'm from Florida," the lady informed him grimly, "and I don't want to publicize that state on the radio."

Camels.
W.N.B.T.

"As suggested for TV, the plan would answer repeated inquiries from video audiences: 'What station is this?' and 'Who is the sponsor?'"

Anyone around here been asking those questions?

Optimism Over Republican Victory Causes Highest Advance In A Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The stock market put on a pre-election rally of its own today.

The advance, despite a last-minute touch of selling, was the largest in more than a week. Final prices showed gains of fractions to more than a point, with many issues under the day's widest mark-ups.

Market optimism over outcome of the elections Tuesday was thoroughly tempered with caution. Price movements during the day were erratic, as key issues frequently paused or wabbled downward for a while.

Steels and motors were among the most vulnerable to the late selling after having paced the market earlier. Still higher, though, were U. S. Steel at 84¼, Bethlehem 39¼, Republic 32⅞ and National Steel 111. Youngstown Sheet was off nearly a point at 87⅝.

Metal issues held up well throughout. Closing higher were Anaconda at 38⅛, Kennecott at 60¾, American Smelting 61⅞, International Nickel 33, and Phelps Dodge 58.

Rails stayed on an advancing track on comparatively limited turnover. Star performer in this group was Central Railroad of N. J., a strong spot last week, which advanced 1¼ to 39 after reaching a new high for the year during the day. Also ahead were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania R. R., Southern Railway, Great Northern preferred, Baltimore & Ohio, and Illinois Central, Chesapeake & Ohio was trimmed a small fraction.

X-Ray Unit In County Tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow, an x-ray unit of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association will be in Allegany County to make a mass chest survey, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer. It will be in the county until November 16.

The unit will be at the State Armory every day except Sundays and Mondays from Wednesday with two technicians taking an average of 80 x-rays an hour. The chest x-rays will be taken daily from 10 a. m. to noon and from 3 to 6 p. m. except Saturdays when the hours will be 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3 p. m.

Arrangements have been made for another mobile x-ray unit on a trailer truck to make visits to Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Cresaptown.

Co-sponsors are the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association and the local Health Department.

All adults and boys and girls 14 years of age or over may have an x-ray made without cost, Dr. Cooper said. The process, which takes about 10 minutes, does not involve undressing and is as simple as having a picture taken he added.

Reports on the x-rays are kept confidential. Persons will be notified if another x-ray is needed for any reason whatsoever.

The unit will be in Mt. Savage on Wednesday, November 10, from 2 until 7 p. m.

From there it will go to Frostburg, where it will be located at State Teachers' College for two days, Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, from 2 until 7 p. m.

Other communities to be visited by the mobile unit include Lonaconing on Saturday, November 13; Westernport on Monday, November 15, and Cresaptown on Tuesday, November 16.

The unit will be located on a main street in those towns and will be in operation from 2 to 7 p. m. on the specified days.

Dr. Cooper said that lay health workers will aid in clerical work of registering those wishing to be x-rayed.

Organizations which will provide clerical help in Cumberland are the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Navy Mothers Club, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Women's Civic Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Presbyterian Church Women, Episcopal Church Women and the Cumberland unit of the Allegany County Public Health Lay Council.

The Lay Council will supply clerical workers on the visits in other points in the county.

Warning that early tuberculosis has no signs or symptoms, Dr. Cooper said that the way to find tuberculosis in its early stages, when it is most easily cured, is to x-ray persons who seem to be healthy.

About 10 out of every 1,000 persons show signs of tuberculosis when x-rayed, Dr. Cooper said, adding that most of those 10 need medical care.

However, many thousands of tuberculosis patients return to work each year, either completely cured or so much better that they can go back to their old jobs, he said.

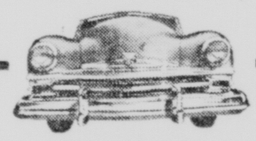

However, many thousands of tuberculosis patients return to work tmas Seal campaigns in the county, according to William J. Edwards, chairman of the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association.

Edwards pointed out that the 1948-49 Christmas Seal campaign is scheduled to begin November 22, the week after the survey is completed.

Optimism Over Republican Victory Causes Highest Advance In A Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The stock market put on a pre-election rally of its own today.

The advance, despite a last-minute touch of selling, was the largest in more than a week. Final prices showed gains of fractions to more than a point, with many issues under the day's widest mark-ups.

Market optimism over outcome of the elections Tuesday was thoroughly tempered with caution. Price movements during the day were erratic, as key issues frequently paused or wabbled downward for a while.

Wall Street expects a Republican victory. The last-hour pressure was interpreted as a significant indication that many traders had considerable doubt over how large the Republican majority might be.

Steels and motors were among the most vulnerable to the late selling after having paced the market earlier. Still higher, though, were U. S. Steel at 84¼, Bethlehem 39¼, Republic 32⅞ and National Steel 111. Youngstown Sheet was off nearly a point at 87⅝.

Metal issues held up well throughout. Closing higher were Anaconda at 38⅛, Kennecott at 60¾, American Smelting 61⅝, International Nickel 33, and Phelps Dodge 58.

Rails stayed on an advancing track on comparatively limited turnover. Star performer in this group was Central Railroad of N. J., a strong spot last week, which advanced 1¼ to 39 after reaching a new high for the year during the day. Also ahead were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania R. R., Southern Railway, Great Northern preferred, Baltimore & Ohio, and Illinois Central, Chesapeake & Ohio was trimmed a small fraction.

The loans of two railroads today accounted for almost half the volume of the bond market.

Two Permits Issued To Build Garages

Merl C. Boyer, 508 Welch Avenue, secured a permit in the city engineer's office yesterday to build a garage on the rear of Lots 59 and 60, Frederick Street.

The one-story concrete block structure will measure 24 by 24 feet, with an asphalt shingle roof. Work is estimated to cost $500.

An occupancy permit was granted to Melvin M. Sack, 316 Cumberland Street, to use the first floor of a two-story brick building at 100 North Mechanic Street as a jewelry store. The building is owned by the J. H. Holzshu Company, South Centre Street.

Henry Mullaney, 501 Magruder Street, obtained a permit to build a garage attached to the rear of a house at 208 Washington Street, at an estimated cost of $200. The one-story concrete block structure will measure 12 by 20 feet, with a concrete roof. Work will be done by Arch Robinette.

Edgar C. Messick secured a permit to enclose a porch at 738 Maryland Avenue, using lumber walls and a concrete foundation. The enclosure will measure 6½ by 14 feet and cost is estimated at $150.

X-Ray Unit In County Tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow, an x-ray unit of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association will be in Allegany County to make a mass chest survey, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer. It will be in the county until November 16.

The unit will be at the State Armory every day except Sundays and Mondays from Wednesday with two technicians taking an average of 80 x-rays an hour. The chest x-rays will be taken daily from 10 a. m. to noon and from 3 to 6 p. m. except Saturdays when the hours will be 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3 p. m.

Arrangements have been made for another mobile x-ray unit on a trailer truck to make visits to Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Cresaptown.

Co-sponsors are the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association and the local Health Department.

All adults and boys and girls 14 years of age or over may have an x-ray made without cost, Dr. Cooper said. The process, which takes about 10 minutes, does not involve undressing and is as simple as having a picture taken he added.

Reports on the x-rays are kept confidential. Persons will be notified if another x-ray is needed for any reason whatsoever.

The mobile unit, which contains a drying room for negatives, a dark room and an x-ray room, has a capacity of 80 x-rays an hour.

The unit will be in Mt. Savage on Wednesday, November 10, from 2 until 7 p. m.

From there it will go to Frostburg, where it will be located at State Teachers' College for two days, Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, from 2 until 7 p. m.

Other communities to be visited by the mobile unit include Lonaconing on Saturday, November 13; Westernport on Monday, November 15, and Cresaptown on Tuesday, November 16.

The unit will be located on a main street in those towns and will be in operation from 2 to 7 p. m. on the specified days.

Dr. Cooper said that lay health workers will aid in clerical work of registering those wishing to be x-rayed.

Organizations which will provide clerical help in Cumberland are the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Navy Mothers Club, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Women's Civic Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Presbyterian Church Women, Episcopal Church Women and the Cumberland unit of the Allegany County Public Health Lay Council.

The Lay Council will supply clerical workers on the visits in other points in the county.

Warning that early tuberculosis has no signs or symptoms, Dr. Cooper said that the way to find tuberculosis in its early stages, when it is most easily cured, is to x-ray persons who seem to be healthy.

About 10 out of every 1,000 persons show signs of tuberculosis when x-rayed, Dr. Cooper said, adding that most of those 10 need medical care.

However, many thousands of tuberculosis patients return to work each year, either completely cured or so much better that they can go back to their old jobs, he said.

However, many thousands of tuberculosis patients return to work tmas Seal campaigns in the county, according to William J. Edwards, chairman of the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association.

Edwards pointed out that the 1948-49 Christmas Seal campaign is scheduled to begin November 22, the week after the survey is completed.

Armed Bandits Sought

Pair Holds Up Liquor Store At Gun Point

Martin's Clerk Backed To Wall

Two very business-like bandits, one carrying a "small pistol," methodically picked $100 out of the cash register after backing the clerk to the wall at Martin's Liquor Store, 15 Baltimore Street, yesterday at 5:15 p. m.

Police quoted the clerk, Philip Decker, 11 South Lee Street, as saying the pair entered the store during a business lull and walked straight to the cash register. "This is a stickup," the taller of the two bandits informed Decker.

Local authorities received first notice of the holdup shortly after the pair fled from the store and ran down Canal Street. The two men were not masked.

Carried Small Pistol

Decker told Detectives Ernest Powell and Joseph Stitcher that the tallest man, "about five tall, eight inches," stepped behind the counter and looted the register. The second man stood at the Baltimore Street entrance with his back to the door.

The armed bandit carried a small pistol, which police said would be either a .32 caliber or short .38 caliber. Decker said the weapon was almost completely covered by the man's hand.

The two detectives said they were told the men worked fast and then ordered Decker to turn his face to a liquor shelf "until we get out and get the car started." They also took Decker's wallet and two miniature bottles of liquor. Police said the wallet was empty.

Decker told police he saw the reflection of the two men in a window as they ran down Canal Street and then used a telephone to notify police headquarters. Police learned later that the Western Maryland Railway crossing was blocked by a train as the pair fled.

A cruiser car and the two detectives were sent to the scene immediately. They checked Canal Street as other police were notifid and given a description of the pair.

The taller man's age was placed at 25 years, and police said he was wearing a gray felt hat and a dark jacket that "zipped up the front." He had brown hair and was dark complexioned.

The second man, police said, was about five feet, four inches tall and weighed about 165 pounds. He wore a tan work cap and tan jacket. He was between 35 and 40 years of age.

Second Robbery

Last night's robbery was the second liquor store holdup to occur here this year. The first was on April 2 when an armed bandit "flashed a gun" and took approximately $600 from the register at

MUMMERS-- Forty prizes were awarded last night by the 40 and 8 to participants in the mummers parade on Baltimore Street. In the top picture are three prize winning costumes. Left to right are Mrs. Ruth Mooney, as a Red Cross Nurse; her daughter, Mrs. Helen McKenzie, as "Miss Liberty," and Irvin McKenzie as Uncle Sam. The trio resides in Frostburg. The lower picture shows little Jacqueline Palmer and Earl Hardman riding their "bicycle built for two."

Marine Reserve Asks Permission For Rifle Range

Request by the local Marine Reserve unit for city approval of construction of a small bore rifle range at the Navy and Marine Corps Training Center on McKaig's Hill was referred to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer yesterday for investigation and report.

In his written request to the Mayor and Council, Capt. John T. Fey, commanding officer of Company D, Fifth Infantry Battalion, USMCR, said that approval by Navy Public Works must also be obtained.

Fey explained the range would be so located as to allow firing of .22 caliber rifles and pistols into the side of the hill without danger to residents of the vicinity.

He added that the range would be used only by members of Company D under proper supervision. No weapons will be carried on the streets and neither weapons nor ammunition will be stored in the vicinity of the rifle range, Fey said.

Charles F. Heller, foreman of maintenance and construction at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, reported that the beacon of the 60-foot steel tower at the port has been painted orange and white in accordance with federal regulations. Leaks in the hangar roof have been repaired and catch basins cleaned.

The Water Department reported 16 applications for meters and 14 for taps at a total cost of $572.50. Fifty-five water inspections were made during the month.

Local Briefs

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners will meet only once this week—on Friday—because of election day today. The Court House will also be closed today. Return day will be held Thursday at the Court House with election workers scheduled to be paid for their services.

The Potomac Park Improvement Association will hold a masquerade dance Friday at 8:30 p. m. at the Jockey Club at Fairgo with costume prizes to be awarded. Mrs. Oscar Varner is chairman of the committee which includes Mrs. Harold Turner, Mrs. R. H. Von Kaske, Edward Shaffer, Ray Simpson, William Strawser, Claude Yoder and Wilbur Nunamaker.

A divorce has been granted in Circuit Court to Betty Claire Stair in her cross-bill against William Stair. She was also granted the right to resume the use of her maiden name, Betty Claire Hamilton.

Heavy Balloting Predicted By Party Observers

Polls Open Today From 7 A. M. To 7 P. M.

Today is election day.

Seventy-five polling places in Allegany County will open at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 7 p. m. to give every registered voter a chance to cast his ballot.

J. Glenn Beall, lifelong resident of this county, is the Republican incumbent, opposed by F. Byrne Austin, Democrat of Montgomery County.

Regardless of which of these two is elected, politicians and other political observers will watch the outcome with interest. Organized labor, making their first concerted and united effort in behalf of any single candidate, has indicated "labor will get its own vote out."

Public buildings, including the Court House, banks and other institutions will observe Election Day as a holiday. Many workers plan to "take the day off' and work the polls as clerks, judges, watchers or party workers.

Late last night leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties here said workers have been hired, plenty of cars will be out to haul voters to the polls and both sides predict victory and agree on a heavy vote. Both sides admit some curiosity about labor's efforts.

Progressive, Socialist and Dixiecrat parties are practically non-existent here, with the possible exception of the Progressives who will have two or three cars out, it was indicated. With the exception of the major parties, indications are the "outside" parties will make a poor showing.

Celebrate Anniversary

Pride of Allegany Council 110, D of A, will celebrate its 15th anniversary at Junior Order Hall at 7:30 tonight.

A Tragedy . . . It Was Averted

It could have been tragic.

But only three men on North Centre Street at 10:40 p. m. were aware of it and they simply smiled. What else is there to do when a small mouse goes tearing about in the business district—over one woman's shoe, between another's feet and then back down a manhole grate?

The women—they didn't see it . . . and it just proves that what you don't see won't hurt you . . . sometimes, that is.

Reynolds Reports 9 Streets Graded

Nine streets have been graded, rolled and ditched, according to the monthly report of Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds, which was submitted yesterday to the Mayor and Council.

Those streets were Pine, Yale, Monroe, Ford, Woodside, Pearl, Winmer, City View Terrace and Willow Brook Road.

Holes were repaved with blacktop on Washington, South Mechanic, Harrison, Broadway, Columbia, Wineow, Cumberland, South, Maryland and Henderson Avenues, Seymour, Spruce, Plum and King Streets, Willow Brook Road and Highland Avenue, in the alley from Walnut to Chestnut Streets and in the alley from Walnut Street eastward.

Holes were repaved with brick and concrete on Columbia, Williams, Beall, Greene, Frederick and North Centre Streets, and the sidewalks at the corner of Greene and Chase Streets.

Reynolds reported that 763 paved streets were cleaned during the month, with 80 paved alleys, four catch basins and one manhole cleaned.

Kessel Held In Default Of Bond

Arrested here Saturday on a false pretense charge, Lynn Wardell Kessel, Scherr, W. Va., was ordered held in default of $500 bond for action of the grand jury at a preliminary hearing in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday.

Authorities said the man purchased two tires and tubes, valued at $112.80, and paid for them with a check that proved to be "fradulent."

Annual Mummers Parade Revival Proves Popular

Hundreds Dress Up For Street Affair

Cumberland's Halloween Mummers Parade on Baltimore Street last night was reminiscent of the festivities held here annually a number of years ago, but which gradually died out for want of a sponsor.

Several hundred people, including residents of nearby towns, appeared in a variety of costumes and "get-ups" and marched behind Fulton Meyers Post American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Members of the local Voiture, Society of 40 and 8, handed out tickets to prize winning costumes and after the parade was over, the tickets were redeemed for cash prizes ranging from $1 to $5. A total of 40 prizes was awarded.

To Be Annual Event

Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds, who was instrumental in promoting a renewal of the annual mardi gras here, said the 40 and 8 has agreed to sponsor the affair annually and to "make it bigger and better each year."

A score of members of the 40 and 8 assisted with the affair last night and a unit of Auxiliary Police officers was on hand to help with traffic and the crowd.

Among the costumes were every type of conceivable character. There were clowns, skeletons, monkeys, China dolls, patriotic ideas, ghosts, witches, old time outfits, Spanish ladies, cowboys, cowgirls and Indians, and countless others. Groups portraying some idea such as Uncle Sam, Liberty and the Red Cross, a preacher and a couple being married, a hotel porter and guest, a couple on a bicycle built for two, and other couples and trios were much in evidence.

Beall Predicts GOP Landslide On Election Eve

Cites Good Record Of 80ih Congress

Congressman J. Glenn Beall, of this city and Frostburg, who represents the Sixth Maryland District in the House of Representatives and is a candidate today for re-election, late last night predicted victory for the "Republican Party from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

Rep. Beall said all the major private polling services show decided percentages in favor of Dewey, Warren and the general Republican Party tickets almost everywhere.

Income Taxes Reduced

The Congressman said voters should remember that the 80th Congress reduced income taxes because the Republicans had pledged then, as they do now, relief from back-breaking taxes brought on by Democratic, Socialistic, New Deal spending.

Speaking on labor legislation, Beall declared the passage of the Taft-Hartley Act over the President's veto guarantees and reinforces labor's right to collective bargaining, right to strike and right to organize.

He cited that the "official records of the Bureau of Labor Statistics in the Department of Labor show there has been a substantial reduction in work stoppages since the Taft-Hartley Act became effective August 22, 1947.

"Under the helpful provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law, Beall continued," labor unions have made the best wage contracts in the history of labor organization. Wages have been increased. They have kept pace with the increased cost of living since the Act became effective. There has been more constant production of the things people need. This production is helping adjust prices at home, and is assisting nations abroad in their recovery after the war."

First Surplus In 16 Years

Beall said the record shows that when the 80th Republican Congress took over the national purse strings in January 1947, it went to work immediately and took the country out of the red financially.

"We established the first Treasury surplus this country has seen in 16 years," he declared.

Rep. Beall said he is confident people in this county will keep the county in line with the national trend and vote Republican at the polls today. He urged that every registered voter go to the polls and cast his or her ballot.

Democrats Explain Absence Of Union Label On Posters

Austin Says Cards Were "Gift To Me"

Members of the Democratic Campaign Committee of Allegany County last night issued a statement replying to charges that F. Byrne Austin is using campaign literature which does not carry the printers' union label, despite the fact that he is endorsed by many labor unions.

Democratic spokesmen said, "This is a piece of last minute political strategy on the part of the Republicans, designed to divert public attention from Congressman Beall's anti-labor voting record."

The Democratic leaders submitted the following letter from John B. Haggerty, Washington, D. C., chairman of the Board of Governors of the Allied Printing Trades Union, AFL.

"The Allied Printing Trades Association, AFL, wishes to make known the fact that the posters used in the campaign for Congress by F. Byrne Austin did not bear the union label because there were no facilities in or around the district to handle this type of work in a union shop.

"We are informed that all other printing matter used in the campaign bears the Allied Printing Trades Union label, AFL. The names of the union firms printing this material can be furnished by Mr. Austin. Therefore, since an effort was made to obtain union made posters, and since he has used the label on all other printed material, the Allied Printing Trades Association, AFL, has no objection to the action taken by Mr. Austin.

"The posters in question were purchased by Joseph E. Smith, a Takoma Park contractor, as a gift to me. I did not arrange for their printing but after I learned they did not carry the union label I called the printer at once and asked for the job to be held up.

"The work of printing the 47 inch special posters which have a protective coating against the weather had already been started. I then tried to find a printing company in Washington or Maryland which could do the job but was unable to do so.

"I contacted officials of the Allied Printing Trades Council in Washington and they said they would okay the job as a result of a situation over which I had no control. The Allied Printing Trades Council will issue a statement in support of my contention.

"This last-minute attempt to attack me is unfair and shows that the opposition is becoming panicky over the thought that labor is backing me in my candidacy."

The Weather

Cumberland has had one sunny week so it looks like rain is in order for awhile. Although the maximum temperature yesterday was a respectable 64 degrees, 0.27 inches of rain piled up in the 24 hour period. It will probably be a little cooler today, because late last night the thermometer read 58, only eight degrees above the minimum. Today will also be cloudy with probably recurrence of yesterday's showers toward evening.

Voting Machines

Four Counties, Baltimore Vote Mechanically Today

Four counties and a city in Maryland will be using voting machines in today's election as citizens of this county decide on paper ballots if they will continue to use the pencil in selecting office holders.

The mechanical tabulators are long-time fixtures in Baltimore City and Montgomery County, while in Anne Arundel and Howard Counties voters will be mechanically balloting on Presidential candidates for the first time.

The mechanized devices would be counting votes in Allegany County today, too, but the issue was forced into a referendum.

The Maryland Legislative Council has before it now a proposal that the General Assembly make voting machines mandatory for the whole state.

State Senator P. G. Stromberg (D-Howard) is chief sponsor of the measure. He has argued that the machines will pay for themselves in eight or 10 years because the counties would have to pay fewer clerks to do the counting.

Where voting machines are used, the result of the various races is available a few minutes after the polls close. In Allegany County it will be well into the wee hours of the morning before the results are known—if they are known then.

Just a few of the advantages that the voting machines offer are called to the voters' minds this election morning in an article appearing in Business Week's October 30 issue:

"They are Flexible—The machines are sufficiently flexible to serve in many types of elections—whether they may be for few or many candidates.

"They are Tamper-Proof—Accuracy is guaranteed, because present machines are fraud proof. If the back is removed in an attempt to learn the tabulation, the mechanism automatically locks and can no longer be used during the polling day.

"They Come in Four Sizes—The machines come in four sizes. All have nine rows for political parties. The largest has 60 columns for candidates, the smallest 30.

"Problems—Sometimes the machines have tough problems to handle. For instance, in Indiana today, voters will find a referendum question on a veteran's bonus. The machines have been so geared that a voter who votes "yes" can also choose among five methods of financing the bonus.

Allegany County can have the speed, accuracy and economy of the voting machine in the next election, if the citizens want them.

Lt. Col. Millholland Urges Veterans To Vote Republican

Claiming a "pussy-footing administration" during World War II, following a program of appeasement with Russia, set the pattern for the present trouble with Russia, Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, a combat veteran of the ETO, last night urged veterans to support the Republican local and national tickets.

Col. Millholland said he has never before taken any part in politics or political campaigns except to exercise his right of franchise, but he believes he and all veterans should weigh this national election carefully.

Millholland told how his unit had been halted in an advance on to Berlin, by what turned out to be a previous agreement with Russia. He charged that the Roosevelt Administration had appeased the Russians even then by permitting Stalin to occupy Berlin and other cities first.

This sort of appeasement set the stage for present difficulties, and the GIs in Europe then were alarmed and angered over the situation, he said.

Col. Millholland, in urging all veterans to support the Republican ticket, declared, "Take a quick look at the present situation in this country today. . . the high prices, the lack of housing, high taxes, government spending, high feeling between races and creeds, etc. These things were not caused by the 80th Congress, they were caused by a definite lack of leadership in the Executive branch of the present administration . . . and no place else.

"From a veterans viewpoint," Col. Millholland said, "I feel that every voter, no matter what his party affiliation might be, must go to the polls and elect Dewey and Warren to head the government of the United States . . . and then elect J. Glenn Beall to help run it."

DAV Will Hold Open House On Armistice Day

Open house from 12 o'clock noon until 12 midnight, with a free lunch served to guests, will be observed Armistice Day at the home of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, according to John Hoffman, commander.

A regular chapter meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at which time plans for the Open House will be completed. Plans will also be outlined for the Forget-Me-Not week sale, and Armistice Day parade plans will be discussed.

The Forget-Me-Not committee will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. at the home to complete plans for the sale of the benefit flowers from November 8 to 13, inclusive.

The Chapter is holding its annual membership drive, and all ex-service men, with honorable discharges, who have a disability rating, may affiliate with the DAV, Hoffman explained. Membership in the organization here is growing and is expected to reach an all time high in 1949.

Hoffman urges all active members to attend the meeting Wednesday, and all members with membership applications to make their reports at that meeting.

Only Three City Officials Answer Charter Appeal

Buchholtz, Gibson, Rizer Aid Group

Only three city department heads have responded to a request for suggestions to aid the Cumberland Charter Commission in preparing a new city charter, Chairman Isaac Hirsch said last night.

Hirsch said replies have been received from Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz; City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

Buchholtz aided the charter group's sub-committee on finance to prepare its report, while Gibson conferred with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan on several matters covered in the latter's detailed recommendations to the commission.

Rizer recommended in his reply that plats of new property developments both within the city and within one mile beyond the city limits be approved by the city engineer before the developments are accepted by the Mayor and Council.

The commission adopted a written opinion from Rizer advising that the city boundary line be retained at its present location on the Maryland bank of the Potomac.

Rizer pointed out that the city might have to assume maintenace of the Blue Bridge and the Wiley Ford bridge if the boundary line were changed to follow the state boundary line, which is low water mark on the West Virginia side of the river.

Former Congressman David J. Lewis attended last night's meeting of the commission to urge a clear distinction between executive and legislative functions in the new charter and to discuss alleged inequities in present water ordinances.

Magistrate Will Address Optimists On Juvenile Delinquency Problem

Thomas E. Stakem, magistrate of Juvenile Court, will address the Cumberland Optimist Club at its dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. He will cite facts and statistics concerning juvenile delinquency rates in Cumberland and vicinity in an effort to co-ordinate the work of the Optimist Club with the duties of the court.

Magistrate Stakem, a native of Lonaconing, has been a resident of Midland for a number of years. He served two terms as Mayor of Midland and was trial magistrate during the terms of Governors Ritchie and O'Conor. Stakem was appointed magistrate for juvenile causes on May 2, 1947, by Governor Lane.

"Boys who do not have the normal advantages of home and parental guidance are prone to drift into the paths of delinquency and crime," Stakem said yesterday. "For this reason, we ask the support of organizations like the Optimists in helping unfortunate boys to better themselves and aid them to erase the effects of a bad start in life.

"America today picks the men who will lead us for the next four years," continued Stakem. "These leaders of today were the boys of yesterday. They have shown their ability and training by reaching the highest offices in the land.

It is the duty of every American to see that today's young boys will have the same chance and same opportunities open to them when they reach manhood. This is the guiding purpose of the Cumberland Optimist organization and we commend them for the fine work they are doing."

The Cumberland Optimist Club, led by Robert S. Arrington, president, will join the 700 other clubs in Optimist International in celebrating the week of November 7 to 13 as International Optimist Week. This period is set aside each year for the purpose of acquainting the general public with the work they are doing.

Special programs for the week will be under the direction of Hugh G. Funkhouser, immediate past president, assisted by Robert O. Collins, H. L. Cornelius, John S. Edwards, I. Newton Evans, Raymond Hinkle and Dr. Leonard S. Cooper.

Charter Plan Would Extend Police Power

Drafts On Water System Submitted

General police jurisdiction one mile beyond the city limits was recommended as a provision in the proposed new city charter by City Attorney Thomas B. Finan in a report submitted last night at a meeting of the Cumberland Charter Commission in City Hall.

Also presented at the meeting were tentative drafts of additional charter material prepared by Dr. Carl N. Everstine, Baltimore.

The drafts included nine subtitles on the water system, Police and Fire Departments, condemnation, surety bonds, public property, jurisdiction beyond limits, aisles in auditoriums, and streets, alleys and sidewalks.

Copies Distributed

Copies of the material were distributed among commission members for study prior to the next meeting.

Dr. Everstine noted in an accompanying letter that the present practice of considering water bonds separate from other bonded indebtedness of the city has been continued in his material on the water system sub-title.

In his report, Finan said he believes the new charter should give general authority to city police officers to have jurisdiction for one mile beyond the city limits for enforcement of any city ordinances relating to health, public morals or safety.

Finan cited as an example the fact that it is not clear at present whether the city has authority to make an arrest for the discharging of fire arms "which may occur a few feet over the city limits."

Section 6 of the present charter, Finan said, cites specific cases in which the city shall have police jurisdiction beyond city limits, such as circuses, pool rooms, dance halls, movies, sanitary regulations, disorderly persons and so on.

That section, however, does not contain provision for any general police authority, he pointed out.

Search Warrants Cited

Finan also recommended in his report that the new charter contains a provision giving the Mayor and Council or police officers power to secure warrants to search any premises in the city or for one mile beyond the limits to seize any contraband, narcotics, illegelly possessed weapons, fugitives or criminal evidence which they have reason to believe may be found on such premises.

Section 48 of the present charter authorizes search warrants only for seizure of narcotics.

Finan further recommended that the city engineer be given specific authority in the new charter to define the banks of Wills Creek for one mile beyond city limits, with the question of jurisdiction over Wills Creek to be specifically mentioned.

At present it is unlawful to dump refuse into Wills Creek within the city limits or for half a mile beyond.

However, Finan pointed out that successful prosecution of such cases is dufficult because "there is always an argument over where the banks are located and what constitutes the creek bed."

In one section of his 10-page report, Finan suggested the new charter should allow the city to allocate $1 out of every $100 of assessable property valuation for operation costs.

Chairman Isaac Hirsch, however, said in his opinion the amount should not exceed the present 90-cent limit.

Suggestions Listed

A summary of other suggestions in the report follows:

1. Delete criminal offense provisions in the present charter and re-enact them as ordinances.

Armed Bandits Sought

Pair Holds Up Liquor Store At Gun Point

Martin's Clerk Backed To Wall

Two very business-like bandits, one carrying a "small pistol," methodically picked $100 out of the cash register after backing the clerk to the wall at Martin's Liquor Store, 15 Baltimore Street, yesterday at 5:15 p. m.

Police quoted the clerk, Philip Decker, 11 South Lee Street, as saying the pair entered the store during a business lull and walked straight to the cash register. "This is a stickup," the taller of the two bandits informed Decker.

Local authorities received first notice of the holdup shortly after the pair fled from the store and ran down Canal Street. The two men were not masked.

Carried Small Pistol

Decker told Detectives Ernest Powell and Joseph Stitcher that the tallest man, "about five tall, eight inches," stepped behind the counter and looted the register. The second man stood at the Baltimore Street entrance with his back to the door.

The armed bandit carried a small pistol, which police said would be either a .32 caliber or short .38 caliber. Decker said the weapon was almost completely covered by the man's hand.

The two detectives said they were told the men worked fast and then ordered Decker to turn his face to a liquor shelf "until we get out and get the car started." They also took Decker's wallet and two miniature bottles of liquor. Police said the wallet was empty.

Decker told police he saw the reflection of the two men in a window as they ran down Canal Street and then used a telephone to notify police headquarters. Police learned later that the Western Maryland Railway crossing was blocked by a train as the pair fled.

A cruiser car and the two detectives were sent to the scene immediately. They checked Canal Street as other police were notifid and given a description of the pair.

The taller man's age was placed at 25 years, and police said he was wearing a gray felt hat and a dark jacket that "zipped up the front." He had brown hair and was dark complexioned.

The second man, police said, was about five feet, four inches tall and weighed about 165 pounds. He wore a tan work cap and tan jacket. He was between 35 and 40 years of age.

Second Robbery

Last night's robbery was the second liquor store holdup to occur here this year. The first was on April 2 when an armed bandit "flashed a gun" and took approximately $600 from the register at

Marine Reserve Asks Permission For Rifle Range

Request by the local Marine Reserve unit for city approval of construction of a small bore rifle range at the Navy and Marine Corps Training Center on McKaig's Hill was referred to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer yesterday for investigation and report.

In his written request to the Mayor and Council, Capt. John T. Fey, commanding officer of Company D, Fifth Infantry Battalion, USMCR, said that approval by Navy Public Works must also be obtained.

Fey explained the range would be so located as to allow firing of .22 caliber rifles and pistols into the side of the hill without danger to residents of the vicinity.

He added that the range would be used only by members of Company D under proper supervision. No weapons will be carried on the streets and neither weapons nor ammunition will be stored in the vicinity of the rifle range, Fey said.

Various monthly reports were submitted to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Charles F. Heller, foreman of maintenance and construction at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, reported that the beacon of the 60-foot steel tower at the port has been painted orange and white in accordance with federal regulations. Leaks in the hangar roof have been repaired and catch basins cleaned.

The Water Department reported 16 applications for meters and 14 for taps at a total cost of $572.50. Fifty-five water inspections were made during the month.

Heavy Balloting Predicted By Party Observers

Polls Open Today From 7 A. M. To 7 P. M.

Today is election day.

Seventy-five polling places in Allegany County will open at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 7 p. m. to give every registered voter a chance to cast his ballot.

The only local contest in this county is that of representative to the House of Representatives for the 81st Congress.

J. Glenn Beall, lifelong resident of this county, is the Republican incumbent, opposed by F. Byrne Austin, Democrat of Montgomery County.

Regardless of which of these two is elected, politicians and other political observers will watch the outcome with interest. Organized labor, making their first concerted and united effort in behalf of any single candidate, has indicated "labor will get its own vote out."

Public buildings, including the Court House, banks and other institutions will observe Election Day as a holiday. Many workers plan to "take the day off' and work the polls as clerks, judges, watchers or party workers.

Late last night leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties here said workers have been hired, plenty of cars will be out to haul voters to the polls and both sides predict victory and agree on a heavy vote. Both sides admit some curiosity about labor's efforts.

Progressive, Socialist and Dixicrat parties are practically non-existent here, with the possible exception of the Progressives who will have two or three cars out, it was indicated. With the exception of the major parties, indications are the "outside" parties will make a poor showing.

Democrats Explain Absence Of Union Label On Posters

Austin Says Cards Were "Gift To Me"

Members of the Democratic Campaign Committee of Allegany County last night issued a statement replying to charges that F. Byrne Austin is using campaign literature which does not carry the printers' union label, despite the fact that he is endorsed by many labor unions.

Democratic spokesmen said, "This is a piece of last minute political strategy on the part of the Republicans, designed to divert public attention from Congressman Beall's anti-labor voting record."

The Democratic leaders submitted the following letter from John B. Haggerty, Washington, D. C., chairman of the Board of Governors of the Allied Printing Trades Union, AFL.

"The Allied Printing Trades Association, AFL, wishes to make known the fact that the posters used in the campaign for Congress by F. Byrne Austin did not bear the union label because there were no facilities in or around the district to handle this type of work in a union shop.

"We are informed that all other printing matter used in the campaign bears the Allied Printing Trades Union label, AFL. The names of the union firms printing this material can be furnished by Mr. Austin. Therefore, since an effort was made to obtain union made posters, and since he has used the label on all other printed material, the Allied Printing Trades Association, AFL, has no objection to the action taken by Mr. Austin.

"The posters in question were purchased by Joseph E. Smith, a Takoma Park contractor, as a gift to me. I did not arrange for their printing but after I learned they did not carry the union label I called the printer at once and asked for the job to be held up.

"The work of printing the 47 inch special posters which have a protective coating against the weather had already been started. I then tried to find a printing company in Washington or Maryland which could do the job but was unable to do so.

"I contacted officials of the Allied Printing Trades Council in Washington and they said they would okay the job as a result of a situation over which I had no control. The Allied Printing Trades Council will issue a statement in support of my contention.

"This last-minute attempt to attack me is unfair and shows that the opposition is becoming panicky over the thought that labor is backing me in my candidacy."

The Weather

Cumberland has had one sunny week so it looks like rain is in order for awhile. Although the maximum temperature yesterday was a respectable 64 degrees, 0.27 inches of rain piled up in the 24 hour period. It will probably be a little cooler today, because late last night the thermometer read 58, only eight degrees above the minimum. Today will also be cloudy with probably recurrence of yesterday's showers toward evening.

Voting Machines

Four Counties, Baltimore Vote Mechanically Today

Four counties and a city in Maryland will be using voting machines in today's election as citizens of this county decide on paper ballots if they will continue to use the pencil in selecting office holders.

The mechanical tabulators are long-time fixtures in Baltimore City and Montgomery County, while in Anne Arundel and Howard Counties voters will be mechanically balloting on Presidential candidates for the first time.

The mechanized devices would be counting votes in Allegany County today, too, but the issue was forced into a referendum.

The Maryland Legislative Council has before it now a proposal that the General Assembly make voting machines mandatory for the whole state.

State Senator P. G. Stromberg (D-Howard) is chief sponsor of the measure. He has argued that the machines will pay for themselves in eight or 10 years because the counties would have to pay fewer clerks to do the counting.

Where voting machines are used, the result of the various races is available a few minutes after the polls close. In Allegany County it will be well into the wee hours of the morning before the results are known—if they are known then.

Just a few of the advantages that the voting machines offer are called to the voters' minds this election morning in an article appearing in Business Week's October 30 issue:

"They are Flexible—The machines are sufficiently flexible to serve in many types of elections—whether they may be for few or many candidates.

"They are Tamper-Proof—Accuracy is guaranteed, because present machines are fraud proof. If the back is removed in an attempt to learn the tabulation, the mechanism automatically locks and can no longer be used during the polling day.

"They Come in Four Sizes—The machines come in four sizes. All have nine rows for political parties. The largest has 60 columns for candidates, the smallest 30.

"Problems—Sometimes the machines have tough problems to handle. For instance, in Indiana today, voters will find a referendum question on a veteran's bonus. The machines have been so geared that a voter who votes "yes" can also choose among five methods of financing the bonus.

Allegany County can have the speed, accuracy and economy of the voting machine in the next election, if the citizens want them.

Lt. Col. Millholland Urges Veterans To Vote Republican

Claiming a "pussy-footing administration" during World War II, following a program of appeasement with Russia, set the pattern for the present trouble with Russia, Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, a combat veteran of the ETO, last night urged veterans to support the Republican local and national tickets.

Col. Millholland said he has never before taken any part in politics or political campaigns except to exercise his right of franchise, but he believes he and all veterans should weigh this national election carefully.

Millholland told how his unit had been halted in an advance on to Berlin, by what turned out to be a previous agreement with Russia. He charged that the Roosevelt Administration had appeased the Russians even then by permitting Stalin to occupy Berlin and other cities first.

This sort of appeasement set the stage for present difficulties, and the GIs in Europe then were alarmed and angered over the situation, he said.

Col. Millholland, in urging all veterans to support the Republican ticket, declared, "Take a quick look at the present situation in this country today. . . the high prices, the lack of housing, high taxes, government spending, high feeling between races and creeds, etc. These things were not caused by the 80th Congress, they were caused by a definite lack of leadership in the Executive branch of the present administration . . . and no place else.

"From a veterans viewpoint," Col. Millholland said, "I feel that every voter, no matter what his party affiliation might be, must go to the polls and elect Dewey and Warren to head the government of the United States . . . and then elect J. Glenn Beall to help run it."

DAV Will Hold Open House On Armistice Day

Open house from 12 o'clock noon until 12 midnight, with a free lunch served to guests, will be observed Armistice Day at the home of Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, according to John Hoffman, commander.

A regular chapter meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. at which time plans for the Open House will be completed. Plans will also be outlined for the Forget-Me-Not week sale, and Armistice Day parade plans will be discussed.

The Forget-Me-Not committee will meet Saturday at 8 p. m. at the home to complete plans for the sale of the benefit flowers from November 8 to 13, inclusive.

The Chapter is holding its annual membership drive, and all ex-service men, with honorable discharges, who have a disability rating, may affiliate with the DAV, Hoffman explained. Membership in the organization here is growing and is expected to reach an all time high in 1949.

Hoffman urges all active members to attend the meeting Wednesday, and all members with membership applications to make their reports at that meeting.

Only Three City Officials Answer Charter Appeal

Buchholtz, Gibson, Rizer Aid Group

Only three city department heads have responded to a request for suggestions to aid the Cumberland Charter Commission in preparing a new city charter, Chairman Isaac Hirsch said last night.

Hirsch said replies have been received from Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz; City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

The letters of request were mailed to department heads two weeks ago.

Buchholtz aided the charter group's sub-committee on finance to prepare its report, while Gibson conferred with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan on several matters covered in the latter's detailed recommendations to the commission.

Rizer recommended in his reply that plats of new property developments both within the city and within one mile beyond the city limits be approved by the city engineer before the developments are accepted by the Mayor and Council.

The commission adopted a written opinion from Rizer advising that the city boundary line be retained at its present location on the Maryland bank of the Potomac.

Rizer pointed out that the city might have to assume maintenace of the Blue Bridge and the Wiley Ford bridge if the boundary line were changed to follow the state boundary line, which is low water mark on the West Virginia side of the river.

Former Congressman David J. Lewis attended last night's meeting of the commission to urge a clear distinction between executive and legislative functions in the new charter and to discuss alleged inequities in present water ordinances.

Magistrate Will Address Optimists On Juvenile Delinquency Problem

Thomas E. Stakem, magistrate of Juvenile Court, will address the Cumberland Optimist Club at its dinner meeting Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. He will cite facts and statistics concerning juvenile delinquency rates in Cumberland and vicinity in an effort to co-ordinate the work of the Optimist Club with the duties of the court.

Magistrate Stakem, a native of Lonaconing, has been a resident of Midland for a number of years. He served two terms as Mayor of Midland and was trial magistrate during the terms of Governors Ritchie and O'Conor. Stakem was appointed magistrate for juvenile causes on May 2, 1947, by Governor Lane.

"Boys who do not have the normal advantages of home and parental guidance are prone to drift into the paths of delinquency and crime," Stakem said yesterday. "For this reason, we ask the support of organizations like the Optimists in helping unfortunate boys to better themselves and aid them to erase the effects of a bad start in life.

"America today picks the men who will lead us for the next four years," continued Stakem. "These leaders of today were the boys of yesterday. They have shown their ability and training by reaching the highest offices in the land.

It is the duty of every American to see that today's young boys will have the same chance and same opportunities open to them when they reach manhood. This is the guiding purpose of the Cumberland Optimist organization and we commend them for the fine work they are doing."

The Cumberland Optimist Club, led by Robert S. Arrington, president, will join the 700 other clubs in Optimist International in celebrating the week of November 7 to 13 as International Optimist Week. This period is set aside each year for the purpose of acquainting the general public with the work they are doing.

Special programs for the week will be under the direction of Hugh G. Funkhouser, immediate past president, assisted by Robert O. Collins, H. L. Cornelius, John S. Edwards, I. Newton Evans, Raymond Hinkle and Dr. Leonard S. Cooper.

Charter Plan Would Extend Police Power

Drafts On Water System Submitted

General police jurisdiction one mile beyond the city limits was recommended as a provision in the proposed new city charter by City Attorney Thomas B. Finan in a report submitted last night at a meeting of the Cumberland Charter Commission in City Hall.

Also presented at the meeting were tentative drafts of additional charter material prepared by Dr. Carl N. Everstine, Baltimore.

The drafts included nine subtitles on the water system, Police and Fire Departments, condemnation, surety bonds, public property, jurisdiction beyond limits, aisles in auditoriums, and streets, alleys and sidewalks.

Copies Distributed

Copies of the material were distributed among commission members for study prior to the next meeting.

Dr. Everstine noted in an accompanying letter that the present practice of considering water bonds separate from other bonded indebtedness of the city has been continued in his material on the water system sub-title.

In his report, Finan said he believes the new charter should give general authority to city police officers to have jurisdiction for one mile beyond the city limits for enforcement of any city ordinances relating to health, public morals or safety.

Finan cited as an example the fact that it is not clear at present whether the city has authority to make an arrest for the discharging of fire arms "which may occur a few feet over the city limits."

Section 6 of the present charter, Finan said, cites specific cases in which the city shall have police jurisdiction beyond city limits, such as circuses, pool rooms, dance halls, movies, sanitary regulations, disorderly persons and so on.

That section, however, does not contain provision for any general police authority, he pointed out.

Search Warrants Cited

Finan also recommended in his report that the new charter contains a provision giving the Mayor and Council or police officers power to secure warrants to search any premises in the city or for one mile beyond the limits to seize any contraband, narcotics, illegelly possessed weapons, fugitives or criminal evidence which they have reason to believe may be found on such premises.

Section 48 of the present charter authorizes search warrants only for seizure of narcotics.

Finan further recommended that the city engineer be given specific authority in the new charter to define the banks of Wills Creek for one mile beyond city limits, with the question of jurisdiction over Wills Creek to be specifically mentioned.

At present it is unlawful to dump refuse into Wills Creek within the city limits or for half a mile beyond.

However, Finan pointed out that successful prosecution of such cases is dufficult because "there is always an argument over where the banks are located and what constitutes the creek bed."

In one section of his 10-page report, Finan suggested the new charter should allow the city to allocate $1 out of every $100 of assessable property valuation for operation costs.

Chairman Isaac Hirsch, however, said in his opinion the amount should not exceed the present 90-cent limit.

Suggestions Listed

A summary of other suggestions in the report follows:

1. Delete criminal offense provisions in the present charter and re-enact them as ordinances.
